BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

Among revisions reported by Finance Committee of the Senate, in the Tariff bill presented this week, we note the following:

Marble of all kinds in block, rough or squared only, increased from 40 to 50 cents a cubic foot; House bill, 40 cents.

Marble, sawed, dressed or otherwise, including marble slabs, mosaic cubes, and marble paving tiles, increased from 75 cents per cubic foot to 85 cents; House bill, 75 cents.

Manufactures of marble, onyx, or alabaster not specially provided for in this Act, increased from 30 to 45 per cent; House bill, 30 per cent.

The word "magnesic" is stricken from the paragraph making fire brick one dollar a ton.

Lime changed from 15 per cent. to 5 cents per hundred pounds, including the weight of package.

The iron and glass schedules have been overhauled and changes demanded by manufacturers have been made, some of them not so much in the nature of increases as they are in the way of reclassification and the equalization of duties.

BRICKS.—In all general features the market remains much the same as for a week or two past, although toward the close some operators seemed to think the tone was a trifle softer. There has been some falling off in the arrivals, partly the result of the strikes, but a corresponding shrinkage took place in the demand so that receivers gained no advantage and anything that now sells above $5 may be considered thoroughly special and commanding a premium on favoritism for make, etc. In the matter of quality there has been considerable irregularity and some Up Rivers sold at very low figures on their merits, but it is imagined the inferior stuff must now be pretty well out of the yards. Where work has been going on in the way of production progress has been excellent on account of the very favorable weather, but there has of course been a great deal of delay on account of the strikes. It is, however, thought that matters will very soon be settled, as the attitude of manufacturers must have convinced the workmen that they can expect no compromise. It is a singular feature that at some localities along the river where no strike exists the pay is less that the discontented workmen were getting and the men who are busy show no disposition to quit.

GLASS.—It has been a moderately active market with no change in any important feature. The general output seems to be so gauged as to fairly well balance the demand, but manufacturers feel nervous and undecided while awaiting the settlement of the vexatious tariff question and cannot do business upon a satisfactory basis. There is said to be some stock offering from a large accumulation long held on the market, but at no cut from regular rates. Some additional pots are said to have gone into operation during the week. Prices on cylinder glass remain firm, and plate glass inclines to strengthen in tone.

LATH.—The natural temper of our lath receivers is cheerful and sanguine. They never seem to expect anything but an advancing market, and when occasionally called upon to confront opposite conditions have a ready explanation, backed by a claim that reaction is close up behind and will promptly develop. Conditions have not been particularly favorable this spring, but there is a belief that most dealers must be working on scant stocks and more and more feeling the need of renewals. Down to present writing it has been a quiet week for want of supply and, as there is little stock afloat, operators feel quite firm. Recent purchases made at the Eastward will have to realize full current quotations or better to come out even.

LIME.—Consumption runs slow, and does not promise much gain for a while as the class of work under way affords rather poor chance for lime. The principal effort, therefore, must be to control supplies, and upon ability to do so the advantage of sellers will depend. Reports this week from the eastward say some of the kilns are closed and shipments stopping and that will have a tendency to help working off the accumulation here. Prices are quoted as before.

LUMBER.—The general run of business keeps far behind the average record of the season, and operators generally appear unable to communicate anything in the way of really new or interesting features. Some of the dealers who do a trade with carpenters and other consumers of like character have sold more stock since the opening of the month, others favorably located have found custom among suburban builders, and now and then the manufacturing interest is represented by buyers compelled to pick up a little stock for special use, but nothing reaches a point of positive animation on the distributive outlet, and yard stocks seem to be holding out remarkably well. Even box makers, who ordinarily manage to maintain a good run of business, find occasion to indulge in a full share of grumbling, the small movement of general merchandise and a free use of second-hand cases tending to greatly curtail their trade. Prices are of very irregular character because sellers unquestionably labor under a serious disadvantage, and for nearly every deal of any importance a special rate is agreed upon.

The reflections of the retail trade are naturally quite distinctly marked upon the wholesale position and operations are limited and uncertain for all kinds of goods. A great many more sellers have been seeking custom or else the old ones have taken a more determined attitude as offerings of various descriptions loom up with greater prominence than before, and in a manner to indicate that pretty low bids would secure serious consideration, if not prompt acceptance. As previously advised, however, very few buyers are higgling over prices, but simply fail to muster up courage sufficient to make investments, even while frankly admitting that stuff looks very cheap. Some of the salesmen who have recently come into this market from producing localities admit surprise over the indifferent attitude of buyers, most of whom it was thought would by this time be ready to enter upon treaty for considerable parcels of stock. More or less foreign shipment is taking place on old orders, but new demand for export is quite limited and there is a large supply of shipping grades awaiting attention.

White Pine meets with practically no call for the upper qualities and secures rather indifferent attention on the low grades, although some of the latter are occasionally placed, and it is even claimed that the product of several favorite mills for balance of season is now under contract. On the other hand some holders are carrying the product of some of the favorite mills they engaged last season and at a cost that affords no margin on the present selling basis.

Yellow Pine gets some special orders in part against planned work and in part for yard stock to be held against regular trade, but there is not demand enough to give sellers any great advantage, and prices continue to rule low and unsettled. Carolina Pine has a steady sort of trade because there is not much of an accumulation in second hand and as stocks run down renewals must be made. Business, however, hardly reaches an average and sellers gain no advantage in matter of price.

Hemlock is selling irregularly and without freedom, local custom in particular making a stand off, and prices keep easy for most sizes and assortments. State Spruce is quoted steady and meeting with a trifle more demand. Eastern Spruce continues very irregular, and while now and then a little custom can be found receivers speak of the remarkable indifference among dealers, considering the progress of the season and the long stand off in the matter of demand. No one can tell the value of a cargo until a trial at selling is made, and it makes a big difference in the rate whether a customer happens to be found waiting or one has to be hunted up. About former general quotations, however, are named.

Hardwoods are running down in stock somewhat because even the moderate consumption makes some impression where no special effort is put forth to obtain renewals. Indeed, some agents who have pretty thoroughly canvassed the market assert that there is really no natural demand prevailing at the moment and the current wholesale trading is due almost solely to the efforts put forth by salesmen. They are placing some poplar, oak, cypress, red and white birch and ash, with a sprinkling of other woods, but seem to feel they are giving their customers about all the advantages of the deals. In view of the fact that it is difficult to ascertain particulars of any important transactions the natural inference is that buyers are losing no advantages and agree with sellers to keep terms private.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman in reviewing the general situation says that a promising indication is the occasional purchase of large blocks of lumber up the lakes, in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Several yard dealers in this city have lately bought lots, ranging from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 feet, and though these purchases would have been considered scarcely noteworthy in former years, they mean something now. At Saginaw, where almost nothing was sold in a wholesale way until recently, several sales have lately been made, some reaching above 10,000,000 feet. At Duluth buyers from the East are beginning to take hold in earnest, and considerable lots have been put under contract.

The cargo movement on Lake Michigan has begun and shipments from Menominee, Marinette, Manistee, Ludington, Muskegon and other points are assuming fair volume. The cargo market in this city is absorbing lumber in increasing amount, and Milwaukee, Muskegon, Michigan City and other places are taking cargoes from northern mills. The movement of stock from Lake Superior is beginning and it will not be long before there will be activity at Tonawanda, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo and other Lake Erie markets.

At Chicago the demand is not urgent, but dealers are disposed to pick up cargoes to put into their yard stocks when they need the lumber for their current trade. The market is going along easily, with receipts graduated to the demand. Nothing is yet coming from Lake Superior, but the Bigelow tow went to Washburn this week, and will probably arrive next week. The market will then be tested with two or three big cargoes. A quantity of Oscoda lumber will also come to the market before long if pending arrangements go through.

Piece stuff, cull and common inch, hemlock and shingles predominate in current offerings.

Short, green piece stuff is selling at $9.25 to $9.50 a thousand. This is 25 cents lower than our last quotation. Dry piece stuff is worth 50 cents to $1 more. The effect of heavy receipts has not yet been tested, but the tendency is toward a basis of about $9 a thousand for green lumber. Hemlock piece stuff is still held at $7 to $7.50 a thousand, though some has been sold as low as $6.50, but it was probably a special case that could not be duplicated to any considerable extent.

The hardwood business in the middle oak and poplar belt is not in a satisfactory state. If anything a denser dullness has settled down on it within a short time, though this was doubtless mainly caused by the miners' strike, and may pass away as suddenly as it came when the trouble shall be over.

The bulk of the dry hardwood lumber in the Ohio river states is in the hands of the stronger mill operators and dealers, who are holding it against further decline. The stuff belonging to the smaller and weaker operators has been absorbed by the city dealers and is now out of the bull stock market. The little and weaker mills are idle because their owners have no money to stock and run them; the larger mills are either idle or running cautiously when orders are in sight, because their owners do not wish to accumulate product until they see an enlarging outlet. This state of things is a good preparation for a revival of demand and strong prices later in the year.

While no particular improvement can be noticed in current prices for poplar lumber, it is certain that the low-priced stock is being gradually worked off, and that it will only be a question of time before values will be even in advance of the association list. Stocks of logs at the mills are practically exhausted, and there is no surplus of dry lumber on hand. A slightly better demand is reported from a number of distributing centres, but trade is still way below the average for the season.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The danger from high water now seems to be about passed, providing no considerable amount of rain falls. It is undoubtedly fortunate that the water did not go higher than it did at Minneapolis this year, considering the large amount of logs that there are within the boom limits in the river. Had many broken away and gone over the falls, the boom facilities between here and St. Paul would have been sufficient to have held but a couple of million feet. The local log committee is taking steps to have the boom facilities below the falls increased, for Minneapolis lumbermen might wake up some fine morning when the water is high and find their logs on the way to Winona.

Throughout the northwest the mills are now running, and in nearly every instance full time and force. The rains, which at first threatened danger from high water, now assure plenty of driving water, and the reports from the drives are to the effect that they are coming down satisfactorily since the high water began to abate. There can be looked for no permanent stiffening in the price of lumber until business conditions improve materially and the demand becomes brisk. Nevertheless well posted lumbermen say that owing to the log crop on the Chippewa, Wisconsin and Black rivers, and no excess on the Mississippi, there is every indication that a much firmer market will be apparent next fall.

A correspondent of the Lumberman, writing from Vancouver, B. C., says:

British Columbia is to have another big boom So say those whose special hobby is forecasting the future. Their chief reason for making this assertion, and a very plausible one it seems, is that on completion of the Nicaragua canal, freight rates between the old and the new world will drop so materially that British Columbia and the entire coast country will eventually become the source of supply in lumber and wood pulp, etc., for the European markets. This is the way it is explained: It now takes a sailing vessel several months to reach England from Vancouver, around the Horn. By way of the Nicaragua Canal the passage can be made in sixty days, without transshipping, while steamers can make the canal in eight days, and from the canal to England in sixteen days. It is said that the Canadian Pacific Railway, in conjunction with a line of fast steamers, could afford to fix rates between British Columbia and England at figures corresponding with the present rates between Vancouver and San Francisco.

Heretofore wood pulp has been mainly supplied to European markets from Austria, and the cargo transshipped five or six times in passage, and here by the aid of the Nicaragua Canal the coast would far outstrip all competitors, as the paper pulp of British Columbia and Puget Sound, made from the famous gumless spruce, is said to be superior to any pulp in the market, and the same may be said of our cottonwood, used in the manufacture of fine quality paper, as well as the wood for block paving, used so extensively in the large European cities.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot has not developed distinctively new features of late. Operators on both home and foreign account seem to have very limited wants at the moment, with no inclination to anticipate the future and the offerings at times became a little toppy. Prices have on the whole favored buyers, closing with a slightly unsettled tone. On the average range of valuation we quote at 9⅜@9½c. for Lake and 9@9¼c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper has been held quite steadily since the recent revision of list rates, but the modified cost secured no increase of demand. All orders bear the work of close calculation to early natural wants and manufacturers experience some difficulty in keeping production within the limits of current requirements of the market. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 15c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 16c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17c.; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20c.; do. under 8 oz., 22c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@16 oz., 2c. for 10@12 oz., and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 16c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 18c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 22c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 25c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14c. for over 32 oz. and add 1c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 1c. 14 to 16 oz.; 1c. 12 to 14 oz.; 1c. for 10 to 12 oz., and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 14c.; do, 16 to 32 oz., 16c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 18c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 20c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 24c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14@17c. for 32 to 64 oz.; 19@22c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 21@27c. for 14 to 16 oz. and —@—c. for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copper, ⅜ inch diameter and over, 14c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c.

per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18@24c. per lb. IRON—American Pig has found only an irregular demand with apparently a tendency to lighter general volume than last month, and buyers evidently determined to handle no stock except under the urgency of immediate positive necessity. The offerings have been ample from all quarters and holders anxious to secure custom, which has resulted in continued weakness in value all along the line, although on the general range about former figures may be named. We quote at $12.50 @13.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $12.00@13.00 for No. 2 X do., and $11.00@12.50 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $20@22. Old material has irregular sale, promising trade of a day or two being frequently followed by a sharp dropping away of custom and then repeat again somethiug of the same experience, according to wants of buyers. No change of importance takes place in the range of cost. We quote at $11.00@12.00 for old iron rails; $10.00@10.75 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $9.50@10.00 for cast scrap; $10.00@11.00 for old car wheels, and $6.00@9.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron has been placed on contract orders to some extent, but the demand is not increasing and the position of the market shows few, if any, features of positive encouragement. About former rates are asked on most kinds and deliveries. We quote Beams up to 15-inch, 1.75@2c.; 20-inch, 2.10@2.25c. for round lots; Angles, 1.75@1.90c.; Tees, 2@2.15c.; Channels, 1.80@2c. on dock. Steel plates are 1.65@1.90c. for Tank; 1.90@2.10c. for Shell; 2@2.15c. for Flange, and 2.50@2.80c. for Fire Box on dock; Refined Bars are 1.60@1.90c. on dock, and Common, 1.45@1.60c. Steel rails remain in a very quiet condition. Hopes had been entertained that before this several of the railway companies would be prepared to place some pretty good sized orders, but the business is confined to small parcels in the main, hardly enough to give the position a test. No change in cost. We quote standard sections $24@25 per ton at mill, with usual advances for delivery at tide water. Pig lead finds irregular demand, with rarely any decided volume reached, and offerings sufficiently plentiful for the outlet. Holders, however, manage to prevent pressure to realize and all things considered the market gets fair support. We quote at $3.40@3½c. per lb. The manufactures of lead are quoted at 5¾c. for Pipe, 6½c. for Sheet, 15c. for Tin-lined Pipe, and 37½c. for Block Tin Pipe. Pig Tin is taken up in small quantities as wanted on regular necessities of the trade without much change in cost, but speculative valuations fluctuate in sympathy with the foreign advices. We quote at about 2.10@2.15c. for round lots, and 2¼@2.30c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plate is handled slowly and moderately as operators generally incline to a careful policy while awaiting result of tariff legislation. Slight irregularities on value prevail, but cost is too low for much further decline. We quote as follows: I. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $6.25@6.30; Charcoal, Melyn grade, crosses, $7.75½; I. C. Charcoal, Allaway grade, $5.40@5.50; Allaway grade, crosses, $6.50; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $7.20@7.25; M. F. grade, 20x28, $14.50@14.55; Worcester, 14x20, $5.70@5.75; Worcester, 20x28, $11.25@11.30; Alyn grade, 14x20, $5.20@5.25; Alyn grade, 20x28, $10.00@10.25; D. R. D. grade, 14x20, $5.00@5.05; D. R. D. grade, 20x28, $9.75@9.80; I. C. Coke, Penlan grade, $5.10@5.15; J. B. grade, 14x20, $5.15@5.20; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $5.35@—— basis; I. C. Siemens steel, squares, $5.45@—— basis. Spelter undergoes no violent fluctuation in value, but is in a general way weak and irregular in consequence of the slow and careful demand. Offerings, too, are somewhat freer. We quote 3½@3⅝c. for Common Western, according to brand.

NAILS.—Business fluctuates somewhat, without expanding greatly in general volume. To meet the demand supplies have been ample, including some offerings from second hands, and some owners a little anxious to secure custom at times, under which the tone ruled easy with occasional shadings on cost allowed. We quote Cut at 95c.@$1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.10 @1.20 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00@1.10 for car lots, and $1.20@1.30 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Changes continue few and unimportant, but on the whole the market reveals a good average business, and from some sections of the country there has been an increase of the call. Buyers wanted an average assortment of standard goods, and the character of their orders was a confirmation of the previously entertained impression that assortments in second hands had run down very low. Nevertheless, there has been shown nothing in the way of speculative investment, even to extent of purchasing against reasonable expectations of trade wants a few weeks ahead, and manufacturers find nothing in the situation to stimulate additional production of any kind of stock. Oil colors and mixed paints have in particular found fair sale at an increasing average, although at the present writing there seems to be some falling away of orders. Dry Colors have moderate attention, with some irregularity on values, and of late a reduction in cost of carmine. Considerable whiting has been sold of late, in the way of small lots taken to keep up jobbers' stocks. Zincs have been dull and manufacturers are finding fault over the sharp reduction in trade since they filled out contracts booked at the first of the year. Leads have been disappointingly dull and the irreguiar tone on prices continues with frequent deep cuts for both old and new process made stocks. Corroders' quotations stand as follows: Lead in oil in kegs and dry lead in kegs in lots of less than 500 lbs., 6½c. net: in lots of 500 lbs. to 5 tons at one purchase, 6c.; 5 tons to 12 tons, one purchase, 5.94c.; 12 tons and over, one purchase, 5¾c. Lead in oil in 12½ lb. tin pails, add 1c.; in 25 and 50 lb. tin pails, add ½c., and in 1 to 5 lb. tin cans, assorted (100 lbs. in case) add 2½c. per lb. to keg price. Terms on lots of 500 lbs. and over, note or acceptance at sixty days, or 2½ per cent discount will be allowed for cash paid within fifteen days of invoice date. To make either of the above required quantities any assortment of packages of white lead, red lead and litharge may be counted. The above quotations are free on board cars or boat at corroding point. Linseed Oil meets with fair average demand from the run of small buyers, but no custom is found desirous of handling large parcels. Some little irregularity prevails in matter of cost, though choice local makes are very well held. We quote at 48@50c. for Western, 52@53c. for City from domestic seed and 58@60c. for do. from Calcutta seed. Spirits Turpentine has been dull, so much so as to make values a little nominal, but in general buyers had advantage and the range is lower. We quote at 29@30c. per gallon, according to quality, quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—Demand has been somewhat more active from regular sources as actual consumption is increasing. The wants of buyers have thus far been met without difficulty, but the supply is small enough to keep advantage with sellers at former rates. We quote Tar at $1.75@1.80 in pine or Wilmington bbls., $2.25@2.30 in pork bbls., and $3.25@3.30 in oil bbls.; Pitch $1.50@1.70.

WHILE outside conditions show no improvement and still favor the bear side, there are some indications of at least a change in the speculative feeling within the stock market. The declines of the past five weeks have been sufficient of themselves to make a reaction probable, and the selling of the last two days has been severe enough to arouse the suspicion that part of it was due to a desire to pick up stocks in advance of a change of sentiment. The shipment of securities instead of gold, previously announced by a large foreign house this week, also supports this view. The only change in general conditions is the indication that the Senate may give up dallying with the Tariff bill and settle down to its consideration in a business-like way. If that can be brought about it will do some good, though not much now that the summer is almost upon us, and certainly not nearly as much as the Senate itself seems to think. The most threatening feature in the situation is the great strike of workmen in the soft coal regions and its consequences to transportation, manufactures and trade; if this can be speedily settled the results would doubtless be very beneficial, but as long as it continues improvement in any particular line of trade can only be temporary. The English coal strike of last year and consequent loss of business by the railroads failed to affect the values of home securities as much as it was feared it would, and it is to be hoped that the prices of our own will show a similarly satisfactory resistance to evil influence. The complaint of no business doing continues to be heard in almost every line of general trade, and if any satisfaction can be extracted from the commercial situation it is that the mills and factories that started up since last fall, though running on short time, apparently manage to find a market for the limited lines of goods they are producing; a prolongation of the soft coal strike, however, will soon reduce even this narrow basis for satisfaction.

AUSTRALIAN farmers are receiving only from forty-three to forty-five cents a bushel for wheat, a result so unsatisfactory that wheat-growing has received a decided check in Australia, and some of the land now devoted to that cereal will revert to pasture for a few years and as a consequence the exportable surplus of wheat will become reduced. The attention of the farmer being turned from grain to meat-raising a decided increase may be expected in the amount of frozen meat sent from Australia to the European market, notwithstanding that this movement has almost trebled in three years. The Melbourne market has received a good many orders from London to buy local securities. Among them the Broken Hill mine is in favor. This mine produces silver at about forty-six cents an ounce. The buying movement in its shares is indicative of a better feeling in regard to the future of silver among London operators. In the course of a discussion of the French budget M. Leroy-Beaulieu says its composition was subordinated to two objects: First, to mask as far as possible a deplorable situation, which is the best means by prolonging delusions and deceptions of rendering it still worse: second, to avoid at any cost, or at least postpone, a public loan, which, if the finances were carefully managed, would be necessary and would serve as a warning that expenditures should be energetically restricted. The returns of the Paris Clearing House indicate more activity in business. Berlin dispatches are taken up with complaints of the dullness of business and the continued suffering inflicted on banking houses as a consequence of the bourse tax. Iron and coal shares, which advanced on the completion of the treaty with Russia, are reacting severely. Austria has all the gold required for the standard reform ready and the reform is practicable as soon as the gold in hand is minted. With the removal of obstructions to navigation on the Danube, expected to be completed in two or three years, endeavors will be made by Austrian capitalists to revive the ancient commerce of that stream. Should events prove that President Pena has stated the situation exactly and that Argentina is in a position to meet all its financial obligations, that fact will help the situation materially. English journals of weight and standing are poking a great deal of quiet fun at Mr. Balfour because of his currency theories, and as his remarks have been so widely circulated here, it is just as well that it should also be known how they are regarded at home. As a matter of fact, Mr. Balfour as a currency expert has no more weight in Lombard street than Mr. Bland in Wall street. The only difference between these two gentlemen is that owing to the variations in the system to which they severally belong, Mr. Balfour has less opportunity for mischief, notwithstanding the vast superiority of his political position, than has Mr. Bland here.

Private Property.—X.*

BY RICHARD T. ELY, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.

A FEW words in regard to the development of the social side of private property are still necessary. It may be said that the general recognition of the fact of the social side of private property and of the supremacy of this side would in its natural consequences produce all that is desirable. It would, from time to time, affect legislation. It could scarcely be possible to enumerate the classes of legislation which would be affected, but as one great project of legislation after another arose, it could scarcely fail frequently to produce an effect. Often these effects would be extremely small in single cases; but altogether they could scarcely fail to be important. It is, however, when we come to judicial decisions that quite as important effects would be likely to be seen. The spirit of judicial decisions would often be changed. One instance has already been given, but this is only one of many. Taxation, as already intimated, would assume a somewhat different character in consequence of the general recognition of the social side of private property, and in particular we would have a development of inheritance taxes, of which more will be said presently.

But it has also been stated that we require a further development of private property. This may seem to contradict previous statements, but it does so only at first glance. It is along different lines, for the most part, that we need the development of private property. There are cases, however, in which what is needed is development along older lines. The oyster supply in the Chesapeake offers an illustration. This oyster supply is still common property. Any one may take the oysters out of the Chesapeake who desires to do so. This lack of efficient regulation did very well in earlier days, but now that the demand has become so great, oyster culture is called for, and probably there are few opportunities in this country to invest labor and capital which would bring so large a return in a desirable food product, so far as quantity of the food is concerned. But manifestly it is impossible that there should be culture of oysters without some regulation of property, and this regulation can not be of a voluntary character. If nineteen men should agree upon rules and regulations for oyster culture, the twentieth man would come along and would rob them of the fruits of their toil. Either we must have regulated public culture or private property must be so developed that it will be possible for one to enjoy at least a part of the fruits of his toil, otherwise the present system which is robbing future generations must continue. It is not necessary to make the bed of the Chesapeake private property, as those desire who would jump from one extreme to the other. It could be leased in parcels for periods, and the right of private property given to the lessee in the oysters which he grows.

It is, however, the property rights of those who have been the weaker members of society which need in a special degree further development. Legislation always represents actually existing social forces. If a law is passed it is because it has something back of it. This would require scarcely more than mention had we not heard so much absurd talk about the equality of all before the law. This legal equality of all is as strange a fiction as intelligent men have ever been brought to believe. One has only to go to Washington or to one of our State capitals and watch the fate of bills to discover that those bills which become laws are those bills which have behind them strength, and those bills which fail to become laws fail because they lack adequate social force behind them. The laws of property bear out this statement. Literary property affords an excellent illustration. It has had a very tardy development, and can scarcely be said to be sufficiently secure at the present moment. Long after it was a penitentiary offence to deprive a foreigner of his property in material things like land or houses, it was perfectly legitimate to deprive him of all return for his literary labors. The consciences of men with respect to the rights of authors is even now feeble. If you have attained any success or reputation as a writer on social subjects, you will very likely see your products calmly appropriated by men of respectability and standing in the community—even by lawyers and judges and newspaper editors in speeches and articles—and not a word of credit given to you for what is taken from you almost verbatim et literatim. Even a judge has been known to offend in this respect. The reason why private property of this kind has not been better developed is simply because those who have an interest in it have been the weaker members of society.

It is, however, when we come to consider the relations of person and property that we find the greatest need of the further development of rights akin to property in their nature. The expression used is "akin to rights of property," because they are somewhat different from ordinary rights of property, but should be so developed that they may have a property significance. It is better, perhaps, to compare persons with things and to say that what is needed is the development of personal rights of pecuniary significance. This relation of persons and things is one of the most interesting topics in economics and jurisprudence. The office of things is to minister to persons, and it is idle to say, as it has been asserted frequently of late by legal writers, that there can be no opposition between the two. One learned judge not long ago made the statement that to protect person we must protect property. But the form of the expression which he uses shows which he places first. Why did he not say to protect property we must protect person?—which would have been in the long run a truer statement. A concrete English illustration will help to make the point clearer. Some forty years ago, after long agitation, the British parliament passed a law designed to protect children employed in factories. There were some doubtful points in the law and it came before the courts. The judges decided against the children, because they claimed the law must be strictly construed as it affected property. The Earl of Shaftesbury, who was one of the principal promoters of this legislation, inquired why the judges could not equally well have decided thus: "This is a law which affects the welfare of human beings; it must, in case of doubt, be construed in their favor." But the judges have not been in the habit of so deciding, because they have placed things before persons. It has been urged that things have owners and that property means personal interests. This is indeed true, but property in things has always been of pecuniary significance to comparatively few, while personal rights have pecuniaary significance to all. All enjoy rights and opportunities which arise out of their own persons, but comparatively few have great property interests. These comparatively few, however, have been the strong men of the community and their interests have been rather on the side of property than on that of person on that account. They have largely felt themselves able to take care of their personal rights and opportunities, whereas the general development of personal rights of pecuniary significance would mean to them a sacrifice of property. Industrial accidents serve as excellent proof in illustration of this point. These are accidents which impair or destroy the capacity of the wage earners to earn wages. Those who have great property are not so generally exposed to these dangers and their families are as a rule free from them. Employers' liability acts are designed to recompense the employe for accidents suffered in industrial pursuits which injure his person. These acts mean the development of personal rights of pecuniary significance. While there are exceptions, the employing class, as a rule, has resisted legislation of this kind and to-day wage earners are very ineffectually protected in their personal rights. Railway accidents, which are mostly preventable, are of special importance in this connection. Accidents to the general public and to the wage earners are not prevented because it would cost money. In other words, things are of more importance than persons. If, through carelessness in railway management, you lose your life at a grade crossing in Chicago, your family can recover only $5,000, although your earning capacity may be $5,000 a year.

There is in progress now a widespread effort to develop a personal right of pecuniary significance which is most important, namely the right to a sure income. This takes many forms and has been so little observed that its significance is scarcely understood. It has already reached, however, large dimensions in many countries and has been further developed probably in Germany than anywhere else in the world. In Germany the number of persons who have an income which cannot be taken from them without cause is extremely large and embraces those in the civil service, as well as the officers in the army and navy. What this means becomes apparent when one reflects on the vast proportions of the civil service. A German professor, for example, can no more be deprived of his income without cause than he can of his house. The whole civil service movement in this country is, among other things, a development in this general direction. But this reaches even outside of public employment and is beginning to be recognized in a feeble sort of way in private employment.

This inchoate right makes itself felt in a demand for a recognition of a general right to employment, to be furnished by the State in case no private employment can be found. There is some response to this demand in the present period of distress in the efforts of various cities to furnish employment to those needing it. A minimum income is assured to all persons in the Teutonic countries in the poor laws, which guarantee to everyone at a least minimum subsistence.

The right to reputation is one which it is most important should be much further developed. One's earning capacity, one's usefulness, one's comfort depend upon one's reputation, although it may be attacked, particularly in our own country, almost with impunity. Let us imagine a conceivable case to which it might not be difficult to find parallels. Let us suppose that you are a teacher of political economy. You advance views which to some are unwelcome; but, incapable of reply, they resort to lies and slanders. Let us suppose that you abhor socialism and yet your enemies bring the accusation against you that you are a socialist. They maliciously repeat the lie and it passes from mouth to mouth and produces conviction on the part of the unthinking. Let us suppose now as a result of these lies and slanders that you lose the position which gives you opportunities for usefulness and enables you to earn bread for your family. Have you any redress against the liars and slanderers who have inflicted this injury upon you, which is far greater than that inflicted by a thief who steals a hundred thousand dollars from a rich man? The question itself shows how much better the rights of one kind are developed than the other.

ONE of the bad signs of the times is the return the other day across the water of so many immigrants after a futile effort to settle in this country. It will be difficult to find a more striking example of the existing commercial depression than is this fact that we have no place just at present for additional labor. The most impressive sign of our prosperity in the past was our ability to profitably absorb, year after year, vast accretions to the working force of the nation. That we did it was the marvel of the world; it came in time to astonish even ourselves. It begot an impression that our resources and expansiveness were practically unlimited. That we should have "struck bottom," as the saying is, and paid out the last coin from our Fortunatas' purse is an unpleasant revelation. Immigration, we know, has always occupied no inconsiderable part of the public attention, nevertheless the importance of this contributory source of national prosperity has not yet been appreciated at its proper value. Our present financial difficulties are, we believe, the result of causes far more fundamental than any indicated by the popular diagnosis of our troubles. Evil silver legislation, confusion occasioned by bungling attempts at tariff reform and so forth have been only secondary or contributory causes. In the absence of more important fundamental disturbances, their effect on the commereial body would have been slight. But, among these secondary causes, an important place should be given to the mistaken notions on the desirability of immigration which broke out eighteen months ago, and have since borne fruit in diverting from us in part one of the most important sources of growth and prosperity. It is not only, as we have already pointed out in these columns, that each immigrant contributes no mean amount to the national fund of cash, but he adds immensely to national productiveness, and as a consumer enlarges the home market to an extent which any country would welcome and make serious efforts to retain. No nation would be indifferent to this source of wealth and none would be foolish enough to reject it. The ridiculous agitation a year ago in Congress and elsewhere against immigration was an advertisement to the world of hostility on our part to immigration and it bore restrictive results at once. Arrivals from the other side fell off in a marked degree, and there has been no revival of immigration since. There can be no question that this state of affairs has aided the evil effects of foolish silver legislation and disturbances due to the tinkering with the tariff, in producing bad times.

GOVERNOR Flower performed a very important public service in vetoing Assembly Bill No. 1,382, an act, it will be remembered, which amended the Building Law, permitting elevators when operated by water from high pressure street mains to be put in inclosures not fire-proof as is now necessary. We pointed out last week that this dangerous retrogression from safe practice was slipped into the legislation of the last session by the back-stairs and was intended to be of service to certain special interests at the expense of the public welfare. If this bill had become a law there can be no question that the danger of destruction of life by fire in this city would have been greatly increased, and many of the valuable safe guards which are now set up by the Building Law would be rendered to an extent useless. The Governor's action is eminently in the public's interest.

The promise of last week has been fairly well sustained in the operations of this week. Our gossip columns show about an equal volume of business transacted, and of the same general character. Trading, between professionals, is perhaps the predominating feature, as it has been all the year, but there is a fair amount of business being done in investment properties. The demand for investment properties continues to be far in excess of the supply. The representative brokers all report plenty of customers for well-rented properties at reasonable figures. These conditions impose on them extraordinary labors in the way of negotiation, and when a sale is consummated it is the result of more work than was ever before necessary. Now that the migration to the country has set in these difficulties will be greatly increased, until they end in the summer suspension.

As a result of the great improvement in the loan market several well-known building operators have during the week taken title to plots in the upper sections of the city, which they will doubtless improve before interest and taxes add much to their investments. Buying and selling of houses in the middle district, between 23d and 59th streets, except of old properties for reimprovement, seems to have suspended entirely. There were never so many vacant houses on Murray Hill and the neighboring districts as now. This is the result of the failure of the renting season and the stress of hard times, which induced many to give up their town establishments and take to a more economical life in the hotels or in the suburbs. But brokers in this district report the beginnings of the inevitable inquiry for houses to be occupied in the fall. One broker rented a house last week, at $3,000 a year for three years, that is not to be occupied until October 1. So that much of the loss of spring business will doubtless be retrieved before the 1st of October.

There are several important transactions still pending, two of them of greater magnitude than any thus far reported this year, and as to which the brokers express great confidence in successful conclusions. Facts regarding some of them have been given to THE RECORD AND GUIDE, but under conditions which do not permit mention of them. It may be properly said, however, that they establish reasonable presumptions of a fair amount of business in investment property and in property for extensive improvement during the next three or four weeks. The conditions of the market are particularly favorable for transactions of the latter character, and if a would-be investor cannot find anything to his liking among finished properties it may be suggested that there is no good reason why he should not enter into negotiations with a responsible broker, an architect and a builder, and buy, build and rent a property that will save him the profit he would have to pay on a finished property, and at the same time invest his idle money to better satisfaction than he could the other way. Incidentally, it might afford him some satisfaction to know that he was doing his share to bring back speedy prosperity to the country. Allowing large sums of money to lie idle in bank while waiting to learn whether the tariff on tacks will be one-tenth or one-fifth of a cent a pack, is a poor way to overcome hard times.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1893 and 1894.

The residents and owners of property in Harlem are organizing for a movement on the municipal authorities to procure the location of a branch tax office in their district. The perfectly obvious argument is made that it is both troublesome and expensive to have to go down town to Chambers street, from Harlem, and wait three or four hours for the opportunity to pay taxes. This is all unnecessary and is particularly annoying to women, who constitute the large body of those who call at the collector's office to pay the family's share of the cost of government. Petitions are in circulation and are being numerously signed, and when a satisfactory number of signatures have been obtained, a committee will lay the matter before the Sinking Fund Commission.

Owners of property along the line of Lexington avenue, between 128th and 131st streets, are uniting to petition the Board of Street Opening and Improvements to order the widening of the avenue to 125 feet by taking 50 feet off the blocks on the westerly side of the avenue. It is urged in support of the proposition that one of the approaches to the new 3d avenue bridge, and the principal approach at that, will begin on the northeast corner of Lexington avenue and 130th street; that what with trolley railroad cars, teams of traffic, carriages and pedestrians, the approach to the bridge will be constantly thronged from the beginning and will increase as the population increases on both sides of the river; and in order to provide adequate approaches to the bridge the avenue should be made wider. Many signatures have already been obtained to a petition which is in circulation, having the above-mentioned object in view, and an early application to the Board of Street Opening and improvement may be expected.

INVESTMENT AND SPECULATIVE PROPERTIES AND BUILDING LOTS IN THIS SALE.

Wednesday, May 23, at the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room, 59 to 65 Liberty street—George R. Read will officiate as auctioneer at the most extensive offering in the auction market for the year. The sale is made by direction of the executors of the estate of Martha M. Huylar, deceased. It embraces the four-story stone front mansion and lot, 28x100, No. 613 5th avenue, between 49th and 50th streets, on the east side of the avenue; five lots in a parcel on Amsterdam avenue, northwest corner of 101st street; the entire block, embracing about 15½ city lots, between 8th and St. Nicholas avenues, 119th and 120th streets; seventy-one lots in the 23d Ward, fronting on Tremont, Prospect and Mapes avenues and Marmion place; fourteen lots on Sheridan avenue, north of Fleetwood Park; and several choice corner plots in Linden Park, Staten Island. 60 per cent. of the purchase price of any of these properties may remain on bond and mortgage at 4½ per cent. for one, two or three years. Book maps of the properties may be obtained of the auctioneer at his offices, No. 9 Pine street.

Tuesday, May 22d, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom—Morris Wilkins will officiate as auctioneer at the sale by E. H. Ludlow & Co. of the lot, 25x110, and old buildings, No. 417 3d avenue, between 29th and 30th streets, and of the four-story brick building and lot, 16.4x about 50x67.4, No. 1429 3d avenue, between 80th and 81st streets. The sale is by direction of the executors of the estate of Charles H. Harbeck, and 70 per cent of the purchase money may remain on bond and mortgage for three years at 5 per cent.

BIG SALE OF BAY RIDGE LOTS.

Tuesday, May 22, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway—Peter F. Meyer & Co. will hold an interesting sale of 137 choice lots situated on 2d and 3d avenues, 85th, 86th and 87th streets, in a compact district. These lots are among the choicest in the newly annexed territory of Brooklyn, and are within thirty-five minutes travel from the Battery via the 39th street ferry and the electric railroad, or from the City Hall via the Brooklyn Bridge, 5th avenue elevated railroad, and by the Bay Ridge ferry from the Battery. The best of these routes is the 39th street ferry and electric railroad route. Mr. Meyer has made many extensive sales of lots all along the line of 3d avenue from old Gowanus to Bay Ridge, and all of them have resulted successfully as sales and in large profits to the buyers. This part of Brooklyn is growing rapidly and property bought at this sale is likely to return a handsome profit on the investment within a few years. The terms of sale permit 60 per cent of the purchase price to remain on bond and mortgage for one, two or three years, at 5 per cent, and the titles are guaranteed free of charge. The auctioneer reports an extensive inquiry for book maps of the property.

Decoration Day—Wednesday, May 30th—James L. Wells will hold a sale on the grounds, rain or shine, under a big tent, at Highwood Park, adjoining Eldorado Station, at Weehawken Heights, New Jersey, of 293 choice lots. This property is on the opposite side of the Hudson from the 42d street ferry, and overlooks all New York City

Mr. Wells made a very successful sale of several hundred lots, a short distance below this parcel, last year, and this one will doubtless be quite as successful, for the district is growing rapidly. It is a particularly desirable locality for moderate priced homes and, in view of this fact, offers unusual opportunities for speculation as well. Send to Mr. Wells for a map.

Wednesday, May 23, at the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room in Liberty street—Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the property, consisting of five and six-story connecting brick buildings, and plot 75x100, on the southeast corner of Prince street and South 5th avenue. E. A. Cruikshank & Co. or the auctioneers will answer inquiries about the property, terms, etc. At the same time and place the same auctioneers will sell the four-story brick tenement, 18.9x53x100.5, No. 529 West 45th street, at executor's sale. Seventy per cent of the purchase price may remain on bond and mortgage for three years at 5 per cent.

Thursday, May 31, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway—L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell at auction seven vacant lots on 88th street, six of them on the south side, between Central Park West and Columbus avenue, and one on the north side, between Amsterdam Avenue and the Boulevard. Here is an opportunity for an enterprising builder. The auctioneers, at 149 Broadway, will answer all inquiries regarding the property.

The American Institute has abandoned any intention it may have had of rebuilding on the 3d avenue location, and that property, of which it had only a leasehold, has passed to the possession of other parties. The Institute has no present design of building anywhere.

Messrs. Elliott & Crosby, of 58 William street, have money to loan on bond and mortgage on improved city property at 4½ and 5 per cent interest. Owners requiring loans will do well to communicate with this firm.

A. E. Hoyt & Co. have removed to offices in the Seymour building, at 5th avenue and 42d street.

M. E. Hewitt & Co. have moved to No. 1562 Broadway, two doors from their former offices.

Messrs. Hammond & Gruet have removed their office from 531 Hudson street to 574 Hudson street, southeast corner of West 11th street, where they have a handsome and well-equipped office for the transaction of a general real estate business.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Hoffman Bros. have purchased for W. G. Weld, of Boston, the new six-story and basement brick and stone business buildings, 66.6x100, Nos. 13 and 15 Waverley place, from Sachs Brothers, at about $300,000. The buildings are rented to three tenants for $20,500 per annum. Hoffman Bros. were the purchasers of the five-story and basement business building, 25x100, No. 42 White street, the sale of which was reported, short of these particulars, in THE RECORD AND GUIDE last Saturday.

Building News.

IS JAMES GORDON BENNETT GOING TO BUILD A SKY-SCRAPER?

Plans are in course of preparation in the office of Architect J. Graham Glover, of Brooklyn, for a towering office building of over twenty stories, to be constructed on the site of the old Herald building, at Broadway and Ann street. Hudnut, the apothecary and soda-water caterer, is having a new store fitted up on the opposite side of Broadway, just below Fulton street. The clothing firm in the corner store of the Herald building are having a large store prepared for them in the Stewart building. The telegraph office, the remaining occupant of the main floor in the Herald building will move out on Monday. Evidently, Mr. James Gorden Bennett is preparing to build on the famous site. Evidently, too, he has been scheming to keep the matter secret, for only evasive answers were made to our inquiries regarding the motives for the above collection of facts.

Our Anniversary Number.

A FEW OPINIONS CONCERNING ITS SUCCESS.

"RECORD AND GUIDE'S" QUARTER CENTURY.

RECORD AND GUIDE, the well-known real estate and builders' magazine, has completed the first quarter of a century of its existence, and the publishers have prepared a supplement to the anniversary number of remarkable beauty and interest. It is a history of real estate, building and architecture in New York City. It is illustrated by numerous photographs of men prominent in real estate and building interests, and cuts of New York buildings. These pictures alone give this anniversary number a very high value. There are over 140 pages of reading matter. Among the articles which it contains are: "A Glimpse of the Met opolis in 1868," "Review of the Real Estate Market, 1868 to 1893," "Review of Architecture, 1868 to 1893," by Montgomery Schuyler; "Review of Building Operations, 1868 to 1893," "History of the New York Building Laws," by William J. Fryer, and "The Building Trades Club." The preface gives a history of RECORD AND GUIDE. All these articles are of great interest and cover the growth of the building interests of the city for the last twenty-five years. Among the full page illustrations are a bird's-eye view of New York City in 1868, and one of Harlem in 1868, and a picture of the Real Estate Exchange. There is also a double-page picture of the interior of the Real Estate Exchange. The other cuts represent the most famous buildings of the city, and show the progress made in architecture during the last quarter of a century. The supplement is inclosed in a handsome cover. RECORD AND GUIDE is published at 14 Vesey street.—Sunday Times.

The Herald is in receipt of the handsome anniversary supplement of THE RECORD AND GUIDE issued by that paper yesterday to commemorate its establishment twenty-five years ago.

The supplement, which contains several fine illustrations of buildings and the portraits of some of the prominent real estate men, consists of 177 pages. The illustrations include photographs of some of New York's streets in 1868 and the same streets to-day, and together with the text show in a very forcible manner the growth of the city.

The more notable articles in the number are "A Glimpse of the Metropolis in 1868," reviews of the real estate market, of architecture and of building operations in the last quarter of a century; a history of the New York building laws and the Building Trades' Club, and an account of some of the real estate men who were prominent when the journal was first issued or who occupy positions of importance in the real estate and building worlds to-day.—Sunday Herald.

A REAL WORK OF ART—RECORD AND GUIDE'S TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY NUMBER.

A work of art is a term which may be fittingly applied to the quarter-of-a-century anniversary number of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD AND GUIDE. It contains over 150 pages printed on the finest glazed paper, the letter press being exceedingly beautiful.

Instead of glorifying itself on the occasion of this significant anniversary, THE RECORD AND GUIDE reserves its praise for the great city in which it was born and reared, and sets forth the magnificent growth and achievements of the American metropolis since 1868.

Among the subjects reviewed are the real estate market, architecture and building operations. William J. Fryer contributes an interesting article on "The History of the New York Building Laws," and there are some entertaining sketches of men by whom the real estate market has been controlled during the past twenty-five years.

The illustrations are copious and beautiful, many of them, if framed, being worthy to grace the walls of any gentleman's library. —New York Sunday News.

BUILDING TRADES' CLUB,
No. 117 East 23d street, New York, May 14, 1894.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I want to express to you and your corps of assistants my congratulations upon the beautiful anniversary number of THE RECORD AND GUIDE just issued.

The vast fund of information you have brought together therein will make it a valuable "book of reference" on the subject of real estate, while the illustrations greatly aid in drawing attention to the importance of the Builders as a potent commercial factor in our metropolis, for the men whose skill and ability enables them to successfully erect such enormous structures have hitherto been too little recognized.

The generosity of the proprietors of the journal manifested in the handsome style of the publication should be acknowledged and fully appreciated by your readers.

With my heartiest good wishes, I am truly yours,

STEPHEN M. WRIGHT,
Secretary and Treasurer.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., May 15, 1894.

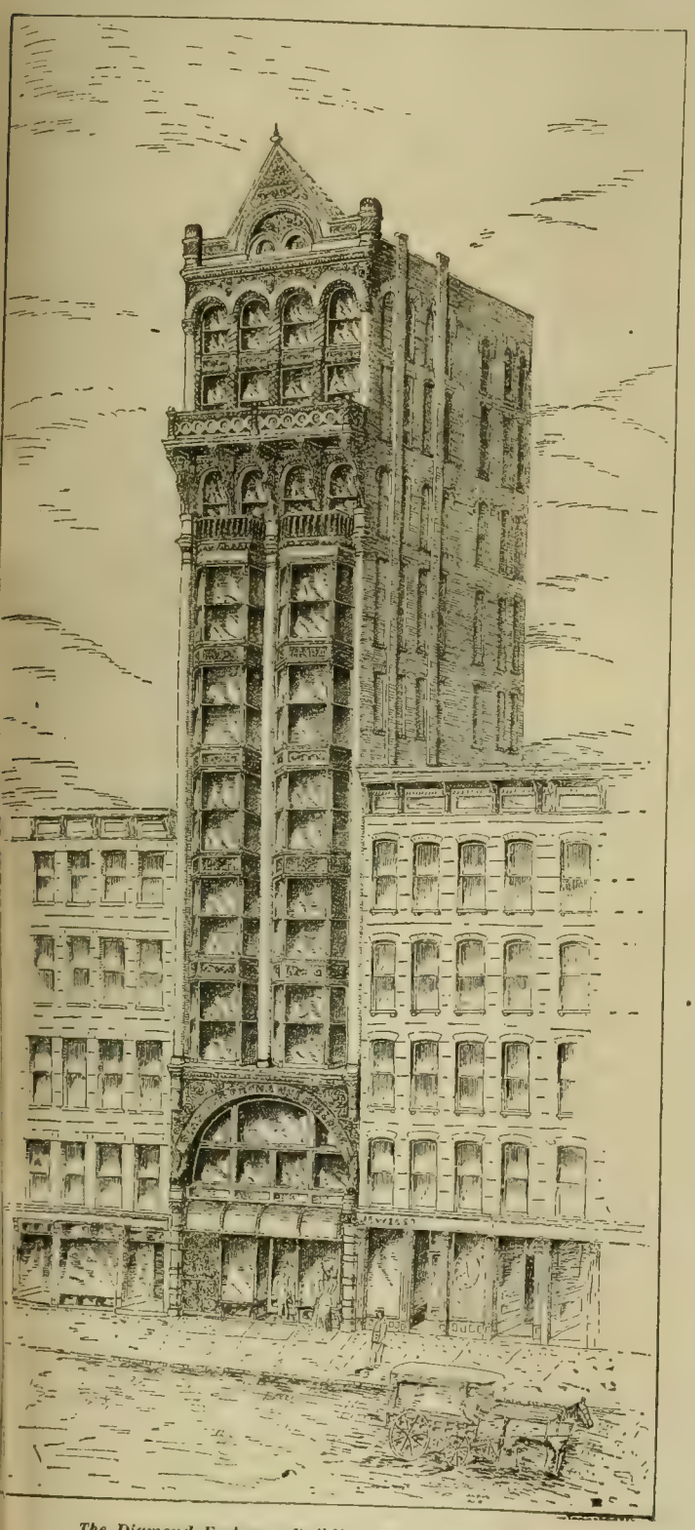
Publisher of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

GENTLEMEN—Our congratulations on your efforts in compiling such a useful book. We shall read it with a great deal of pleasure and profit. Yours very respectfully,

BACK'S MANUFACTURING CO.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:



DEAR SIR—In your issues of March 31, 1894, and of the 5th and 7th ult., as well as the issue of the 12th inst., there appear judgments taken by divers people against John F. Doyle. Persons who know me by name only, or by reputation, as well as some who know me personally are apt to associate these judgments as if taken against me, which is an error. I have never been sued, consequently no judgments could have been taken against me. The name of John F. Doyle, whether written or spoken, appears to stand for me alone, as for many years I happen to be the only one of that name in the city, hence you will confer a favor by stating in your next issue that the John F. Doyle who is in trouble with his creditors is not the John F. Doyle, who, for the past thirty years, has been in the real estate business in this city.

JOHN F. DOYLE,
of JOHN F. DOYLE & SON.

The Diamond Exchange Building No. 14 Maiden Lane.

A few steps off from Broadway into Maiden lane brings one into the heart of the diamond and jewelry trade, and here, towering above all the surrounding buildings is the imposing Diamond

The Diamond Exchange Building, No. 14 Maiden Lane.

Exchange, built and owned by Messrs. Boehm & Coon, of No. 45 Maiden lane, upon which a swarm of workmen are now putting the last finishing touches. One stops instinctively to take a second and prolonged view of this building, so admirably does it seem to be adapted to the uses and peculiar requirements of the trade in diamonds, precious stones and other jewelry.

You learn with satisfaction that it is of fire-proof construction; with steel and iron frame work and hollow-brick floor arches; massive walls; iron stairways with marble treads; iron elevator inclosure—ornamental, of course, and mosaic floors and marble wainscoting in all the halls. Since the trade requires the use of massive fire and burglar proof safes, of the heaviest pattern, the building has been specially planned and constructed to stand the heaviest possible pressure from these sources.

From the street you observe that the choicest of modern materials of office building construction have been used in artistic combination to produce the highly ornate and imposing front. Granite, polished and carved, in the main story, with two bronze eagles a-pinion on the capitals; a richly carved light red freestone arched second story; symmetrical piers of Roman mottled brick, with double, iron-framed bays between, through several succeeding stories, and a massive balcony and cornice above in richly molded terra cotta, are the component elements of the facade. Above the fourth story there are windows on both sides of the building, and it is observable with regard to the front and rear elevations of the building that the windows have been set as far out as was practicable, in order to insure the best light effects obtainable.

An inspection of the interior shows that the motive for the interior arrangement and equipment has been convenience and facility of use. A rapid running elevator, toilet room on each floor, lavatories in each suite of offices, electric lights, gas, steam-heat, mail chutes, quartered oak trim on hard-finished white walls, reflecting rather than absorbing the light that is so valuable to the trade in gems; oak floors, double and unique crystalized plate glass partitions, are the features. Altogether, the Diamond Exchange, a picture of which is published herewith, is a building perfectly adapted to the business for which it was intended. The store and most of the offices are already rented to and occupied by representative diamond and jewelry firms, and thus the building has now become the "Diamond Exchange" in fact.—(Communicated.)

Personal.

J. E. Whitaker, the well-known agent and broker, has returned from a short trip to London, wherein business was combined with pleasure.

Building Trade Notes.

Surely we are making progress in the art and science of construction very rapidly! One of the buildings torn down to make way for the American Surety Building was a six-story structure, the floors of which were of iron I beams, with hollow-brick flat arches. This was itself a modern fire-proof building, and intended when built to last many generations. At this rate ten-story fire-proof buildings will be incumbrances upon the ground they occupy in another decade.

Attention is directed to the card on the last outside page of this paper, of the well-known and successful dealers in masons' building materials—Candee & Smith, whose main office is at the foot of East 26th street, and the other yards at the foot of East 53d street and 135th street and Mott Haven Canal. The members of the firm are Col. George Moore Smith, Francis N. Howland and David B. Arnold, the senior partner. Mr. Julius A. Candee, having retired a few months ago, so that his death on Tuesday last at Stamford, Conn., in his eightieth year full of honors, will make no change in the business of the firm. Builders, contractors and others requiring anything in the masons' building material line should remember Candee & Smith's address and the fact that the firm can be communicated with by telephone.

The old reliable and successful firm, Thos. Ritch & Son, dealers in Greenwich stone, established for nearly half a century, and for the last ten years at 408 and 410 Front street, have removed to 616 and 618 East 17th street, between Avenues B and C, where they have larger and more commodious quarters, equipped with modern improvements and covering four city lots, with long distance telephone connection. In addition to their regular business, foundation, dimension and pier stone, they are now prepared to furnish crushed stone of all sizes, having recently erected a stone-crushing plant at their quarries. Greenwich stone is known to be superior for heavy foundation work.

McKim, Mead & White have removed to the Mohawk building, at 5th avenue and 21st street.

Renwick, Aspinwall & Renwick have removed to new offices at 5th avenue and 35th street, southeast corner.

Stevens and is very well known as an expert appraiser of real estate, having acted as such in many important cases. His knowledge of West Side lots is most thorough and he has the name of every lot-owner west of the Park south of 155th street. Mr. Jno. W. Hutchinson is very well known in the dry-goods district, was for twelve years a buyer for R. H. Macy & Co., and for the past three years has been in the real estate field. Messrs. King & Hutchinson are hard and untiring workers and conscientious men. They will transact a general real estate business, acting as brokers and agents. Their office is at 650 Columbus avenue, near 92d street. Telephone 497 K.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, MAY 19, 1894.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen, held on Monday last, a resolution was offered to the effect that the destruction of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, the Hotel Regent and other valuable property nearby, clearly proved that a water-tower and other modern appliances are necessary for the Fire Department to cope with fires in the larger buildings of the city, and that the Board of Estimate insert in the budget for 1895 a sufficient sum for Fire Department purposes to enable the Commissioner to purchase a water-tower and appliances necessary to thoroughly equip the department.

At the same meeting Commissioner White submitted a plan for the construction of relief or auxiliary sewers in the 9th, 19th, 21st, 23d, 24th and 25th Wards. The cost is estimated at $500,000. This is an extension of the Greene avenue relief sewer.

The Mayor received from Commissioner White on Monday, the estimates for the Department of City Works for 1895. The aggregate asked for is $1,830,635, as against $2,016,940 asked for a year ago, and $1,366,274 allowed for the expenses of the department for 1894. Of this total $172,002 is for salaries and $1,658,633 for maintenance, supplies and construction. The larger part of the latter item, being for street cleaning, street lighting, etc.

At the regular meeting of the Charities Commissioners on Wednesday, it was voted to insert in the budget for the coming year, an item for $40,000, for additions and repairs to the Flatbush Hospital. Dr. Arnold also recommends the construction of pavilions for the insane, consumptives and chronic cases, with a capacity of two hundred beds. Chief Engineer McCanna reported that the desired repairs to the other county buildings at Flatbush would cost $63,000. This item was also inserted in the budget.

The work of constructing the Nassau Electric Railroad is progressing and the tracks are now laid nearly to 5th avenue. The company has awarded the contract for paving to Charles Hart, at about $100,000. The contract for excavating, piling and laying the concrete foundation for the power-house at the foot of 39th street has been given to P. J. Carlin. He has contracted to complete the work in thirty-five days.

At a meeting of the citizens of Gravesend, which was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening last, Harmon Cropsey said that at a meeting of the Provisional Committee Judge Cropsey claimed that the annexation act was unconstitutional. Fifteen years ago the same thing was proposed, but after careful study it was decided that it would be illegal and the act was not passed. It was voted to have a committee appointed to raise funds and employ counsel to test the act.

The sale of Bay Ridge lots, at the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room, New York, by Richard V. Harnett & Co., on Thursday, was not an unqualified success. The offerings embraced sixty-two lots, and of these only twenty-five were sold, and they at prices considerably under normal prices at private sale. The severe restrictions upon the properties doubtless prevented better results at auction, but they ought to commend the properties to home-seekers. Liquor stores and nuisances were prohibited, and one of the covenants required the construction of houses of a cost not less than $3,000 on plots of at least 60x100. These restrictions, of course, excluded the professional builder from the list of possible buyers, for such a waste of good land would never be countenanced by the professional builder. The more houses you can get on the block, the better—is his policy.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—So far as the local conditions are concerned there is little or nothing new to suggest. The tearing down of old buildings in a number of down-town streets is preliminary to making a place for a great many bricks, but as yet the demand does not broaden out, and the opportunity for selling stock is no greater than one week ago. The influence of the labor troubles up the river, however, is commencing to be more noticeable in the shrinkage of supplies, and while there has been plenty and to spare at all times down to date, the surplus grows smaller. Especially is that the case with really choice quantity of stock upon which buyers are willing to pay top figures, and of brick with from $4 to $4.50 the excess accommodation is made up. Pales have about usual proportionate demand at old rates. Production is going ahead well enough where there are no labor troubles, but in the district covered by the strike matters have grown worse. Laborers failing to obtain even a sign of promise for success in the effort to have old wages restored are getting ugly and have already adopted riotous measures not by any means calculated to help their cause. Manufacturers as a rule insist that it is simply impossible to pay better wages than they have offered, and some go so far as to say that rather than do so they will simply refuse to go on with production this season.

At the close the information in hand shows that ugliness of the striking brickmakers has brought them into trouble. Quite a number have been arrested, tried and sentenced to various terms of imprisonment for riotous conduct and assault upon quiet workmen. It is also intimated that work is likely to be resumed at some of the yards with opening of coming week and upon employers' terms.

GLASS.—Conditions on the market for cylinder glass do not differ to any extent from about what was suggested as among the probabilities some little time ago. At interior points demand has picked up a trifle, but in this locality is growing slower owing to the fact that custom having secured enough stock for current wants now withdraws and stands off awaiting developments or new necessities. The supply has been ample for all calls made. Indeed, it is reported that 125 fresh pots have blown in within a week and brought the working plant up to about two-thirds of the full capacity. It is understood that the move was mainly to make up a little stock for accumulation against the annual shut down, which will occur in a few weeks. Prices on domestic have been irregular and probably not quite so strong, though quotations can hardly be altered. French window sells very well, and remains steady at 70 and 10 per cent discount. For plate glass business gains somewhat without change in cost. A contemporary has made careful comparison with the different changes that have taken place in the glass schedule during attempts to decide upon a tariff, and the following is the position as it stands down to date.

On sizes up to 10x15 inches the duty under the present law is 1⅜ cents a pound. In the Wilson bill this was reduced to 1 cent, and that amount has been allowed to stand through all changes. On sizes from 10x15 up to and including 16x24 the present duty is 1⅞ cents a pound; Wilson bill, 1 cent; senate finance committee report, 1⅛ cents; caucus report, 1¼ cents; 16x24 to 24x30 inches, present duty, 2⅜ cents; Wilson bill, 1⅛ cents; finance committee report, 1¼ cents; caucus report 1⅜ cents; 24x30 to 24x36 inches, present duty, 2⅞ cents; Wilson bill, 1⅜ cents; finance committee report, 1½ cents; caucus report, 1⅝ cents; above 24x36 inches, present duty, 3⅛ cents; Wilson bill, 1½ cents; finance committee report, 1⅝ cents; caucus report, 1¾ cents.

The above refers to unpolished cylinder, crown and common window glass. The duties on plate glass remain the same as under the present law on all sizes below 24x30. Above that, and not exceeding 24x60 inches, the present duty is 25 cents a square foot; Wilson bill, 18 cents; Finance Committee report, 20 cents; caucus report, 23 cents. All sizes above 24x60 inches, present duty, 50 cents a square foot; Wilson bill, 30 cents; Finance Committee report, 35 cents; caucus report, 38 cents.

LATH.—It is a good market and has justified the claims of receivers for a strong undertone, although not as yet reaching a point of buoyancy. Considerable stock has arrived from the Provinces and Maine ports, but there seems to have been found a market either here or near by out of town, and previous rates obtained the best goods, selling at $2.10, according to latest report of business. Some odd lots of round wood lath have come to hand, but it seems to be understood that the supply is about exhausted. It is claimed, of course, that no great amount of stock is coming forward, with a possibility that the story may be about correct.

LIME.—There is no improvement in the general character of the market. Demand fails to gain favor or volume, there has been further arrivals, and with quantity already in hand it is a difficult matter for receivers to find foundation for much comfort. They quote as before and call matters steady, and that may be given as the sellers' view of affairs. At the Eastward production and shipment have ceased on behalf of the combine, and there has been a strong effort made to induce outsiders to shut down also. From the State and Virginia offerings are moderrate but could be increased if desired.

LUMBER.—Operations of hopeful temperament are inclined to speak well of the market, because there may, now and then, be found some new source of demand, and, under present conditions of general trade, it is better to make the most of every favorable symptom. It would be an unfair chronicle of passing events, however, to place upon record a suggestion of good, healthy business in lumber, and as against what is ordinarily doing at this season of the year, which is the only fair comparison, the movement of supplies is undeniably small and unsatisfactory. It may, however, be a possible crumb of comfort that the lumber trade is in no worse state than is to be found in all other lines of business representing articles of ornament, usefulness, or even absolute necessity, the result, primarily, of economical consumption, and the reflection thereof, through all stages of handling goods, from the retailer back to the wholesaler and the producer. To meet current calls from consumers the yard dealers are endeavoring to make stocks in hand go as far as possible and this course is cleaning out a great many odds and ends, and working down accumulations to a compass that seems to be paving the way for excellent trading when the long-hoped for revival of demand sets in.

Even the chance of getting some help from public work is less promising than had been expected, because of technicalities raised by public officers regarding contracts and methods, and delays on jobs already under way or about starting are the result. It may be as well to again note, too, that the most extensive building operations now under way in this city are of the kind that do not consume lumber and will not until they reach the period for trimming, and that is a date too far distant to warrant any present worry.

Local and traveling salesmen seeking place for first-hand parcels are plenty enough and very ready to negotiate with any custom of a desirable character that will reciprocate, but meeting with limited success they are not all loaded up with stock for which a market must be forced, and many indeed really have only a limited sort of supply immediately on hand, but represent manufacturers who are ready to ship promptly from accumulations at primal points, or who have mills in condition to start up or run fuller time the moment there is occasion for so doing. Some arrivals are simply of stuff wintered over at interior localities and now ordered forward instead of making fresh purchases.

Eastern Spruce receivers are still grumbling over the remarkably indifferent character of demand. The large dealers who stocked up freely because of the very low rates current during the earlier portion of the season have been disappointed in the distribution, and although they could probably buy just as cheaply now are unwilling to renew investments until they sell down a little closer. Others who have short supplies are also short of trade and an odd cargo now and then is about all they can provide a place for. Advices from the East report many of the mills as having gradually booked orders against the logs on hand, and now refusing to negotiate for additional supplies until chances for trade are better defined. There is a moderate supply of State spruce reported, and a firm feeling claimed in regard to value. Virginia spruce about as before with comparatively moderate business doing at the moment.

For Hemlock the local demand "is not of much moment nor is the outside trade of a regular or particularly satisfactory character although operators call the position about steady at former figures." Carolina pine holds its relative position in the general movement of lumber, which is satisfactory so far as it goes, but manufacturers could do a great deal more business and not overwork their mills. Prices are as steady as they have been for some time past.

White Pine has very little in the way of natural demand and the solicitations of agents are not particularly successful in picking up much custom, for either early or distant deliveries. The supply of shipping grades is not greatly disturbed and would find even smaller outlet were it not for the old contracts permitting occasional export of fair-sized parcels.

Hardwoods are nominally steady, because when buyers really want any stock they make no effort of pronounced character to beat down price. Open, direct demand, however, is very small, and selling agents are compelled to keep up constant canvassing to obtain custom for even the most thoroughly staple descriptions of goods. Many of the manufacturing interest both for furniture and house trim are avoiding just as much as possible the making up of stock to carry against chance custom, and confining their production where they can do so to specially-booked orders. Supplies are arriving in execution of contracts made along during the winter and spring at various times, and in some cases storage yards commence to show the effect of additions. The export trade is without reported new features worthy of note.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

From the Northwestern Lumberman we take the following on the Chicago market;

More stir is manifest on the market than a short time ago. The mills are mostly running, turning out piece stuff that is seeking a market. The minimum price for short lengths has settled to $9 a thousand, which has excited some interest among yard men, who are frequenting the market oftener than in April. Cargoes are dropping in every day and groups of half a dozen are now often seen at the docks. Late this week a Lake Superior tow was due, marking the beginning of receipts from that lake, which will cause new interest in the market, especially for mill run lots of piece stuff. The market is somewhat perturbed, because yard dealers are insisting on lower prices, especially for long joists. The test of the market's strength for this class of stuff, as well as the market in general, is about to come. It is known that there is not a large stock of long wide joists in the market, and sellers will try to keep up the strength of piece stuff values, under the influence of offerings of mixed cargoes of long and short.

Cargoes of east shore piece stuff, from which long wide joists, short 2x12 timbers, and other desirable sizes are absent, are selling for $9 a thousand. When the tally suits the yard dealer in respect to the desirable sizes and lengths he is willing to pay a little more than the price named, going it better by 25 to 50 cents. Dry short piece stuff sells at from 50 cents to one dollar more than green.

As has been indicated, there is a good deal of argument about long wide stuff, and it is difficult to quote prices because they have not been fully settled. Commission men who have a large amount of such lumber to market are insisting on $11.50 as the minimum price, but it is probable that $11 will be near the figure in future sales. Slimjims are really not worth much more than short lengths, but commission men are trying to get 50 cents to $1 a thousand more. The price of slims is scarcely quotable at the present time. Little but common and cull lumber is arriving.

The Saginaw report of the Lumberman says:

Matters in lumber circles continue quiet. The movement by lake and rail is comparatively light, and while there is some inquiry it is of a spasmodic character. The mills that have stock are running, and stocks are accumulating. At this end of the river there has been no agitation of consequence as to any demand for an increase in wages, and it is hardly believed, under the circumstances, that there will be any trouble. General business is dull, and wages in nearly all lines have been reduced, and this naturally has some effect upon the mill workers. There is no demand for mill workers or for woodsmen; in fact, the supply of labor for nearly all branches of the lumbering business is far in excess of the demand.

So much lumber is being moved from upper lake points to the east, that it has doubtless somewhat affected the market here, confining it chiefly to the car trade. There is very little lumber sold on the river for lake shipment, and freight rates are unchanged, at $1.50 to Buffalo and Tonawanda, and $1.25 to Ohio, with 12½ cents added on cargoes shipped from Saginaw.

One strong feature of the popular market is the scarcity of logs at the mills and the practical certainty that the season's crop will be short. Demand is not active, but there is about all that can be supplied under present conditions. Prices are a shade firmer, with a tendency to advance, but are still considerably below the association list. Any material increase in the current demand would be followed by a decided advance in prices in all grades.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The curtailment of the log cut on the Upper Mississippi River the past season was greater than has been generally accredited. It was the idea when the season first began to make a large curtailment, but as conditions changed and the winter proved a favorable one, the indications were that the shortage would be light. From the report of the Surveyor-General of this district, it appears that there were 466,150,000 feet scaled by that official on the Upper Mississippi and its tributaries during the season of 1893-94, as compared with 677,836,540 feet the winter previous. Last year there were only about 200,000,000 feet of old logs left over in the river, while the past winter it is estimated that there were about 400,000,000 feet of old logs carried over. Accordingly this gives a log supply of 866,150,000 feet for the sawing season of 1894 as against 877,836,540 feet for 1893, which is practically the same. Although the log input was 211,686,540 feet less than last year, the supply is practically equal, according to these figures. At any rate there is no danger of the Minneapolis mills not having enough logs to saw this season.

The same journal has the following from Vancouver, B. C.:

The foreign lumber shippers and export mills have just about come to an agreement to advance the price of lumber both in British Columbia and Puget Sound ports to $9 per mille feet basis price (for rough merchantable ordinary sizes in lengths to 40 feet inclusive), for foreign orders. The full text of the agreement will be made public shortly and will be certain to give great satisfaction to all engaged in the milling industry. It is an open secret that certain mills in their eagerness to secure business cut the price of lumber below profitable basis, and while the list prices still remain at $8 and $8.50 per M feet, it is well known that those figures have been purely nominal for some time.

NAILS.—The movement has not increased to any noteworthy extent. Now and then an order is secured somewhat above the ordinary average, but buyers say they feel independent and they certainly act so, giving business a more or less unsatisfactory tone. Supplies of all kinds and in all localities are sufficient for a prompt response to all present calls, and the general disposition is evidently to keep rates easy. We quote Cut at 95c.@$1.05 per keg for car lots and $1.10@1.20 per keg for parcels from store for iron, and add 3c. per keg for steel; Wire, $1.00@1.10 for car lots, and $1.20@1.30 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—There is nothing really newsy in the current line of reports from either jobbers or wholesalers. The distribution into the hands of retailers and consumers continues somewhat irregular and is accomplished principally through small parcels, evidently gauged carefully to the apparent wants of buyers, but more or less frequent duplication of orders is one evidence that supplies are being used up somewhat more rapidly than anticipated. The selection also shows a determination to rigidly adhere to thoroughly staple qualities, so that any miscalculation of wants shall not leave an unsold surplus of unde

THE agreement of the Western Trunk line presidents, the falling off in gold exports and the way the Tariff Bill is shaping itself in the Senate has encouraged the buying of stocks and started shorts to cover with the result of a more buoyant market than has been seen for some weeks. The attack on the New York Central was part of the scared-bears' tactics. For the moment, however, the street is more ready to listen to good news than to bad, and while it is in this condition prices will continue to advance. There has been in the past three or four months more bear talk on the New York Central and Western Union than upon any two other stocks, but they have hitherto withstood this adverse influence very well. Both are greatly affected by the dullness in business, and while a reduction in the dividend of New Central seems very probable unless there is a speedy change in the outside conditions, it is said the usual one and a quarter will be declared on Western Union at the next quarterly meeting of the directors. In the case of Central it is doubtful if its friends will allow it to drop very much even if the dividend be reduced. What the real meaning of the presidents' agreement is remains to be seen, and on that will depend its influence on the market. Hitherto official agreements to maintain rates in times of bad business have not been very effective. The lessened gold exports are partly the result of foreign interest in American securities, and while it it is only a speculative interest it is still better than none. Movements are on foot for procuring an agreement to raise prices in the cordage trade; on the strength of this an attempt is to be made to put up United States Cordage Company's securities, but investors had better carefully study the conditions of the trade and that company's relation thereto before touching these securities. Atchison is likely to come to the front in the near future. Already the new bureaus are supplied with hints to test the public feeling on the subject of reorganization. The most feasible plan yet reported embraces an assessment of 10 per cent on the stock, the reversion of the A's and B's to income bonds with provision for small annual capital requirements ahead of them and some scaling down of the guaranteed bonds. The soft coal miners strike has increased the ugliness of its features, encouraged in Illinois no doubt by the Governor's known sympathy with socialism and anarchy, but the resort to violence must injure the cause of the strikers as was the case at Homestead and will always be the case where the discontents attempt to assert themselves by destruction of life and property. The causes which limit general business to actual needs, it is hardly necessary to say, continue to prevail without show of immediate improvement. The conditions upon which advances have been made in previous years, such as the hay, wheat, corn and oats crops are as good as they have been in any year and only fail for the time being of their usual influence because the misfortunes of the past year have made the public less subject to them than usual. Should nothing occur to alter these conditions they cannot fail to be beneficial not only to the stock market but to general trade as well.

BRITISH trade returns for April show an increase of imports of $1,500,000 and an increase of exports of $4,700,000. The former is due largely to increased imports of bread stuff and cotton; but an expansion of imports of raw materials generally is noticeable. The increase of exports is mainly found in the items of coal and cotton manufactures. The decline in other branches of exports is less marked than it has been hitherto. The imports of wheat were $2,200,000 greater than in April, 1893, and those of flour $2,000,000 smaller. The United States sent a larger amount of live stock by about $1,750,000. English railway shares are advancing in price as a result of the improvement in business. It is probable that France will enter the market as a purchaser of silver, if it has not already done so, to provide for the subsidiary coin made necessary by the withdrawal of Italian small silver coins from circulation in that country. The Minister of Finance is urged to melt down five franc pieces and to reduce the present large supply, but as the seigniorage to the government will be $800,000 more from the new metal than from the five franc pieces, it is presumed the minister will choose the former. The supply of Egyptian cotton is expected to be more largely in excess of the estimate than ever. The prevailing feature of the Berlin market is said to be a total absence of animation. In the theoretical discussion of the declining tendency in prices, it is calculated that the fall in Germany, taking the average prices of 1879-89 to stand at 100, has been for the succeeding years as follows: 1891, 98.14; 1892, 95.32; 1893, 91.52; only the year 1890 showed a rise to 105.21. The export trade of the empire stood at 104.7 in 1892, 102.6 in 1891 and 96.7 in 1892. These are compared with figures of 104, 97.5 and 92.4 severally for the exports of England in the same years. The Neue Freie Presse speaks hopefully of the industry of Austria, which, it is believed, will under present favorable conditions take a fresh start. The announcement of another Indian sterling loan is accepted as a sign that the government will make no change in its mint policy. Italy has started on a policy of rigorous economy which should materially improve its credit.

IF for no other reason, in view of the present hard times when everybody is feeling the pressure of financial contraction there is something willfully reckless about Governor Flower's approval of the act for increasing the pay, in certain departments, of the police force, on the score—shall we say?—that the men at present cannot deposit the entire amount of their pay each month to their several credits in the Savings bank—as, of course, these fellows should. These are not the exact words of the gubernatorial approval; but as everyone knows, considering the work to be done and the previous pay of patrolmen, they comprise its terms exactly. The New York public has observed the whole course of Senator Coggeshall's measure of unnecessary and quite unwarranted generosity to the police force with cynical amusement, but has done little or nothing to oppose it. This is the characteristic attitude of the New Yorker toward the police. He looks upon the force as very necessary, and, at the same time, as something dangerous to come into contact with under any circumstances; in certain cases brave and efficient, but considering the mental calibre of the men employed and the nature of the work they have to perform—and the lucrativeness of the work they don't perform—very much overpaid. But no one, for obvious reasons, and particularly for reasons that reflect unfavorably upon the character of the men employed, has had the temerity to raise a strong voice of protest against the further greasing of the fatted "force," and the New Yorker as he passes along the streets and gazes into the vacant countenance of the city's beefy guardians satirically praises Heaven that at least the fortunes of some are superior to the times.

THE question most vital to the interests and progress of the City of New York, rapid transit, is in as satisfactory a shape as it can now be put by the approval by Governor Flower of the "Chamber of Commerce Rapid Transit Bill." This is essentially a citizens' and not a politicians' measure and consequently puts the matter in its best and most practical shape. So long as the matter was left to politicians it was impossible to hope for anything like progress. As soon as it was taken up earnestly by a representative body who could authoritatively speak with the voice of the city at large, progress began by the introduction of the measure just approved into the Legislature. The enforcement of the measure still remains with our citizens as a body, because it is almost certain that there must be a referendum when the commission has decided upon the plan, because it is quite hopeless, in view of the cost of the work and the lengthy period within which the capital employed must remain unremunerative, to expect any business syndicate to take it up without municipal backing. In fact any syndicate that would undertake such a contract, in view of all the difficulties that so obviously surround it, should be regarded with great suspicion, and their bona-fides submitted to the severest tests. It should not be difficult, however, to prove to the people of this city, when the matter is submitted to their approval, that they cannot make a better investment for their own comfort and well-being than to guarantee judicious expenditures in providing rapid transit.

THE retirement of Mr. Croker from the dictatorship of New York city is, people are almost tempted to say, too good to be credited. Probably they would say so were they not instantly checked by the thought that nothing either in the act of abdication itself or in the supposable consequences of the act strictly merits the commendatory epithet. Stated in more direct speech, the idea we take it is that it is hard to believe that Mr. Croker has really resigned, despite the publicity of his resignation. The very indubitableness of the act renders it unconvincing, so perverse are people's suspicions. Is it that the metropolitan mind has become so indirect, prying, trusting rather the corner of the eye than the direct vision in its dealings with Tammany that it hesitates to accept at its face value the visible formality with which their untitled ruler laid down the prerogatives of office with every evidence of "that tired feeling" that could reasonably be demanded. They actually saw him if not take off his crown, at least put on the silk hat of the plain uncrowned American and descend ostentatiously to the useful, but — we vouch for it — less remunerative vocation of bringing together the sometimes widely divergent minds of real estate buyer and seller. Perhaps it was the very ostentation of the "performance"—there, we have characterized when we meant only to describe—that has made people inquisitive and suspicious. There was just a trifle of the halting air of the rehearsal about it. There was a deficiency of spontaneity. Mr. Croker acted as though he had retired—behind the scenes—without at the same time detaching himself from the progress or action of the play. Besides, when the New Yorker, from fortunate or unfortunate motives, "retires" does he not at once transport himself—or suffer transportation—to other climes? To "retire" within the limits of New York is a contradiction in terms. The thing is impossible. No one has ever done it. The din of the huge metropolitan machinery is sufficient to set the nerves dancing, and the money-making instinct stirring. Mr. Croker's acts do not, in the popular imagination, square with his professions—as published. When one is suffering from physical exhaustion, mental weariness, in a word general deflection under a strain become too heavy, but a strain, the final effects of which are mitigated or at least qualified by an ample bank account, one's first choice for repose—unless Mr. Croker meant to satirize the daily papers' announcements that real estate is brisk—would scarcely be an auctioneer's office. Neither an evil conscience nor a broken body can find much to assist recuperation there. Certainly, that part of the public—increased wonderfully of late—interested in Mr. Croker's morals and health would not if called upon for advice have prescribed for him exactly the course he has taken. That it keeps him in such proximity to Tammany Hall, they think, threatens his repose. The great striking prosperity and power of that organization have been due in so great a measure to his remarkable gifts for leadership and political diplomacy that "retirement" they fear will be as difficult a thing for the Wigwam to manage as Mr. Croker, so long as both are in the same town.

Private Property.—XI.*

By Richard T. Ely, University of Wisconsin.

THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.

A MOVEMENT has already begun which will eventually change considerably the modes of acquisition of private property. How far this will go no one can say; but we can make certain predictions from indications which already appear, and we can point out that line of development which seems to us desirable. Perhaps the most general aim clearly manifested in this movement may be expressed in the statement that it is desired to eliminate, or rather let us say to reduce to a minimum, unearned incomes. When the expression unearned incomes is used, it is of course meant to say individually unearned, for all incomes are earned by some one. There are, however, as is well known, incomes which are due to the exertions of society as a whole, and which, nevertheless, are appropriated by individuals. This is a fact, whatever may be our theories in regard to it. The appropriation may be perfectly legitimate, and the man who is able to effect the appropriation may be entirely blameless. So long, indeed, as there is a large social product or economic surplus which can be individaally appropriated, why should we reproach a particular individual who is fortunate enough to secure a share of this individually unearned income. These remarks are thrown in at this place because it is felt that the heat shown in the discussion of economic questions of this character is entirely uncalled for. There is no reason at all why we should not conduct our economic inquiries calmly and dispassionately.

But what is the direction in which social effort to reduce unearned incomes to a minimum should proceed in the future? The movement in the direction of the elimination of unearned incomes is operating, first, by improvements and changes in the industrial order, and, second, by taxation. Under the first head, we notice a general effort on the part of society to reduce the chance element in the production and distribution of wealth. This chance element brings undeserved loss as well as unearned increment and weakens the springs of economic action, inasmuch as it removes the close connection which should exist between exertion and reward. It means the discouragement of what we may call mere speculation, which is something different enough from legitimate buying and selling. The progress in banking which has been effected in the United States during the past fifty years offers an excellent illustration. The chance element was prominent in the old State banks. The purchase and sale of shares were often effected in the dark, so far as the general public was concerned, and the bank notes issued by these State banks varied in value immensely and fluctuated greatly. This was a condition of things especially unfortunate for the weaker members of the community. What a contrast is afforded by our national banks! The chance element in the money which they issue has disappeared and the publication of their reports at frequent intervals together with examinations by government officials render it possible to know what one is doing, either in buying or in selling national bank stock. There has been at the same time a great improvement in the methods of State banks throughout the country. But our ordinary corporations, especially our railway corporations, are still managed in such a manner as to exaggerate rather than reduce the chance element, and thus in this way, as well as otherwise, they exert an unfortunate influence on the distribution of wealth, enriching the few and impoverishing the many. In our general corporation law we in the United States are far behind other countries—particularly far behind England and Germany. Yet there has been improvement in our laws concerning private corporations, although it has not yet gone far enough. One thing which is needed is to make these laws approximate to those which govern the formation and operation of national banks, so that one may know precisely what investment is represented by a share of stock and be able to learn the exact financial condition present and past of every industrial corporation. We want to bring it to pass that we can send to the penitentiary those who rob others through misrepresentation with respect to corporations, falsified accounts, or dishonest corporate management of any sort.

The unearned income which private property in land yields has received much attention and, relatively at least, we can safely say undue attention, as it is only one source of unearned income. Yet there can be no doubt in regard to its importance. If one buys a piece of land and holds it for a couple of years and then sells it for twice what he paid for it, having in the meantime done nothing to improve it, he receives an individually unearned income or increment to his fortune. We are all familiar with the plan proposed by Mr. Henry George to render the individual receipt of this increment due to society impossible. Mr. George proposes to take out of the land its entire value present and future by means of taxation. If we are not prepared to go to this extreme length, shall we in consequence do nothing whatever to give to society at least a share of the unearned increment in land values? If we turn our attention to what is actually taking place we shall find there has been a slow and gradual movement which endeavors to reduce the proportions of unearned income which landed property affords, and to lessen some of the abuses connected with private ownership of land. Frequently in European cities the improvements on land are exempted from taxation for a period of years. This operates to place a heavier tax on land itself, while it encourages building. It seems to the writer that this is a commendable practice; and, indeed, as a member of the Maryland Tax Commission some years since, he ventured to recommend to the Legislature that improvements upon landed property be exempted from taxation for a period of three years. New Zealand seems to have moved in this general direction further than any other country, for it has enacted legislation which aims to discourage large holdings and to encourage leases of public lands, rather than purchases, keeping the ownership in the state. The measures which have been adopted in New Zealand cannot be described, but mention may be made of the claim for New Zealand that it alone has not been overwhelmed by the financial and business troubles of the present time. Of course, land reformers attribute this to the legislation with respect to land, but the impartial student will not forget the many other measures which have been adopted in New Zealand to promote the public welfare, such as the nationalization of the railways and government life insurance. However, there would seem to be every reason why our American nations, states and cities should cease to sell the land which they may now happen to own. If they lease their land for limited periods, they can preserve for themselves the unearned increment, or at least a large proportion of it. One can well take the position that in view of the present uncertainty in regard to future policy and the uncertain condition of economic questions it is at least a conservative measure for the people in their organic capacity, or the collectivity, to use a modern expression, to retain landed property, for it is always easy to pass from public to private ownership, if it finally appears desirable, while it is far more difficult to retrace one's steps and to pass from private to public ownership. The city of Savannah, Georgia, offers at least a suggestion. It appears that it has been customary for the city itself to extend its bounds by the purchase of outlying lands by the acre and then divide them up and either sell or lease the lands. There are many of the most desirable lots in Savannah that now pay a ground rent to the city, but as the city did not retain the right to revise these ground rents at intervals it does not receive the growth in increment.

The treasures beneath the surface of the earth have in many lands been regarded as public property. It is an exaggeration of the character of private property in England and America to regard the owner of the surface as the owner of all below the surface to the centre of the earth, and indefinitely upwards into the sky. This exaggeration of private ownership is no essential part of the principle of private property and accomplishes no useful purpose. The treasures beneath the surface of the earth have been created independently of man's action and private property in them is not necessary to encourage production. All measures calculated to give to the public any surplus over normal returns to labor and capital arising from the exploitation of these treasures is commendable. The details of plans to accomplish this end must vary with time and place, and their elaboration requires most careful attention on the part of the best minds. Clearly a great deal of trouble would have been obviated if the anthracite coal supply had always been regarded as public property. It could have been mined on payment of a royalty which would remove any surplus over normal returns to capital and labor, and mining could have been made free to all who would pay the price for the privilege.

Chautauqua, in New York State, well known as an educational centre, is also in many respects a model economic community. It so organizes the various businesses which are conducted on its grounds so that they yield a surplus. But this surplus does not by any means flow into private pockets. Those who have privileges on the grounds pay for them. The land is leased at market prices and those who conduct a business pay for the privilege. It is said that a year or two ago the privilege of selling ice-cream on the grounds was sold for a thousand dollars. Booksellers, bakers, butchers, all pay for their opportunities, and any loss arising from competition in pursuits like the supply of articles which are natural monopolies is avoided by a unified ownership and management. No one has any right to complain, because after paying for his privileges, he still receives normal returns on labor and capital. Did he not do so, he would not, of course, voluntarily make the payment. The mode of management is, however, by skillfully devised taxes and charges to take away all economic surplus, and to use it for the general good—that is to say for the promotion of the vast and beneficent work which Chautauqua is doing, for all the revenues of Chautauqua are used for public purposes.

Only one feature of the real estate market this week is of sufficient importance to call for special comment. That was the auction sale by Geo R Read, of the Huylar estate properties at the Real Estate Exchange on Wednesday. The sale was one of a character too seldom seen in these degenerate days—a positive sale, without reserve or "protection" of any kind, of a large list of properties. It required a better display of confidence in the market and the times to submit such a quantity of property to the uncertain mercies of the auction market than most people would possess. And it is very doubtful if the results will encourage others to follow the example thus set. From the reasonable point of view the sale was a success; it resulted quite as favorably as any one would have been justified to expect. There was no scramble for the properties, but there was a large crowd ready and willing to take everything that was offered at prices which would give the buyers reasonable assurance of profit. As a matter of course the buyers were mostly of the speculative class, a fact which of itself shows that the properties sold were under their normal market values—for these enterprising persons never pay full value for any property. On the other hand the gross results of the sale exceeded the expectations of the parties who ordered it, so that nobody is disappointed. The details of the sale are published elsewhere. For the rest, the market has shown a continuation of the lethargic feeling which has characterized it all the spring. There has been quite a deal of trading and some little buying of investment properties, and some buying of old properties for re-improvement; but the whole volume of consummated business falls very far short of the normal amount at this season.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1893 and 1894.

The auction market this week promises to test severely the strength of recent quotations on upper 5th avenue property. The demand for building sites along the park front that began about three years ago, and has continued fairly active even through the panic and down to the present day, tempted some persons to take speculative chances on some of the corner plots. Leonard Forbes Beckwith was one of the most reckless of that class of operators, and as he is now in an asylum for the insane, the inference is at least not exaggerated that some of his transactions are explainable only upon the presumption that he was already afflicted when they were entered upon. The list of properties belonging to his estate, and that are to be sold on Tuesday, as noted elsewhere, embrace three corner plots of lots and an unfinished mansion on 5th avenue, and an investment property on Manhattan avenue.

First on the catalogue is a plot of four lots on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 81st street, 100 feet square. Mr. Beckwith obtained these lots in a trade with Caleb M. Hillman in June last, giving the four-story dwelling property, No. 39 West 72d street, mortgaged for $45,000, for the lots, which were and are mortgaged for $215,000. Caleb L. Hillman obtained the lots from R. G. Dun a week before upon a nominal consideration. Mr. Beckwith's equity in the 72d street house was at least $25,000 and probably about $10,000 more than that, so that the lots stood him in about $240,000. Adjoining the lots on the south there is a very ordinary four-story and basement brick and brownstone dwelling, the only house on the block front. On the north corner of 81st street a plot of five lots, four on the avenue and one on the street, was purchased by August Belmont in March, 1893, for $275,000. Allowing $35.000 for the street lot would make the cost of both corners equal at $240,000. But the Belmont corner is the better of the two for several reasons: The entire block front to 82d street is vacant; at 82d street there is an entrance to Central Park—at the Museum of Arts, and the lots are on the north side of the street. Still, the property is very choice and if times had continued as generally good as they were even when Mr. Beckwith bought, it would doubtless sell for a profit.

The next plot is at 5th avenue and 102d street, northeast corner, 100.11x100. Here Mr. Beckwith's purchase is inexplicable. He purchased at $85,000, giving back a first mortgage of $42,000 and a second mortgage of $23,000, showing an apparent equity of $20,000. He bought of Teresa Wallach on July 29th last. The property, with eight additional lots adjoining on the street, was sold by the Ottendorfer estate, on Feb. 9th before, to Isaac C. Northshield, for $105,100, and by Northshield transferred to Mrs. Wallach on March 30th, for $1. Assuming the prices stated in the conveyances to be correct, which it is hard to believe, Beckwith paid a ridiculously inflated price for the corner lots. If the twelve cost but $105,100 in February, certainly the four on the corner were not worth more than $65,000 five months later. That would leave the street lots at only $5,000 each, and in this locality there is no such difference between avenue and street lots. At $85.000 for the avenue lots, the eight street lots would stand to cost Mrs. Wallach only $2,500 each—which is hardly conceivable. This part of 5th avenue is practically dead. There is no demand for lots here, except for improvement with second class flats, and for that purpose they must be purchasable at much lower prices than Beckwith apparently paid for this parcel.

Next on the list is a plot of three lots, together 75.8⅜x100, on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 91st street. This is at least five blocks north of the frontier of the so-called millionaire colony and is of problematical value. The Central Park Riding Academy and stable is on the block below (also to be sold during the week) and the Magdalen Asylum is still farther down the avenue in the side streets. Mr. Beckwith bought the three lots of Guggenheimer & Untermyer on April 29, 1893, at $100,000, giving back a first mortgage for $10,000, for three years at 4½ per cent. The records show that Guggenheimer & Untermyer bought the entire block front on the avenue and six lots in the rear, three on 91st street and three on 92d street, on January 9, 1890, for $255,000—probably an exaggerated price. But assuming it to be correct, it shows an apparent increase in the value of the fourteen lots in the three years of about $140,000—which will not be conceded by any broker acquainted with the property.

The next parcel on 5th avenue in this list is the 25-foot lot, 150 feet deep, at No. 933, between 74th and 75th street, with a 10-foot alley to 74th street, at the rear end, and an unfinished four-story and basement granite front dwelling upon it. The house is a peculiar one in many respects. The front wall is a double wall, with an air space between, and some of the partitions are built in the same way. The interior framing is all iron beams, flat floor arches of hollow brick, except the basement floor, which is of segmental brick arches between steel I beams. The partitions are of plaster board, hollow brick, and adamant plaster of wire netting—but the door openings are framed of wood, some of them supporting heavy loads of masonry, and there is a good deal of wood in hollow spaces in the partitions and cornices. The main staircase is constructed entirely of wood. A safe deposit vault, in the cellar, built of brick walls, is reached only through a trap door in the basement hall. In the extension, back of the butler's pantry, a den or office is built, with adjoining closet and hall, which is shut off from the rest of the house, except by way of an outside gallery with stairs to the yard, which has a rear entrance from 74th street. Under this den, in the basement story, is a cold storage room. The house was designed to have an electric passenger elevator, four baths, and every convenience of an up-to-date town house. The plasterers were at work on it when work was suspended in March. None of the wood finish, mantels, floors or other interior equipment are yet in the house except the indirect steam heating plant. Mr. Beckwith bought the lot in May, 1893, for $70,000, from Andrews Soher, giving back a mortgage for $50,000, for three years, at 4½ per cent. Robert L. Darragh was the builder of the house and it is said he has not been paid a dollar on his contracts. Mr. Darragh is now hovering between life and death and will doubtless never do any more business. A lien for $22,000 against this house is one of the assets of his estate; other liens swell the total to $47,000, but several of the sub-contractors have refrained from filing liens because they look upon a recovery as hopeless. It will be observed that Mr. Beckwith's purchases were made in the spring and summer of last year.

Equally interesting and remarkable, but in an entirely different manner, is the list of properties which L. J. Phillips will sell on Thursday next, at the Broadway salesroom, for the estate of Francis W. Lasak, in partition. The remarkable fact about them is that they were all purchased so many years ago and for sums which bear no apparent relation to the present values of the properties.

Taken in their order, the first parcel is a plot of six lots, together 102.2x150, on Columbus avenue, southeast corner of 85th street. Mr. Lasak bought the plot May 6, 1863, for $5,635. At 5 per cent. per annum compounded, this sum would now amount to nearly $26,000. It is safe to say the plot will fetch several times that figure. The second parcel is No. 131 Water street, 20.10x79.10x20.4x83.4, and a five-story brick building, rented at $2,500, to May 1, 1895. It was bought by Francis W. Lasak in June, 1830, for $15,100. Then comes a parcel of four lots, 100x100.5, on the northwest corner of 2d avenue and 52d street, bought in July, 1836, the corner for $3,300, the others for a nominal figure. The fourth parcel is No. 31 Liberty street, 25.6x50.11x25.9x53, an old five-story brick building, with party walls, that has not been conveyed of record since September 28, 1759, when it was purchased by Johan S. Stephany, for £500. It is rented at $2.500 until May 1, 1891. No. 39, in the same street, about 22.6x57, and a little nearer Nassau street, was sold by the city to the Lawyers' Title Insurance Co. in November last, for $110,000, which was practically for the lot alone, the building being worthless.

The third parcel is the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 90th street and the Central Park Riding Academy building thereon, the plot being 100.8½x153.4, with an adjoining plot 76.8x100.8½ fronting on 91st street, 127.9¾ east of the avenue. It is rented to monthly tenants at $100 per month. Mr. Lasak bought the ground on April 9, 1855, for $4,600. Next is a West End avenue lot, 25x100, west side, 75.11 south of 102d street. It was bought January 16, 1860, for $606. Parcel No. 7 is the property No. 19 John street, 23.1½x76.6x22.6x79.11, with a five-story marble front building. Rented until May 1, 1895, at $4,500 per year. It was bought March 5, 1835, at $13,000, without the building, of course. The next parcel is a lot fronting 24.4 on Liberty street, No. 29, and on Maiden lane 25.1, No. 54, with side lines of 100.11 and 105.7, and a five-story commercial building thereon. Mr. Lasak bought the lot July 13, 1825, for $11,000. The last parcel in the city on this interesting list is No. 314 5th avenue, a four-story brownstone dwelling and lot, 24.8¼x100, west side, next south of 32d street. Mr. Lasak bought the lot August 31, 1854, for $24,000. The house is rented at $7,000 a year until May 1, 1896.

A rumor that this sale would be prevented by injunction proceedings is emphatically contradicted by Messrs. L. J. Phillips & Co., the auctioneers, and by Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson, attorneys for the plaintiffs in the partition proceedings.

COMING AUCTION SALES.

Tuesday, May 29th, at the Real Estate Exchange, 59 Liberty street.—Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the valuable piece of improved property, No. 308 West 39th street, lot 25x50x98.9, with a four-story and cellar brick building containing store thereon. The property is 125 feet west of 8th avenue and consequently desirable for investment.

Tuesday, May 29, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.—Richard V. Harnett will preside at the sale made under order of the Supreme Court, of several parcels of very choice improved and unimproved property belonging to the estate of Leonard Forbes Beckwith. These consist of a plot of four lots, 100x100 feet, on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 81st street; a plot of four lots, 100.11x100, on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 102d street; a plot of three lots, 75x8⅜x100 feet, on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 91st street; a three-story, high stoop, brick dwelling, No. 127 Manhattan avenue, between 105th and 106th streets, and No. 933 5th avenue, a magnificent four-story, high stoop, granite dwelling, with two-story and one-story extensions, 25x150 feet, situated between 74th and 75th streets, and opposite Central Park. The amount and choiceness of the property included in the bill is likely to make this one of the most memorable auction sales of the season.

Decoration Day, Wednesday, May 30th, on the premises, Smyth & Ryan will sell eighty choice lots and six well-built modern cottages adjoining the Morris Park Race Track. Weather will not interfere with the sale. Liberal terms are offered to buyers.

Decoration Day, Wednesday, May 30th.—There has been a large inquiry for maps of the 293 lots at Highwood Park, which James L. Wells will sell on the grounds and described in this column last week. A big tent has been provided so that the sale can take place irrespective of the weather. The property adjoins Eldorado Station, Weehawken Heights, N J, and is directly opposite 42d street ferry. Besides this accessibility to New York these lots have many advantages in point of prospect, suitability for home sites, covenants against nuisances, etc., which explain the demand there has been for maps and other particulars.

Decoration Day, Wednesday, May 30th, at 2 o'clock.—On the grounds, at Stillwell avenue and Kings Highway, Brooklyn, 31st Ward, adjoining Bensonhurst—Jere. Johnson, Jr., will officiate as auctioneer, at the sale of 250 lots in this thriving section. Music and luncheon will precede the sale at 1 o'clock. The property may be reached from New York and Brooklyn via the trolley line from the 39th street ferry; the Brooklyn, Bath & West End Railroad from the 5th avenue and 36th street Union Station, or the 39th street ferry, and by the Sea Beach Railroad, from foot of Whitehall street, New York, or 65th street and 3d avenue, Brooklyn. The auctioneers will give free passes to and from the place of sale—but fare by the trolley roads is only five cents.

Next Wednesday, Decoration Day—Messrs. H. C. Mapes & Co. will sell at auction on the premises, at 1 o'clock, 170 lots, a portion of the Seton Homestead, at Westchester Village. These lots are easily and cheaply reached and the great demand for maps speaks well for the prospects of the coming sale. The signing of the Butts bill providing for one fare for a continous ride across the Harlem will encourage investments and advance prices of property beyond the Harlem and throughout Westchester County.

Next Thursday, May 31st, Messrs. L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell by order of the Supreme Court, the Lazak estate properties, embracing in all twenty vacant lots, six parcels of improved property, and an elegant country place. In the way of improved property the choice parcels No. 131 Water street; No. 19 John street; No. 54 Maiden lane, running through to and embracing No. 29 Liberty street, and the adjoining building No. 31 Liberty street are included, all five-story business buildings. There is also a four-story stone front dwelling on 5th avenue, No. 314, adjoining the corner of 32d street, with lot 24.8¼x100 feet. The lots are also choice and in improving sections. Six are on the southeast corner of Columbus (9th) avenue and 85th street, four on the avenue and two on the street; one is on the west side of West End avenue, 75.11 south of 102d street; four on the northwest corner of 2d avenue and 52d street; six on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 90th street, and three are in the rear on 91st street. On the 5th avenue and 90th street lots there is a riding academy, and on the 91st street lots a three-story brick stable. The country place is near Broadway, between Dobb's Ferry and Irvington stations, and embraces about fifteen acres of land with large dwelling, cottage and barn, and known as the Lazak place. This sale promises to attract a large number of buyers to the salesroom at No. 111 Broadway, embracing as it does many pieces of choice improved and unimproved realty. The auctioneers, L. J. Phillips & Co., report a large demand for book-maps descriptive of the properties, and such may be had at both offices of Messrs. Phillips, at 149 Broadway, and corner of Columbus avenue and 72d street, or from the plaintiffs' attorneys. Messrs. Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson, 22 William street, and the defendant's attorneys, Calvin Frost, Esq., 120 Broadway, and Chas. F. MacLean, Esq., 20 Nassau street.

On the same day, at the same salesroom, Messrs. L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell seven fine lots on West 88th street; six are on the south side, between Central Park West and Columbus avenue, and one on the north side, between Amsterdam avenue and the Boulevard. The six lots, although on a restricted block, may be improved with flats or apartment houses, and offer an excellent opportunity to secure a handsome well-located plot. Further particulars may be obtained from the auctioneers, L. J. Phillips & Co., at No. 149 Broadway.

Wednesday, June 6th.—Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell, by order of the executors and heirs the valuable business buildings, No. 10 Bond street, No. 165 Spring street, on the northwest corner of South 5th avenue, 167 Spring street and 219 East 48th street, a three-story brick and brownstone dwelling.

H. C. Mapes & Co. held a fairly successful land sale in Westchester last Saturday despite the storm. Forty-three of the Haights estate lots were sold for an average price of $290. Lots on Pelham road brought from $325 to $460 each, the latter for a corner. Edison avenue lots brought $165 apiece.

Broker John P. Windolph, of 62 Liberty street, has customers who will pay moderate prices for centrally-located improved properties.

The will of Henry Clausen, Jr., is being contested by the son whom he cut off with a life interest in $20,000. It is generally believed that this will require the postponement for an indefinite period of the sale in partition of the New York Hotel property, on Broadway, between Washington and Waverley place, which was jointly owned by Mr. Clausen and School Commissioner Guggenheimer. The property was purchased May 1, last year, for $1,300,000, since which the buildings have all been removed. The New York Life Insurance and Trust Co. has a mortgage of $900,000 on the property at 4½ per cent. It is said that Architect George B. Post drew the plans last year for an imposing fire-proof structure to be built on this site, and that the Mutual Life Insurance Co. agreed to make a loan of $1,800,000 on the property if so improved, but the plan has fallen through.

Messrs. Collins & Collins, real estate brokers, are young men who are determined to take a place among the leaders in their line. They commenced right by securing an excellent location at No. 566 5th avenue, opposite the Windsor Hotel, where they purchased a dwelling house and altered it for business and office uses, they themselves occupying the ground floor, which they have fitted up in a very attractive manner. Richard and Minturn Post Collins constitute the firm and both are young men of attractive personality and they are well and favorably known. Another brother, Mr. S. W. Collins, is the well-known real estate lawyer, of No. 69 Wall street. The firm make a specialty of handling realty between 34th and 59th streets, 4th and 6th avenues, and from 59th to 80th streets, between Park and 5th avenues. They have a number of desirable properties for sale and to rent and are continually adding to their facilities for the prompt and satisfactory dispatch of business intrusted to them. Mr. Minturn Post Collins is a member of the Real Estate Exchange.

Theo. K. Wilmerding, of Wilmerding & Field, has arranged to sail to-day on La Touraine for a two months' sojourn in Europe.

Out of Town.

NEWARK, N. J.—Brown & Schlesinger have sold for Franklin M Olds, Esq., the property on Harrison avenue, near 1st street, Harrison, to Simon Scheuer, and for Joseph S. Mead, of Brooklyn, the vacant plot of land on Sherman avenue, north of Vanderpool street, to Lewis Parker, who will improve it by erecting two dwellings. They have also sold for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. the vacant plot, 84x200, on High street, near St. Barnabas Hospital, for $11,000, to L. Sternberg & Co., who may erect two handsome dwellings thereon.

Worth Knowing.

The success of the New York Security and Trust Co., of No. 46 Wall street, a comparatively new institution, is easily understood after a perusal of the names of its officers and trustees. Beginning with the President, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Fairchild, all are able men, well qualified by experience and business training to manage such an important company, the capital of which is one million dollars and the surplus a like amount, while the deposits aggregate over seven million dollars. This company is authorized to act as executor, trustee, administrator, guardian, agent and receiver. Is a legal depository for court and trust funds and will take entire charge of real and personal estates, collecting the rents and income, attending to the payment of taxes and all such details in connection therewith as an individual in like capacity could do. Mr. Abram M. Hyatt, the secretary, was for years with the United States Trust Co., in charge of the real estate in the care of that company. His experience there well fits him for managing and caring for all realty placed with the New York Security and Trust Co. Mr. Wm. L. Strong is First Vice-President, Mr. John L. Lamson is Second Vice-President and Mr. Zelah Van Loan, Assistant Secretary. The Board of Trustees includes such men as Charles S. Fairchild, Wm. L. Strong, Wm H. Appleton, H. Walter Webb, B. Aymar Sands, James Stillman, Edward Uhl, Frederic R. Coudert, John A. McCall, M. C. D. Borden, J. G. McCullough, James J. Hill, Wm. F. Buckley, Stuart G. Nelson, Hudson Hoagland, Wm. A. Booth, Edward N. Gibbs, John W. Sterling and James A. Blair. It should be added that the company receives deposits subject to sight drafts, allowing interest on daily allowances.

Mr. F. S. Hutchinson, so long and so favorably known as a manufacturer of dumb-waiters, together with Messrs. I. C. and T. D. O'Connor, have lately organized the F. S. Hutchinson Co. This company, of which Mr. Hutchinson becomes the president, and the Messrs. O'Connor, treasurer and secretary, respectively, succeeds to the old firm, of late years located at Long Island City. The new concern, however, has taken offices in the Aldrich Building, No. 32 Warren street, corner Church, this city, and established their factory in Brooklyn. With ample facilities at command, the Hutchinson Company starts out in every way well equipped for business. The manufacture of the well-known "Paragon" dumb-waiter, now regarded as a standard apparatus, its many excellent points in construction, including its ability to automatically hold the car stationary at any point, favorably recommend it, will, together with hand and belt power elevators, constitute the principle features of production.

About Our Silver Anniversary Number.

The quarter century mark is one worthy of note and the passing of that point in the life of our well-known and enterprising contemporary, THE RECORD AND GUIDE, of New York, is celebrated by the issue of an elegant anniversary number. New Yorkers will look over its pages with much interest, as it gives a careful historical review of the last twenty-five years of the city's growth, and has presented in its pages many of the old and prominent buildings. One view presented is of the old Loew bridge crossing Broadway at Fulton street. Many will remember this short-lived structure, others can imagine what Broadway was in those days that such a device was deemed necessary. When it was built three lines of stages afforded the only public conveyance on this avenue and it was like taking one's life in one's hand to cross at this point. The bridge, however, was a failure so far as practical use was concerned and came to be almost exclusively a resort for sightseers. The view of Printing House Square in 1868 shows a point that has undergone an almost complete renovation during the last twenty-five years, with the tall newspaper buildings built on the sites of their old offices, and looks as though the years must have been profitable ones for the papers about the square. A careful review is given of real estate operations during the quarter of a century. Many things have occurred to make this a notable period. During the time rapid transit by the elevated roads has come into existence and has been found a factor which has produced most marked changes in values. The new Real Estate Exchange has been erected and been the scene of great activity. Tables are given showing the number of conveyances, considerations and average cost per sale for each year of the period. Portraits of many prominent real estate dealers are shown. Views are given of a large number of late buildings, showing the progress that has been made in modern building, representing many of the lofty structures which have lately been erected or are being erected by our wealthy corporations. This number deserves a place in the library as a historical sketch of the most active period of New York's growth, and speaks well for the enterprise of the publishers and the public spirit of our real estate operators in encouraging and supporting so able a class journal.—Architecture and Building.

The quarter of a century anniversary number of the REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE is a beautifully executed volume showing the development of New York City and the progress in its architecture during the period named. The splendid half-tone prints of the more important buildings in this city will be of interest to all classes, while real estate men will highly prize the biographies and portraits of prominent men in their line. Views of some of the now vanished buildings of days gone by are given and accentuate the magnificence of the new edifices.—Dry Goods Economist.

NEW YORK, May 23, 1894.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

You are certainly entitled to many compliments for the very beautiful anniversary number of THE RECORD AND GUIDE. It certainly was very complete, and in years to come it can be safely referred to as an authentic statement of Architectural and Real Estate matters of the present day.

I am very grateful indeed for the kind and favorable mention of the works I have been connected with. Although Mr. Schuyler does not agree with us altogether in the treatment of our last work, the Manhattan Life Building, yet he must admit that architects must conform to the conditions imposed. We do not wish to be understood as saying that no architects could do better or as well. What we have done must stand to our credit or discredit, just as people will look at it.

I am surprised that he should think so well of the Monadnock Building in Chicago. It may look all right where it is, but how would it look here on Broadway? It does not suffer there by comparison, but I am thinking that in New York, Boston or Philadelphia it would be called ugly if put in the midst of buildings considered here as good, more particularly those showing a little attempt at richness of detail. However, we cannot expect everybody to think alike in matters of art. We all try to do the best we can, but we must admit that we feel our weakness and wish we could take it all back and try it over again.

Again thanking you, I remain. F. H. KIMBALL.

Building Trades' Exchange.

The executive committee of the newly organized Exchange held its meeting at the Building Trades' Club on Friday afternoon, the 18th inst.

Mr. Warren A. Conover, the chairman, presided, with a full attendance of the members of the committee.

Considerable routine business was transacted, including the unanimous adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That for the purpose of providing for the incidental expenses, which will necessarily occur during the progress of the initial work, it is requested that each subscriber forward to the Secretary the sum of $25, which sum will be placed to the credit of each contributor and is to be deducted from the sum to be called for at the time of payment of the regular subscription of $1,000."

The Sub-Committee on Site already have a number of eligible locations under consideration which have been submitted to them. The policy of this committee is to only entertain such propositions as are made to them in writing, and under no circumstance give publicity to their deliberations.

The question of the plan and scope of the building is receiving considerable attention as it is contemplated to erect one that will be entirely unique in character, and at the same time fully tipify the building industry it is to represent.

Building News.

One of the curious things found in excavating for a new building in 23d and 24th streets just west of 6th avenue, was a bed of peat. Jere. F. Smith, who has known the district since it was virgin soil, was unable to account for it. Mr. Smith built Booth's Theatre on the southeast corner of 6th avenue and 23d street twenty-seven years ago, and at that time went down twenty-five feet with his excavation, but found nothing to resemble peat there. In the trenches he is now filling he has found blue sandy clay impregnated with boulders and with hidden springs. A thick bed of concrete and deep concrete bases for piers will put an end to the springs, which will have to break out somewhere else.

* * * *

Among the curiosities of building construction found in the Banks Bros', building on Nassau street, torn down to make way for the American Tract Society's sky-scraper, was a cast-iron "⊥" girder 22 feet long, sprung about 14 inches and having two 2-inch square wrought-iron tie rods. Needless to say it showed no signs of wear. In these days a riveted steel plate girder would be used in its place, at perhaps one-fifth of the cost of the old-fashioned cast girder and not more than half the weight.

Out Among the Builders.

Renwick, Aspinwall & Renwick, 367 5th avenue, are the architects for a six-story brick and stone bachelor apartment house, to be erected for R. J. Blake, 623 Columbus avenue. The building will cost about $50,000 and have all modern improvements.

Edwin Judson, 22 West 99th street, has drawn plans for a seven-story brick warehouse, to be erected for himself. The specifications call for tin roofing, steam heating, structural and architectural ironwork, concrete and pine floors, fire-proof material, plate glass, metal skylights and all improvements. Estimated cost, $32,000.

It is reported that John J. Blair, of Blairstown, Pa., will build a costly town house on the plot, 45x100, on the north side of 61st street, between 5th and Madison avenues, just purchased of W. BayardCutting.

John Brisbin Walker, editor and proprietor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine, 110 West 11th street, has had plans prepared by McKim, Mead & White, 160 5th avenue, for a printing plant to be erected at Irvington-on-the-Hudson. The building will be 76x279 feet, three stories high and built of brick and stucco. The specifications call for tin roof, gas and electric lighting, steam heat and all improvements. No contracts have been let. Address the owner.

An important building, to be built in the not distant future, is a new Y. M. C. A. building, on a plot 75x200, on 56th and 57th streets, 200 feet west of 8th avenue. A building and institution of this character ought to have a salutary influence upon the character of the entire neighborhood, which has been sadly degenerating of late.

Neville & Bagge are making plans for four five-story double flats, to be built by Wm. H. Hall, Jr., two each on 102d and 103d streets, 50 feet west of Manhattan avenue. These houses will stand back to back and be identical with the four erected on adjoining lots, from the same architect's plans, by Frederick Hack. The 103d street houses will be 25x85.6 and cost $20,000 each, and those on 102d street 25x77 feet and cost $17,000 each. The fronts will be of brick and stone and the apartments will contain all improvements, with heating confined to the first floor hall and bath-rooms. The same firm has plans for improving the corner of 118th street and Lenox avenue, prepared for McNeice & Lind, who will erect thereon two five-story apartment houses, having stone and brick fronts, open plumbing, steam heating, electric appliances. The corner house will have a frontage of 40.11 feet on the avenue and 71 feet on the street, two families on a floor, each apartment containing seven rooms and bath, and the inside one 40 feet front on the avenue and a depth of 65 feet, two families on a floor, the apartments containing six rooms and bath. In other respects the houses correspond in their details. Henry Anderson is reported to have also submitted a design for the improvement of this plot.

It is reported that Jacob Hirsn will build a seven-story business building in West 23d street, at Nos. 244 and 246. Particulars could not be ascertained.

John T. Williams will build a nine-story, fire-proof mercantile building on the two lots, Nos. 3 and 5 Waverley place, north side, west of Broadway, from plans which will be prepared under his own supervision. Mr. Williams will also build a nine-story, instead of a seven-story fire-proof building, at Broome and Mercer streets, for tenants who have taken it from the plans.

Builders Dawson & Archer, of No. 24 East 42d street, will improve two lots, one on the east side of Madison avenue, 75 feet north of 71st street, and another on the south side of 72d street, connecting in the rear with the avenue lot, by erecting two first-class private houses.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, MAY 26, 1894.

Purchasing a Home.

THERE are many mysteries in and around the real estate business, mysteries that even a long experience in buying and selling houses and lots and other properties does not render one competent to solve, and one of the most inscrutable of these mysteries is the motive that prompts some persons in their purchase of homes. The conditions of life in this country make this a much more common event than it was ever known to be in other countries, but it has not yet become a commonplace matter even here, or one which can be treated by most folks with slight consideration. By co-operative effort, through some one of the extensive system of building and loan associations that has been established during the last ten years almost any industrious and provident man may become the owner of a home of at least as many attractions and comforts as he could afford to rent. The system is in apparently prosperous operation in and around New York, and the fact has indirectly given us more manifestations of the mystery referred to than had previously been observed. When a prudent man goes about to find a home with design to purchase it and make it his own, he acknowledges a few important principles to which he endeavors to conform in making his selection. First of all, with regard to the neighborhood, he will avoid all that are not thrifty, flourishing and prosperous; for he does not want to invest his money in a property that will be difficult to sell for as much as he gave for it at any future time. He knows that the general tendency is toward higher values, and that if he is wise in his selection the property he purchases will not only furnish him a home, but will increase in value by at least the legal rate of interest every year, and often by several times that percentage. Accordingly he selects a town or locality in which there is already a settled population and an increasing immigration, for the value of real estate depends upon the number of people who want it. The town or neighborhood once settled to his satisfaction, he chooses his house with relation to its own immediate surroundings, being careful to avoid contiguity to gin-mills, slaughter-houses, cow-sheds, offensive factories, stables, rookeries or buildings of any kind that are degenerating. Other and sometimes special considerations may have some weight with him, but unless the house is well located with respect to the foregoing a prudent man will avoid it, for he knows that if he should once get it on his hands he would find great difficulty in ever disposing of it afterwards, and would have frequent occasion to regret his foolishness in making such an investment of his money.

But the instances have been many in recent years where men have disregarded completely every element of prudence in the purchase of homes for themselves and their families. The most numerous are the cases where men have been carried away by the persuasive eloquence of the suburban lot speculator. These gentry understand perfectly how to play upon the weaknesses of the modest home-seeker. They take a piece of country property, generally of some pretension to scenic beauty, cut it up into building lots and blocks, give it and its streets and avenues high-sounding and romantic names, arrange for a temporary station with the railroad company, advertise free trains, offer liberal commissions to touters and wait for the gudgeons to come and be caught. The bright aspect of innocent nature is usually alone sufficiently seductive to the dweller in the hard and forbidding tenement districts of the city and he falls an easy prey to the suburban lot sharper. Only after the boom has passed by and the sharper moved to other fields does the victim find that he has paid as much for his lot as he could have bought by the acre just adjoining; that the promise of improvements is worthless, that the railroad station is gone and that the only available use he can make of the lot is to set it apart for a private cemetery and grasshopper ranch. There are dead town sites of this character all around this city and New York, and notably in New Jersey, where lots can be bought of the dupes who invested in the above-mentioned way at a fourth of the prices they paid for them. Usually it is the "German Parks" and "Riccfield Manors" and "Neverrest-on-the-Hilltops" class of places, without local government, or sewers, or water or pavements, or street lights, or schools, or stores, or churches, or any of the commonest evidences of communal organization, that cut the most spectacular capers in advertising, and that have the least to recommend them. Instances are many where men have paid as high prices for lots in such paper towns as they would have had to pay in the new building sections of Brooklyn or New York. Nothing that has been said is intended to in the least disparage the many thrifty settlements that surround the metropolitan district like a cordon of beauty and peace, full of promise of continued growth and prosperity. They are related to the great centre of population as the twigs and branches of a tree are related to its trunk, and will continue to flourish with the tree of which they are part.

In New York and Brooklyn there are still thousands of home-sites, in great variety of scenic aspect and of price, from which the home-seeker could make a wiser selection than would be likely or even possible in the suburbs; but even in these cities the grossest blunders are sometimes made. Relatively poor men, with only the simplest of ideas about the value of real property, will not hesitate so much over the burial of their life-long savings in a property that is absolutely dead as they will over the purchase of a new frock for the wife or a pair of shoes for the baby. Such a man does not appear to realize that the tendency of a neighborhood or the age of a house has anything to do with its present value when he begins to think of purchasing. In this city particularly there are several such neighborhoods, where the houses are half a century old, without the accessories of modern housekeeping, that are costing more and more for repairs and maintenance every month while the income from rents is steadily decreasing, and where the neighborhood has not only ceased to improve but has gone into a decline, from which it will only emerge after an extensive and expensive transformation. The lots are worth no more than they were twenty-five years ago, if as much, and the house has certainly lost over half its original value. Yet cases are within our knowledge where men have contracted for the purchase of such properties at prices which would have produced a new property of modern equipment and larger capacity just as eligibly situated in the same block. These are cases where clearly the part of friendship would be to warn the man against himself and to show him wherein he is making a grievous mistake, a blunder which he would never cease to regret. The caution cannot be too often repeated, that no man not an expert in real estate values should undertake to buy a piece of property without first advising with a responsible and competent agent or broker—not merely looking over a broker's list of properties for sale and making a blind selection, but requiring good and sufficient reasons for and against the purchase of properties, reasons that will appear satisfactory to the judgment of a reasonable mind. Not every man who calls himself a real estate broker or agent is competent to give such advice, or would be entirely disinterested in it when asked for, but nobody need make any mistake in the man he engages in consultation if he will exercise only ordinary prudence.

THE records of plans filed in the building department since the opening of the building season do not fairly or truthfully indicate the extent of the building operations in progress in Brooklyn at the present time. During the first half of last year the number of plans filed was larger than for any similar period before. All classes of buildings were embraced in the filings, but the larger number was of small and moderate-priced residences of the kinds that are characteristic of the frontier sections of the city—two and three-story brick and frame houses with brick basements and cellars, some of them finished for single families, but most of them for two families. The financial panic that fell upon the country at midsummer put an abrupt stop to the building operations planned for and nothing was done throughout the remainder of the year. Then winter came on and put its embargo on construction work and nothing could be done until spring. But spring did not bring the improved conditions that were looked for in the money markets, at least not until late, and those who would have proceeded with their building could not, for lack of the financial accommodations without which there is but little building done either in Brooklyn or elsewhere. But as time wore on financial conditions began to improve and builders found it not quite so difficult to secure loans for building purposes. The wheels of industry began again to revolve and now they are in fairly rapid revolution. The operations that were suspended during the financial stringency are being completed, and many of the operations planned for and not begun before the panic are now under way. Building is in progress in all parts of the city, but particularly in the districts that have been made available for settlement by new transit lines during the last two or three years. It may, and doubtless will be some months yet before these renewed operations will be supplemented by a renewal of activity in the brokerage branch of real estate industry, but from the present outlook Brooklyn will have a supply of goods on hand when the revival comes, and where the goods are there will be the market.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

The franchise of the ferry from the foot of East 23d street, New York, to Broadway, this city, for a term of ten years from the first of the present month, was sold on Monday to the New York and Brooklyn Ferry Company, the present lessees, at the upset price of $13,417 per annum, payable quarterly in advance.

The local Board of Education of Jamaica has asked the taxpayers for an appropriation of $100,000 to build new school houses. It is proposed to erect a central high school and a primary school in each end of the village. New buildings are needed to take the place of the old building on Harriman avenue. This latter building has long been unfit for school purposes. A number of local builders have pronounced it unsafe and in danger of falling.

* * * *

At the last meeting of the Board of Education the sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Weir, McNamee and Culyer, reported as a result of their visit to the new wards that they find the Board will have to proceed very cautiously, for the reason that in three instances there are important contracts in the way for the several districts, as by the annexation law are made specially responsible. One of these is the Coney Island school, which is to cost in the neighborhood of $40,000. Another is a frame building at South Gravesend, near Bensonhurst, and the other is an addition to the school in Windsor Terrace. The sub-committee further reported it had not got together all the figures necessary to make an estimate of the amount of money needed to carry on the schools in the new wards for the coming year. They have decided, however, that $10,000 will be necessary for repairs and furnishings. In some of the schools the furnishing is of the most primitive character.

* * * *

The property-owners who protested against the erection of a new public school building at the corner of Amity and Clinton streets, as proposed by the Board of Education, have won their point. There will be no school building on that plot. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Committee on Sites and the local committee of Public School No. 78, on Pacific street, at the Board rooms, on Thursday evening last. The property-owners, including Ralph L. Cutter and H. Boyd, were present at the meeting. It was shown that the erection of a school building at that point would depreciate property values and thereby lessen the income of the city from taxes. There is also a restriction on the title of the lot, which is now owned by St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, that no public building shall be erected thereon.

* * * *

At the Mayor's Cabinet meeting on Thursday, the east side lands matter was discussed, owing to the failure of Registrar of Arrears Hinrichs, at his sale of property in arrears for taxes and assessments on Wednesday, to get bids upon ten parcels of the lands which he offered. The Mayor said after the meeting that there is an erroneous impression abroad that the title to those lands is clouded. Such is not the fact. The title is all right. The Court of Appeals has so decided, and the Title Guarantee Company is willing to guarantee titles to lots for a certain consideration. We want, however, to disabuse people of the idea that the title to the property is defective. No suit will be necessary.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—All hands quite frankly admit the absence of any improvement in the general character of the market for Common Hards during the week. The protracted spell of inclement weather was in itself a sufficient adverse factor to materially curtail consumption for the time being, but in addition the jobs ready for work are fewer and quite backward this spring with contractors and dealers feeling no apprehension about the immediate future and refusing to invest in anticipation of their wants. Meanwhile stock has come along at a great deal livelier rate than required, and it is said that twenty-five or thirty loads could have been obtained at almost any time if called for. Quality might on the average be called fair, the arrivals being mainly old make and few really new lots putting in an appearance from any point along the Hudson. In the matter of prices it is still admissible to quote $5, and even possible that a small fraction more might be obtained from custom insisting upon having some one particular make, but the greater portion of business is done at $4.50@4.75, and not many Jerseys will reach $4.50. Pales plenty and dull and hardly salable above $1.50@75c. per M. Contrary tohopes entertained only a portion of the striking laborers returned to work at the commencement of the week, and the men who still remain out, made desperate by their poor success, manifest quite an ugly mood. Where work is in progress the tendency has been to keep matters moving right along to as full an extent as possible, but this week's rains have been detrimental, and their effect will probably be seen later on in a great many washed brick.

LATH.—Some dealers who were a little skeptical last week over the claims of moderate quantities of stock coming have a sort of "didn't I tell you so" expression when referring to the pretty liberal supply that has actually arrived. It is, however, only fair to state that the prolonged east wind is to a large extent responsible for the full amount of stock at hand, and some cargoes have been reported here before the consignees knew they had started. The effect upon price was depressing, and the rate went off to $2, with the exception of a fraction more on some small lots, but at that concession custom was secured, with about everything now sold out, and considering the conditions the market has encountered it has done very well. Quite a large proportion of the sales were to out-of-town custom.

LIME.—Some odd lots of custom can be picked up from day to day as urgent wants may happen to arise, but there is no general demand and the market presents very much the old stupid tone. Values are no lower, nor have they gained strength, with poor chance for such consummation until regular and natural trade becomes much fuller. It is said that shipments have ceased at the eastward and ruling low rates serve to materially curtail the movement from other sources.

LUMBER.—Conditions grow no worse for any diversion of trade, and a little gain here and there verifies previous suggestions that the natural tendency of the market is to gain somewhat. Within the city limits proper the building operations under way or planned to commence during summer and fall, continue very largely of the fire-proof character, that will contribute nothing to the consumption of wood until the period for flooring and trimming is reached, but in the suburban localities where frame structures are more common, the handling of stuff suited to that line of consumption is increasing somewhat. The retailer still naturally and consistently endeavors to get along with the supply on hand in se ving the current run of custom, but the policy has been so long adhered to that many are getting down to badly broken assortments and it is difficult to understand how they can much longer refuse to enter upon negotiations for renewals, if only for small lots to carry them along until it becomes necessary to prepare for winter accumulations.

Nevertheless it would probably be as well not to consider this market a promising field as yet for the placing of a good string of orders of even small calibre. The ground has been canvassed thoroughly and repeatedly by resident and traveling salesmen, who not only secured whatever waiting demand that might at the time exist, but have in a large number of cases fortified themselves against new wants of customers by securing promises that they shall be duly notified when a renewal of negotiations are contemplated, and some have indeed made provisional contracts to forestall fresh offerings. Still there is one "if" to the situation in conjunction with the chances of general revival of business confidence—an event that could hardly fail to reflect prompt and beneficial influence upon the entire lumber trade. In the latest revision of tariff schedule reported no further changes were made in lumber schedule, but as frequently noted the trade here hold to the idea that the consumer will get no benefit from tariff reduction and it is matter hardly worth discussing.

White Pine remains in much the former general conditions. Some stock is going abroad on old orders, the shipments to West Indies this month having proven particularly good; the consumption by boxmakers is probably as liberal as at any time for several weeks past, a little flooring is wanted all the while and there is some consumption for trim. Dealers appear quite able to meet the calls made upon them, however, and where they enter into treaty against future wants show inclination to stand for every advantage likely to be accorded.

Yellow Pine meets with about the old form of irregular attention and the market is quite unsatisfactory. Even the demand for ties, upon which many specialists in that line had depended upon to last all summer, commences to abate somewhat and there are also fewer orders than expected for export direct from the South. Carolina Pine retains about former average attention from local custom and the country trade is very fair, but offerings are fully equal to all calls now making and sellers manage to give desirable custom a pretty good measure of advantage.

Hemlock appears much the same as of late advised. Offerings are very well managed, and the market kept from burden of surplus stock while at the reduced valuation noted some time ago sellers remain steady. Local demand, however, is moderate and uncertain, and a large proportion of business now secured comes from outside sources. The disastrous floods in Pennsylvania may prove a matter of considerable moment to the hemlock market. Reports at hand indicate a heavy loss of logs which if confirmed would naturally reduce supplies of lumber during the balance of season, and although buyers do not as yet respond to the apparent stimulating influence sellers generally incline to a former position and the current offerings are of a more indifferent character than for some time past.

Spruce is quite irregular. Since opening of month quite an amount of stock has slipped in from the Eastward, some of it on orders and some random seeking an outlet. The latter offerings meet with various sorts of reception, a portion selling pretty low, and other cargoes commanding comparatively full rates, but on the whole the results have averaged a trifle better than expected. The market, however, is not to be depended upon as a source of much demand and the expressed determination of mill men to make small shipments and buy no new logs until they have booked counter-balancing orders. Supplies from other localities are offered with greater care and moderation than heretofore and rule steady in matter of valuation.

Hardwoods are only moderately active now, but have a good general prospect for the future. To commence with the local accumulation of staple qualities is small and broken in a great many instances and that makes provision for a demand to fill out assortments, while in addition there is constant verification of the idea that current building operations will sooner or later prove great contributors to the consumption of hardwoods. Choice quartered oak is sure to do well, and there is a reiteration of the claims in favor of red birch to which we have before called attention. Opinions differ in regard to cypress and some usually clear-headed operators, while not inclined to really decry the wood, insist that it has found all the boom likely for the present. The sale of poplar goes on in about the usual irregular manner as pretty much all buyers have to be waited upon to secure their orders, and many are not ready to negotiate when the call is made, while in the matter of price an easy basis is retained as a necessary factor to perfect business.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

Though the lumber business, in all its branches, shares in the general stagnation, it continues to be of considerable volume and, in places and some features, is showing improvement. For instance, in this market, there is sufficient distribution to induce some life in the cargo market. Within the week there have been several arrivals of large tows from Lake Superior which, with the daily offerings from ports on Lake Michigan have made a market of fair magnitude. Buyers among the yard dealers have taken hold with increased freedom, and it has not been difficult to work off the fleets that have arrived. When it is considered that the yard dealers are buying only to fill up the gaps in their stocks in order to be provided for their current trade, and not at all for stocks to be held for trade very far in the future, it is evident that there is still a demand which is absorbing a good deal of product. Besides there lately have been a number of mill cut and block sales indicating that several dealers are willing to take their chances for the future. The truth is being forced on the minds of dealers that there is a demand to be provided for, despite the general depression, and that, since the supply of Northern pine will not be as large this year as in former seasons, bed rock in values must now have been about reached. There is a difference of opinion on this question, but there is a considerable number who believe that the market will not much further decline. The Western dealers seem more willing to venture in buying than the dealers of the East, who are still hanging back about making large purchases.

A Menominee lumberman says that every log floating in the Menominee River is worth, based on actual cost, $8 a thousand at the mill. To this must be added the cost of sawing and handling. Piece stuff is selling at the mills at $8 a thousand, which leaves the manufacturer in debt so far as piece stuff logs are concerned. But all logs are not cut into piece stuff, and those which can be converted into good common and better do not cost any more to get them to the mill than do those which are converted into piece stuff. Besides, many logs, after the sides have been cut into inch lumber or thick factory stuff, are converted into piece stuff. The mill man yet has a loop-hole out of his eight-dollar predicament.

At Chicago, the demand for cargoes has apparently improved. Though there have been a considerable number of loads on the market during the week, and one tow of boats, with about 2,700,000 feet on board, and another cargo of 1,000,000 feet or more from Lake Superior, the lumber has all been worked off without much delay. There has been no reportable change in prices, so that the comparatively easy disposition of lumber is a favorable feature of the condition. The majority of the inch lumber arriving is dry stock carried over from last fall. Much of the piece stuff coming from Lake Superior is also from the cross piles. The fact that cargoes of 600,000 to 1,000,000 feet can so readily be worked off shows that the market still has capacity to take in a large amount of lumber.

Piece stuff is still selling at $9 a thousand for short, green, $9.50 to $10 for dry, according to the tally, and $11 to $11.50 for ordinary long, wide stuff. Inch lumber is selling at about quoted figures.

The following items are from Mississippi Valley Lumberman:

The past week has been a wet one on the upper Mississippi. The rains of the early spring had filled the river and its tributaries until it seemed as though they would not hold any more water, but the rains of the past ten days have raised the water to a point higher than it has been before this spring. Booms all along the up river country have been threatened, and it is a matter of surprise that more damage has not occurred. The drives on the streams have been moving along fully as well as could be expected, and, in fact, are in better shape than ever before. There has been some trouble on the lakes, resulting from strong head winds, and several booms have suffered.

The drives are all booming under the influence of the high water.

The heavy rains that has been prevalent all over the northwest for several days the first of this week, did an immense amount of damage to property in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Rivers and streams were turned into raging torrents, and dams and booms were torn out and swept away like straws before the awful pressure of the water. The loss to saw mills, saw mill property, booms, logs, etc., was the greatest, and although at this writing it is not possible to give accurate reports of the damage done, it has been considerable. The scattering of the drives in many instances will undoubtedly cause delay and loss, and the closing of mills in some cases for want of logs.

When the public taste shall have gone back again toward black walnut, and it is found that there is not enough of this wood to satisfy the demand, then the Southern gum wood is likely to have its innings. There is a fault with this wood as with birch, in that the outer white ring of the log is too large a percentage of the total. But well selected dark gum, or satin walnut, as the English call it, is really a beautiful furniture wood, if allowed to show its natural colors.

METALS—COPPER.—Ingot, since the writing of last report has been irregular, but the outcome was the evidence of a want of natural strength. Sellers raised the asking limit in several instances, but generally found that before they could secure custom an easing off in price had to be made. On the average range of valuation we quote at 9⅜@9½c. for Lake and 9@9¼c. for casting brands. Manufactured copper meets with an erratic demand, sometimes very fair, and again slow, and on the whole not up to a seasonable average. Manufacturers, however, are fairly well gauging the output to wants of the market, and report their ability to hold prices about steady. We quote as follows: Sheet, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 15c.; do. 12 to 14 oz., 16c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 17c.; do, 8 to 10 oz., 20c.; do. under 8 oz., 22c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@16 oz., 2c. for 10@12 oz., and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets not above 36x96 in., 16 oz. and over, 14c.; do. 14 to 16 oz., 16c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 18c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 22c.; do. 8 to 10 oz., 25c. Sheets longer than 96 inches 14c. for over 32 oz. and add 1c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 1c. 14 to 16 oz.; 1c. 12 to 14 oz.; 1c. for 10 to 12 oz., and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz., 14c.; do, 16 to 32 oz., 16c.; do, 14 to 16 oz., 18c.; do, 12 to 14 oz., 20c.; do, 10 to 12 oz., 24c. Sheets wider than 48x96 and longer, 14@17c. for 32 to 64 oz.; 19@22c. for 16 to 32 oz.; 21@27c. for 14 to 16 oz. and —@—c. for 12 to 14 oz. Bolt copper, ⅜ inch diameter and over, 14c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 4c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottoms, 18&24c. per lb. IRON—American Pig has been somewhat unsettled, in consequence of an effort to use the scarcity and higher cost of fuel as an influence to stimulate values. There was no permanent success, however, because while some source of supply became shrunken through difficulty in obtaining coal and coke, there always appeared to be stock enough available of all qualities, and especially as the fuel famine also curtailed the wants of many consumers. Foreign pig iron continues to sell on special orders only. We quote at $12.00@13.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $11.00@12.00 for No. 2 X do., and $10.00@11.00 for Gray Forge; Scotch pig iron, $19,50@22. Old material finds more or less demand from regular sources of custom, but no unusual outlet is opened and the supply appears to be about equal to all wants. Prices vary slightly in tone, but it takes about the former line of figures to cover general range of valuation. We quote at $11.00@11.50 for old iron rails; $10.00@10.75 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $9.50@10.50 for cast scrap; $10.00@11.00 for old car wheels, and $6.00@9.00 for borings, stove plate, etc. Manufactured iron is unsettled and not finding much fresh business at the moment. There is known to be a certain amount already decided upon, especially in the structural line, for which provision has not been made, but buyers express no fear for the future and prefer holding their orders for awhile. We quote Beams up to 15-inch, 1.75@2c.; 20-inch, 2.10@2.25c. for round lots; Angles, 1.75@1.90c.;

THERE is little to record of the stock market, except that it has lost the buoyancy apparent a week ago and dropped into a rut from which it will only be moved by some stimulating piece of good or bad news; the direction of the movement will depend on the class of the news. The unfortunate feature about dullness as marked as exists at present is that it almost invariably means lower prices. It would have been hardly reasonable to expect that prices would continue to advance in the face of the disturbed condition of the country as a result of miners' strikes and the necessity of reducing or suspending operations in so many directions because of the failure in the supply of fuel. The end of the recent conferences means that this struggle must be fought out to the bitter end, and the readiness the miners have shown to resort to violence creates a great deal of anxiety. Rate cutting in the South does not improve the railroad situation, except that the vigor with which it is begun raises the hope that it will be of short duration and not spread to other parts of the country. The prolongation of the tariff discussion is another unfortunate feature, but it may be that as soon as the battle on the sugar schedule shall have been fought out, there will be more dispatch used in disposing of the remainder of the bill. The business of the country takes an even stupid course, meantime, from which it is unreasonable to expect it to change with the Summer at hand, and so much uncertainty and anxiety prevalent.

THE amount of new capital issued in England this year is almost equal to what it was for the same period in 1893, the difference being that the State and municipal loans form a much larger percentage of the total than they did a year ago. The accumulations of gold in the Bank of England threaten further lowering of the rates for money, inferring also less business. Ireland has always been regarded as such a home of poverty that the statement that the average premium on bank shares in that country rose in 1893 from 140 to 155 per cent, while that for the English bank shares rose only from 193 to 196 per cent, and that for Scotch bank shares from 173 to 180 per cent will be received with surprise. Unionists attribute this evidence of a growing prosperity to an increase of confidence in Irish investments proportioned on the waning of the Home Rule agitation. The London market continues to be nervous on the subject of the financial position of the Argentines. April returns of the Labor Department of the Board of Trade indicate a slow but continued growth of activity in the great industries, the percentage of labor employed being slightly higher than in March which showed an improvement over February. French railway managers evidently are anticipating better business, as they are giving out large orders for new rolling stock. April trade returns for France, however, show a decline of $600,000 in imports of raw materials; exports of manufactures fell off $2,400,000; imports as a whole increased $10,000,000. A Berlin correspondent says there has not been such a complete stagnation there for thirty years as at present; it had even been proposed to close the Bourse two days a week. It goes without saying, therefore, that money is abundant and cheap. The tariff war with Spain increases the depression in both countries, and particularly in the weaker. Austria will immediately begin the withdrawal of one florin notes from circulation and the substitution of silver crowns and florins therefor. Crop prospects continue very good. A remarkable comparison is being prepared, which is expected to show that the rise in wages and the amount of taxes paid by manufacturers make the cost of production in Austria greater than in the United States where wages have had a declining tendency. The foreign trade report for Austria-Hungary for the first quarter of the year shows a decrease in exports and an increase in imports compared with the same time in 1893.

THE almost unanimous desire of the other powers to turn the Silver question over to Great Britain for settlement is a very convenient way of shelving a discussion that is rapidly losing popularity, and affords a cover for the retreat of its one-time noisy advocates. Recent political conventions have shown that the Southern constituencies have gone cold on this question, and that may explain the eagerness with which its advocates on this side of the Atlantic, who, not very long ago in Congress and out of it, claimed that it was one that the United States alone ought to adjust, joined in the representation to the recent Bimetallistic conference in London that it was England's duty to dispose of it. So far the British authorities have shown no disposition to take up this troublesome bantling and the pressure to do so brought on them by their own people is very small indeed. The issue of the recent Indian sterling loan indicates that there will be no change in the mint policy and that involves a belief also on the part of the government that it does not despair by any means of the ultimate success of that policy. The Bimetallistic party in England is relatively very small and uninfluential. The conference previously referred to contained only two names of real weight, Mr. Balfour and Mr. Lidderdale, the former of whom has been in polite terms told by the press generally that he does not know what he is talking about, and the latter seems to have done little more than lend his name to the movement. The great English reviews have lately had very little to say on the silver question as if they were satisfied that its true solution was found in the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, which would certainly not be the case if there were any prospect of the government taking it up seriously, or if there existed any great outside pressure on the government to take it up. The discussion has not been dropped by our own reviews by any means, but the latest to hand from London contain only one paper upon it and that in the Fortnightly, and by a Manchester man, which says nothing new, except to very briefly refer to what might have been made a very interesting point, the probability of Africa becoming as large a user of small silver as the Orient now is by reason of the development of a great commerce there among a people accustomed to relatively small values. For the moment we are not concerned with what would be the results if England became a party to a bimetallistic agreement, but with the prospects of her doing so and if, as has been said, the solution of the question must come from the Government in London, the evidence is overwhelming that it is far away from final settlement.

WHY not establish a school of international ethics? It is really very necessary seeing the general tendency there is to suspend the golden rule in the dealings of one nation with another. If not better we are probably no worse than other nations, but, being no better, there is no harm in suggesting that the improvement begin at home. In the general and dishonest abuse of the creditor, of which we have heard so much in the past year or two, the foreign creditor in particular has come in for more than his fair share. In the regions where populism is strongest the mention of Lombard street has more powers of irritation than a red banner would have on the nerves of the maddest bull, and in Wall street, which ought, if only from a feeling of sympathy arising out of the common injustice with which it and the moneyed centres of Europe are alike treated, to know better, there is an idea that in the reorganization of the many corporations that have lately been brought to the ground the worst terms ought to be given to the foreign security-holder. Only last week during the raid on New York Central, what was thought to be the most telling bear "point" on the stock was a statement by one of the "news" bureaus that the Vanderbilts held very little of it, and at least 76 per cent. was held abroad. Whether even the facts were as stated is doubtful, but the Street accepted them without question and as being conclusive that a stock so held had no hope for protection on the part of its management. It would be interesting to learn how the Vanderbilt management likes this implication on its morals. It is not uncommon either to hear the simple fact of foreign ownership given as a reason why one of the securities issued by ourselves should be assessed. The principle involved in the despoilment of the Egyptians may have had a reason for existence in one particular case, though that is questionable, but its general application is obviously wrong. One of the causes of our present commercial difficulties is the withdrawal of foreign capital from the country, and the hopes of a business revival is, in the minds of people who reason out causes and effects, partly based on the expectation of its return. It is certainly no inducement to its return to say that it cannot receive fair treatment when it comes, and if we cannot reach the high plane of honesty for its own sake, let us at least strive for the lower one of honesty for policy's sake and keep our foolishness uncontaminated by knavery; later perhaps we may reach even better things still.

Private Property.—XII.*

By Richard T. Ely, University of Wisconsin.

THE FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE PROPERTY.

(Concluded.)

IT is to inheritances, however, that particular attention should be paid when we come to the future development of private property, in so far as its modes of acquisition are concerned. We use the word inheritance in its broadest sense to refer to the flow of property from the dead to the living. The receipt of property by inheritance is the receipt of unearned wealth, and more unearned income comes through inheritance than through any other channel. The actual efforts on the part of governments to reduce the amount of unearned income have been more generally along this line than any other, and yet it is a subject which has been, in comparison with its importance, strangely neglected by social reformers in recent years. Once in a generation all property or nearly all property changes hands and consequently regulation of inheritance may very rapidly produce radical results. At the same time, there is no other mode of producing important social changes which is so conservative in its operation.

First of all it must be noticed that there is a radical distinction between private property and the laws which govern its transmission from generation to generation. The right to dispose of property by last will and testament is no part of the right of private property. The right of private property means exclusive right of control, but the right to dispose of property by last will and testament means the right to say to whom this right of control shall pass. As has well been said, the one who cannot distinguish between private property and inheritance as two distinct institutions has not taken the first steps in the comprehension of the fundamental principles of jurisprudence. The rights of property are rights of the living and do not inhere in the dead at all. Blackstone has brought this out well in his well known "Commentaries on the Laws of England." He uses in one place the following emphatic words:

"Naturally speaking, the instant a man ceases to be he ceases to have any dominion; else if he had a right to dispose of his acquisitions one moment beyond his life he would also have a right to direct their disposal for a million of ages after him, which would be highly absurd and inconvenient. All property must, therefore, cease upon death, considering men as absolute individuals unconnected with civil society. * * * Wills, therefore, and testaments, rights of inheritance and succession, are all of them creatures of the civil and municipal laws, and accordingly are in all respects regulated by them; every distinct country having distinct ceremonies and requisites to make a testament completely valid; neither does anything vary more than the right of inheritance under different national establishments?

Blackstone says further that it is an erroneous principle to suppose that "the son has by nature a right to succeed to his father's lands," or that the owner "is by nature entitled to direct the succession of his property after his own decease."

Laws and customs have regulated in the most diverse manner the inheritance of property and there is no mode of transmission of property from generation to generation which can properly be spoken of as a product of natural right. It seems naturally right to most persons in the United States that they should be allowed to make a will, but that is simply because the laws and customs of the land have so long allowed men to dispose of property by last will and testament. To most men who have lived on the earth the claim that a man should be free to dispose of his property by last will and testament would have seemed monstrous. Sir Henry Sumner Maine says: "The power of free testamentary disposition implies the greatest latitude ever given in the history of the world to the volition or caprice of the individual." A further illustration of a change in what seems natural is afforded by the older laws favoring the eldest son. The laws in Virginia in the last century gave the eldest son a double share, and one writer speaks of this as something in accordance with the laws of nature and the dignity of birthright.

We see then, as a matter of fact, that private property exists with and without the right to dispose of it by last will and testament. There is no limit to the variations in the transmission of private property from generation to generation which have been sanctioned by laws and customs. It appears, then, that we can very quickly through changes in the laws of inheritance produce almost any changes which we may wish—certainly quite as radical changes as would be desirable—in the distribution of wealth.

There are three aims which the laws of inheritance should keep in view, namely, the desire of the individual, the security of the family as a social institution, and the welfare of society at large.

We may say with regard to the individual owner of property, that we should aim to carry out his wishes with respect to the disposition of his property after he is gone when there is no reason for a contrary course. Still we cannot grant that we do this because we recognize any right of property in those who are dead and gone. A certain latitude given to the owner of property to dispose of it by will and testament is desirable on social grounds. This power of disposition is, on the whole, perhaps likely to favor industrial accumulation, although it is easy to exaggerate its importance in this respect, as a little careful observation will show. There are also frequently obligations of one sort and another resting upon the owner of property which he cannot well meet otherwise than by some liberty in determining the disposition of his property after his death.

Considerations which affect the family are far more important than the desires of the individual. The question of inheritance should generally be considered from the standpoint of the family, and the aim should be the promotion of the welfare of the family as a social institution. But we may ask who are those constituting the family. There has been a historical change of importance in the family. Formerly the whole tribe or clan constituted the family. All those living together in a community have in former ages been regarded as a family, and have held a large part, if not all, of their property in common. The head of the family or chieftain had no separate or individual rights of importance in the land or material goods, and upon his death all his rights passed over to the community. There was a time then when even distant relations belonged to one family, and were held together by ties of reciprocal obligation. Our laws of inheritance which, in default of a will, allow even distant relatives to inherit, must be traced back to the earlier conditions of society which have long ceased to exist. A true family includes all those who are bound together by close and intimate ties, which carry with them well recognized duties as well as rights. If we include within a family all those who are descended from a common great-grandfather, which would take in second cousins, we have already gone to extreme lengths, and there is no sense or propriety in allowing more distant relatives to inherit property in the absence of a will. It could not be claimed that in so doing we are carrying out the wishes of the former owner of the property. To whom of us is not the town or city in which we have lived and acquired property far nearer than a third cousin whom we have never seen and who would feel under no obligations to render us assistance in time of need? One of the first things then to do in the reform of the laws of inheritance is to make the legal family conform to the actual family. On the other hand, the claims of those who do belong to the family in the true sense of the word, should be strengthened, particularly of those who belong to the family in the narrowest sense, that is to say, husband and wife and children. We have in the United States protected tolerably well the wife, and we have restricted the rights of property in her behalf and also shaped our laws of inheritance with reference to her claims. We are yet behind most countries, however, in the recognition of any rights of children in the estates of their parents, which must be respected. The Roman Law recognized what was called the the legitima portio, or share which must go to a child; and the German law has what is called the Pflichttheil, or "duty part," which can not be willed away, while the French laws, as has been already stated, transfer nearly all the father's property to his children, regardless of any wishes on his part. It would seem that the law should go further in establishing the claims of the children even than in recognition of the claims of the wife. The wife enters into relations with her husband when she is an adult and does so presumably with free will and full knowledge of the existing laws. Children, however, have no option whatever in their relation to their parents and their parents should not be allowed under any circumstances to shake off the responsibility which naturally goes with the fact that they have called their children into being. The aim of the laws should be clearly to do for the children that which a well meaning and intelligent father would do. But this can not mean to leave the children a vast fortune, which is as likely to injure as to help them. There is no reason, under American conditions, why a father should be compelled to leave a child more than $50,000, and this the writer would establish as the maximum duty part which the child should inherit. If the estate of a man is large enough to allow each child $50,000 and satisfy the claims of the wife, then it would seem to be desirable that he should be allowed to dispose of the balance by last will and testament. He should also be allowed to make provision for others who may have been dependent upon him and who have rightful claims. Of course, this is not the time and place to work out details.

Finally, the claims of society may be recognized in the taxation of inheritances. Those who have not given attention to the subject will be surprised to know the actual extent to which legislation is already recognizing the co-heirship of the State, even in the United States, where we move more slowly in these matters than do many other countries. Thirteen States of the Union already tax at least collateral inheritances, and two of them tax direct inheritances consisting of personal property. England, France, Switzerland and Australia tax inheritances heavily. The general tendency is to increase the tax as the relationship of those inheriting property becomes more distant and as the estate to be taxed increases. The tax is thus progressive in two directions. It amounts, in some instances, to as much as 20 per cent in Australia and in Switzerland, and this implies a conscious effort to regulate the distribution of property. There is always an exemption; but frequently this is too small. The exemption, if it is to be based on a fixed principle, should include an estate yielding an income which under an income tax would be exempt from taxation. In this country it seems desirable to exempt from an income tax all incomes of $600 or less, and if we capitalize that at 5 per cent it would seem right to let the inheritance tax begin with $12,000.

This inheritance tax enables us to bring about other changes in the ownership of property without doing violence to just claims. If we should even grant the desirability of the nationalization of the land—and few of us are ready to go so far at present—how much fairer it would be to bring this about by the payment of the present owners and to raise the money by means of inheritance taxes, which would thus diffuse the burden of a change from private to public ownership equitably throughout the community.

These twelve articles have covered a vast subject, but have left much unsaid. The reader must bear in mind that the writer makes no claims whatever that he has exhausted the subject. He hopes, however, that he has pointed out certain useful suggestions and opened up an important line of thought and investigation.

WE print elsewhere in this issue a letter urging the necessity of preparing the public mind for well-considered action upon the matter of rapid transit at the coming referendum which is morally certain to be held in this city next fall. Undoubtedly, preparation is necessary, for, it is our belief, rapid transit will be in reality a public question for the first time at the coming election. Hitherto that "popular interest" in the subject, of which we have heard so much, has been mainly an assumption, a necessary assumption, no doubt, for without the fiction that the populace, the remote unnameable multitude, were standing somewhere in the background clamoring for relief, our wise and good editors and philanthropic "prominent citizens" and unsufferable and unsuppressible cranks would have been obliged to deliver their views, suggestions and crotchets as mere "persons" and, under such circumstances, who would have listened to them? But their position was very different, or at least somewhat different, when they waved the dramatic arm toward the Power of Numbers and declared that the "People of this city, Sir, demand an immediate increase of rapid transit facilities and have decided upon my hobby-horse as the ideal mode of locomotion." As a stern matter of fact, the "People"—the multitude, which so seldom gets itself reported, because it is too big, too cumbersome, too much an affair of mass to organize itself or get organized by somebody else and so lies always on the outside of "movements" and "meetings" and "petitionings" and all the other little audible eddyings of humanity—this "People" have had practically nothing to do with the entire stable full of hobby-horses which the rapid transit discussion has brought out in the last few years. The "People" who have filled the elevated cars—and the pockets of the Manhattan Company—in the early, early hours of the morning when "editors" and prominent citizens not editors, and cranks neither editors nor prominent citizens, had not yet awakened to their self-imposed duty of representing and speaking for them have not been following carefully the involutions of the rapid transit muddle. Yet these are the members of the body "public"—the "five to seven A. M.-ers" as they have been called profanely—and the tens of thousands that travel in the elusive surface cars through the spicier purlieus of the East Side and the remote avenues of the West Side littoral that are to be called upon to decide the Rapid Transit question. That they are ready for the question; that they understand it and are prepared to vote upon it in accordance with the supremest interests of the city is far from apparent. Nevertheless no public question of so great importance to the public as this of rapid transit has been submitted to the determination of a popular vote for many years. The arguments in favor of municipal ownership or municipal control in some form of whatever new lines of transportation may be devised are, in our judgment, conclusive. The intelligence of the city has been won to an acceptance of them and the Press, in greater part, supports them. But the people have not. Moreover, there is a powerful and active opposition in the field composed not only of the large numbers of discontents and irreconcilables utterly dissatisfied with the last and present phase of the rapid transit problem because it does not embrace the pet plan they favor, but of politicians with counter-games of their own to play. There are also to be numbered amongst the opposition the vast vested interests which are concerned far more with rapid transit as it is than as it might be. These recalcitrant forces have surely no intention of playing an inactive part in the coming referendum and the populace are far more likely to be manipulated by them than led by a mere remembrance of the arguments that have hitherto been advanced in favor of the municipality "doing something." A great deal of missionary work must be done during the coming months of the summer and fall if the ground so far gained is to be securely held, and the metropolis provided with a new rapid transit at once adequate to the needs of the city and obtained without a sacrifice to private interests of the most valuable public franchise which any municipality has ever had to deal with. The Chamber of Commerce should not be content merely with the success of their appeal to the Legislature. To justify the position they have taken as exponents of the demands of the people of New York they must make sure of popular support of their plan at the polls. They cannot count at present with certainty upon such support, and we believe that if the work of securing the suffrages of the masses in behalf of their programme be delayed until the opening of the political campaign, a question which should be determined by the dictates of expedience and considerations of a business and economical nature will become involved in the sleights and inanities of "politics" and be decided as "politics"—perhaps adversely to the best interests of the city.

THE belated census returns are slowly coming to hand, though it is doubtful whether they will be completed before the opening of a new century calls for another return, in which case the muddle is likely to become inextricable. The leisurely way in which these results of the collections of four years ago are permitted to appear may be due to a special design of Providence, so that we may have time to fully see how worthless most of these figures are as a test of real values and conditions. The latest statement is supposed to show the wealth of the United States. This is calculated to be $65,037,091,197, or $1,039 per head of population, figures gratifying to the purse-pride of the nation, but not likely to stand the test of analysis. This valuation includes all the farm lands that were raising dollar wheat and eleven and a-half cent cotton at the time they were made. It will hardly be maintained that the same land is worth as much now, with wheat below sixty cents and cotton about seven cents. It includes too the railroads, at 12 per cent of the total, at a time when Union Pacific was nearly eighty and Atchison fifty on the market, and probably at the par value of the stocks of the several companies without any regard whatever to the market valuation, in which case the total value of the wealth of the country, as well as that per capita, would have to be very materially decreased in reaching actual value. In other respects the discrepancies are probably just as glaring and show as fully the haphazard and wholly unscientific way in which these returns are made up. It may be argued that values which have depreciated will appreciate again, which is true, but the real value is the mean, and the calculation should, in order to even approximate accuracy, be based on averages. The assessed valuation of all real and personal property taxed is put by the census bulletin at $25,473,173,418 or $407 per capita, and between this and the higher total valuation any one may make his own choice for any apparent scientific basis of calculation there is to go on. The census claims only to give a valuation of a given time, it is true, but the valuation of any given moment of a given piece of property is dependent on what has gone before and, as far as can be seen, what the future has in store.

THERE seems something particularly ridiculous about the introduction at just this time of a bill into Congress to make the first Monday of September in each year a national holiday. It does not seem to strike the advocates of this measure that holidays are not the burning want of the times, but rather work days. Even the hundreds of thousands of men who are in voluntary idleness as a result of their differences with the employers are not clamoring for more holidays but for more pay, and it can hardly be questioned that nothing can be more repugnant to the many thousands more who are forced into unwilling leisure as a result of the condition of business than a suggestion of holidays, the means for enjoying which they see no prospect of obtaining. The people who are behind such movements as this cannot be touched by ridicule, their excess of vanity leaves no room for any other feeling, so this measure, dignified by an idea loudly proclaimed, that a national labor day will emphasize the equality and dignity of labor, whatever that may mean, will no doubt go through Congress, it having already been favorably reported by the House Committee on Labor, with little or no opposition, because of the respect that animates the individual members of the two chambers for the labor vote. However, this is destined to be a year of absurdities, with populism, Coxeyism and other creations of weak intellect and strong conceit, and it will matter very little if another is added to their number, and if the President is empowered to declare for the Union a day consecrated to Vulcan that is already so marked by the laws of several States, but viewed by the conditions of the working classes to-day it cannot be less absurd.

Present Condition of Big Building Enterprises.

A LIST OF THE BIG BUILDINGS FOR WHICH PLANS HAVE BEEN FILED DURING THE LAST SEVEN MONTHS, AND THE CONDITION OF THE WORK UPON THEM AT THIS TIME.

The season for planning of big building enterprises is rapidly drawing to its close. The time for construction is well advanced. From this standpoint the building industries are generally able to determine, approximately, the extent of the season's operations. Some work is being done on plans filed early last year, and even during the previous year, but this does not count with material men or contractors in this year's operations. THE RECORD AND GUIDE has taken a list from the records of plans filed since Sept. 1 last, of all building projects amounting to $100,000 and over, and canvassed the work with a view to ascertaining the present condition of such work. The results are given herewith:

To Secure Rapid Transit.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

I beg to extend my congratulation to your valuable paper on the successful issue the question of Rapid Transit is assuming, which, permit me to state while the question of municipal ownership was comparatively unheard of, your paper was one of the first to come to the front in its advocacy, for which permit me to say with all justice the City of New York should it ultimately secure real Rapid Transit owes your valuable paper and the Chamber of Commerce a debt of gratitude which it can never repay.

The referendum clause being inserted in the bill, leaves very imporant work yet to be done, that is the promulgation of the knowledge of its vital importance among the masses in order to get an intelligent vote in its favor to more than offset the game of politics of the enemies of Rapid Transit, which will, I assume, be a most potent factor against Rapid Transit at the next election.

It behooves the press and all intelligent citizens, therefore, who have the welfare of our city at heart to begin an early campaign in favor of the issue. R. A. KINKEL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

It is with a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I inclose you my check for the advertisement in your recent anniversary number of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

I think nothing of recent years has been published that seems to have so thoroughly engrossed the attention of those engaged in the building line, such as your recent production. The public, and particularly the trade, are greatly indebted to you for the valuable work. RONALD TAYLOR.

An Expert Operator's Estate.

PROPERTIES LEFT BY THE LATE MYER FINN.

People who are regularly engaged in real estate transactions, whether as principals or agents, have more than a transient interest in the estates that are left by the great investors and operators upon their demise, and the general public, that usually devotes but little consideration to such matters, feels a new interest when it learns that a man has died and left a large estate in houses and lands.

As things have gone in New York City in recent years, these large estates have dropped out of the public view, except by name, soon after the decease of the man who accumulated them. Men have made it the object of their life work to accumulate such an estate and leave it to their posterity under conditions designed to prevent its distribution and sale, and to keep it intact, a monument to their powers of accumulation and a source of revenue to their beneficiaries. Whether this process of segregating property and withdrawing it for generations from the market is conducive to the best interests of the community, is a question which will not be discussed in this article.

New York City has, during the last score of years, developed a large class of investors in real estate from the mercantile branches—men who have achieved success in their counting rooms and warehouses to such an extent that they have been able to make occasional investments in real property, and who have, in their declining years, retired from the pursuit of active mercantile business and found their desired measure of occupation and business intercourse with their fellow men, in the care and development of their real estate investments, and perhaps in trading, buying and selling.

Such an investor and operator was Mr. Myer Finn. Known in all the branches of the real estate industry as one of the shrewdest of buyers; as one of the best judges of New York City realty; conservative in all his dealings, almost to a fault, his estate to-day includes a list of properties that are of the most desirable for trading purposes or for improvement, and several choice parcels of investment property. Mr. Finn's first operations were in stable, income-producing investment properties; but he soon displayed a peculiarly accurate discernment for properties in the densely-populated sections of the city and in the teeming business districts, that were suitable for reimprovement with prospect of larger than usual profits, and it is not, therefore, surprising that his estate embraces several such parcels.

Among the properties of the latter description is a plot 50 feet front, on South street, near Montgomery, running through to Front street, now vacant. It is suitable as it is for use as a depot for brick, lime, stone, sand, cement and other building materials, with little expense, and with dock facilities right in front of it on the East River; or it can be built upon with advantage for a variety of business uses.

Another valuable parcel is the lot, 26.4x100, No. 55 Great Jones street, between Lafayette place and the Bowery. The opening of the new Elm street as a thoroughfare parallel to Broadway will make this one of the most active business locations in the city in the near future. The old buildings in this vicinity have been rapidly making way for new and imposing structures of modern design and capacity during the last three years, and manufacturing, publishing and mercantile establishments of the largest class have located in them. The lot is ready for immediate improvement.

Still another parcel, of a different character from the foregoing, is a plot of thirty lots at Broadway and 187th street, right opposite the entrance to Washington Bridge and commanding beautiful views of the Hudson and Harlem valleys and the crowded city towards the south. Builders who are now turning their attention in considerable numbers towards Washington Heights will readily appreciate the desirability of this plot, as well as of the other near by, a plot 84x225, on Washington avenue and 183d street. The underground rapid transit railroad, that is at last in a fair way to construction, will run right by these properties.

Another vacant parcel that is suitable for subdivision and sale in building lots is a plot of four acres on the Boston Post road, half a mile from the Fordham Station and adjoining the Bronx Park. Settlement has been rapid in this section and new trolley roads, new public improvements and a rapidly rising tide of population assures a sharp advance in values in this section in the near future. Among the income-producing properties is a row of eight small tenements, on a plot 125x100, on Mangin street, between Rivington and Delancey, and a five-story building, 32x64, at No. 293 Front street, corner of Roosevelt, that is suitable either for storage or mercantile use, and either of which would pay.

All the properties above enumerated are offered for sale by the estate of Myer Finn, by Mr. Wm. E. Finn, the eldest son and executor of the testator, at his office, No. 115 Broadway. The estate has several other properties besides the foregoing, among them a tract of ten acres in Tremont at about 178th street, running through from Valentine to Morris avenue, than which there is nothing better to sub-divide. It is right in the city, and now that the elevated railroads are carrying passengers through to Tremont for a five-cent fare, it has been brought within the easily accessible limits of residence from the business sections of the city. The tract lies only about a thousand feet from the station at 3d avenue and 177th street. Another tract consists of sixty-six and one-half acres fronting the depot at West Mount Vernon, on the Harlem Railroad.

The estate also owns the investment properties, Nos. 148, 150 and 152 Reade street, five-story brick warehouses with stores, in the midst of the butter and egg district. The family residence is a five-story stone dwelling, No. 5 East 72d street, adjoining the Tiffany chateau and opposite the houses of Bruce Price, Col. Jay, Mr. Tailer and Mrs. Jas. A. Burden. Two speculative strips on 5th avenue, between 83d and 84th streets, one 8 inches wide and 100 feet deep, the other 1.8x100, are also among the holdings of the estate. The latter are available at least for sign boards. In his lifetime Mr. Finn was an extensive operator, and it was characteristic of his sales that they also gave the buyer an opportunity for profit. Two instances may be quoted: He sold No. 714 Broadway, and the buyer could easily realize a handsome profit. He sold No. 722 Broadway to a buyer who can also make a good profit on it. As all of his purchases were made very close, the estate is in position to offer equal opportunities for profitable ventures to present buyers.—(Communicated.)

The dry goods district, notwithstanding the temporary depression in trade, continues to grow and expand towards the northwest. The seven-story building which Louis M. Jones is building on the southwest corner of 4th and Greene streets, is the first break in that block, which is encumbered with old and unworthy buildings, a large part of which are owned by the Gerry estate. One of the corners overlooks Washington Square, the easterly side of which will soon show some imposing buildings. People may prepare for an extensive transformation around this square in the near future.

Apparently it does not always pay best to use corner property for saloon purposes. The gorgeously fitted up beer palace at Broadway and Chambers street has shrunk to less than half its former size, leaving the conspicuous parts of the store to railroad and ticket offices.

An allusion in THE RECORD AND GUIDE recently to the fact that a number of brokers had reported commissions from out-of-town capitalists to buy investment properties for them in this city, prompted the per contra observation from one student of the market that one of the largest investors seemed to have withdrawn from it. He instanced the Weld estate, of Boston, which was last year a frequent purchaser. Three days had not elapsed before a $300,000 purchase of property in the new section of the dry-goods district was made for Mr. W. G. Weld by his brokers, Messrs. Hoffman Bros. The explanation of Mr. Weld's and the Weld estate's apparent withdrawal from the market for a number of months appeared in the fact that they have been putting nearly a million of dollars into the construction of the big Mutual Reserve office building at Broadway and Duane street. Popular impression has ascribed the ownership of this building to the Mutual Reserve Life Association, but it is merely a tenant. The Weld estate and Mr. Weld have already invested upwards of $7,000,000 in New York City realty, and will doubtless see their way to make further investments, properties and prices being favorable; but even that line of investment cannot be expected to continue forever. The Welds purchase only from income, and do not buy to sell. All of their purchases have been made through Hoffman Brothers.

Worth Knowing.

The card of Hartwell & Co., contractors, of No. 165 West 23d street, which appears on another page, gives a volume of information in comparatively few words. "Old Houses Made New" is their trade mark, and they make a specialty of renovating old houses and turning over to the owner a finished house ready for occupancy, all without those trying ordeals persons not familiar with doing such work usually experience. They give advice before or after purchase on sanitary work, construction, convenience and decorative woodwork and painting. Some of the new work and alterations Hartwell & Co. are now engaged on are mentioned under the heading "Out Among the Builders" in this issue.

Again this week the auction rooms have overshadowed the rest of the real estate market. It was a short week at best, with a holiday right in the middle, and well on towards the close of the season, and there was little to expect from it. But the operators and speculators of note seem to have saved themselves for the large demonstrations of Tuesday and Thursday. The class of properties offered at the sales of both Mr. Harnett and Mr. Phillips were of a character to command the attention of operators, and these were present in sufficient number to prevent the absolute failure of either sale. But neither sale rested upon them. At the Beckwith estate sale the estate was represented among the bidders, and the three 5th avenue corner plots were bid up beyond the reach of speculators. At the Lasak estate sale, on Thursday, things were different. The sale was without protection of any kind, but the usual auction-room crowd was supplemented by a crowd of investors who knew the properties and wanted them. The consequence was that only two out of the ten parcels fell to the professionals and the sale was from every reasonable aspect an unexpected success. It has had a good effect upon the market. Taken in conjunction with the Huylar estate sale of last week, by Geo. R. Read, it demonstrates again the stability of values of New York City real estate. Of course, the prices were not up to boom times, but only unreasonable people would have expected any such thing.

The following are the comparative tables for New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1893 and 1894.

SALE OF THE BECKWITH PROPERTIES.

The sale, by Richard V. Harnett & Co., on Tuesday, of the properties of Leonard Forbes Beckwith, demented, received the attention that so extraordinary a list of properties entitled it to. Upper 5th avenue property does not often appear in the auction market. It is tacitly held to be the proper subject of sale only by private negotiation and treaty, for its value depends upon so many things that do not weigh for much in the auction market. But if there has been a speculative movement in real estate in this city in the last four years, it has been in upper 5th avenue real estate. Naturally, therefore, the speculators were all anxious to see the outcome of the sale of the Beckwith properties. Mr. Beckwith had been a promising customer and a good one while his passion lasted, the price having apparently been no obstacle to some of his purchases. Naturally, therefore, all the speculators in town were in attendance on Mr. Harnett's sale, and it is significant of the present state of the market that there were no agents present with commissions to buy, nor any of the large operators who made the Stuart Estate sale so interesting a year ago. The speculators were foreclosed by the terms of sale. These provided that the properties should be sold subject to the mortgages upon them, and subject to the approval of the Supreme Court.

The first parcel offered was the plot, 100x100, on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 81st street. It is mortgaged for $260,000, of which $45,000 is by a second mortgage. August Belmont bought a parcel of the same size, with a lot on the street opposite, in March last year, for $275,000. At that valuation for the five lots the four fronting on the avenue would be worth about $240,000-which was about what Beckwith paid for them in a trade a little less than a year ago. Bidding was slow and and upon the second offer they were knocked down to Arthur D. Weekes at $271,000. The next parcel was four lots, 100.11x100, on the northeast corner of 102d street and 5th avenue. It was similarly knocked down to Mr. Weeks at $66,000. Beckwith bought the lots in the latter part of July last at a stated price of $85,000, and there were two mortgages on them for $42,000 and $23,000 respectively. These lots, with eight more adjoining on the street, were sold in February, 1893, by the Ottendorfer estate to Isaac C. Northsheld for $105,100. The third parcel, of three lots, 75.8⅜x100, on the northeast corner of 91st street and 5th avenue, was also struck down to Mr. Weekes at $76,000. It was bought by Mr. Beckwith from Guggenheimer & Untermyer on April 29, 1893, for $100,000, and there were first and second mortgages on it for $65,000 and $10,000 respectively. According to the records, Guggenheimer & Untermyer bought these three lots and the remaining five on the avenue, and six in the rear, three on each street, on January 9, 1890, for $255,000, but that is generally believed to have been an exaggerated price.

The three-story and basement house and lot, 16.8¼x40x75, No. 127 Manhattan avenue, sold to E. H. Kelly, at $9,325. It was bought by Mr. Beckwith, February 3, 1890, for $13,500, and was mortgaged for $7,000. The final parcel in the sale was the unfinished mansion No. 933 5th avenue, and the large lot on which it was built, 25x150, with an L, 10x77.2, to 74th street. There was competition for this piece, between Mr. Weekes and Charities Commissioner Edward C. Sheehy. The bidding began at $100,000 and ran up to $137,500, at which Mr. Sheehy became the purchaser. Beckwith bought the lot, March 9, 1893, for $70,000, and started in to build the house, which was described in THE RECORD AND GUIDE of last Saturday. It is said he spent over $80,000 on it before he failed. There are mortgages on the property for $60,000 and liens for nearly $50,000 besides. The sale brought enough at least to pay off the liens.

THE LASAK ESTATE SALE—A SIGNAL SUCCESS.

There was an air of old time interest about the Broadway Salesroom on Thursday, when L. J. Phillips mounted the rostrum to put the Lasak Estate properties up at auction. The room was nearly crowded, and if any one had wanted to see any of the large operators or speculators, there would have been the place to seek him. For a while it seemed as if everybody had forgotten that there had been any such thing as a panic, or even a depression in the real estate market. There was none of the croaking about the future heard, that has been so common an accompaniment of every effort to sell property at auction this spring. The offerings embraced ten parcels, nine of them of valuable and desirable New York City realty. Their history, so far as ascertainable, was published in last week's RECORD AND GUIDE. The very fact that they had been so long in the possession of one owner and had not figured in the conveyances of recent years, proved an attraction.

Partner Samuel Goldsticker read the terms of sale, which contained a little surprise for the crowd. In the quest for information about the terms, everybody had been told that the sale would be for all cash on delivery of the deed, and those who attended the sale did so in the expectation that the terms were cash on delivery. But at the last moment it appears that the heirs had consented that, where desired, 60 per cent of the purchase price might remain on bond and mortgage. Friends had tried to persuade them to advertise that 70 or 75 per cent might remain, but it appears that some of the heirs were anxious for the ready cash, and the terms finally read by Mr. Goldsticker were the best that could be obtained. The opinion has been freely expressed that upon a 70 per cent margin a larger number of would-be buyers would have appeared and much better prices resulted.

Before the sale was allowed to proceed a lawyer named Kahn called out in loud voice that he represented a claimant for about a tenth of the estate who had not been made a party to the partition proceedings under which the sale was ordered, and who had not consented to the sale. He warned all persons that if they purchased they did so with full notice and subject to his claim. This statement cast a cloud over the proceedings, but only for an instant. Referee James A. Briggs, in a still louder voice, declared that the claim represented by Kahn had been adjudicated and thrown out of court and the day of appeal was past. He said that the properties would be sold free and clear of all liens or incumbrances and if a clear title was not given the buyer could have his 10 per cent cash payment refunded. He advised the audience to pay no attention to Mr. Kahn—and they didn't.

The sale was in every particular the most important and significant of the season, and recalled the scene at the sale of the Mary A. Stuart estate properties over a year ago, by Peter F. Meyer. The general opinion after the sale is that some of the properties sold low enough to assure their buyers of substantial profits. Perhaps the best price was obtained for the house and lot No. 314 5th avenue. It was apparent, when this parcel was reached, that it was the centre of interest of the sale. Brokers who are cultivating that section of the city were exchanging guesses on what it would bring, and these ranged between $140,000 and $180,000. Only one was heard to place an estimate of over $175,000 on it. Not but what it was worth more, but considering the times, the manner of sale and the fact that it is rented at $7,000 a year only and until May 1, 1896, it was not thought likely that any one would bid over $175,000 for it. In all these estimates the house did not figure as an element of value. The property was appraised at what it would be worth for reimprovement—which is a speculative appraisal. The result was all that could be desired and more than was expected. The property started at $150,000, and several bidders at once raised it by five, one and four thousand dollar jumps to $160,000, then to $161,000, after which the raises fluctuated between 100 and 1,000 dollars. When $170,000 was reached there were still three bidders contending for the prize. After the $175,000 mark there were but two and when $184,000 was reached the contest was over and Charles Astor Bristed, who was represented by Alfred E. Marling, of Horace S. Ely & Co., became the purchaser. The audience showed its appreciation of the contest and of the spirited work of the auctioneer by liberal applause. This parcel was the last of the city properties to be sold and the effect of its sale at a higher price than any one anticipated, was shown in the utterances of brokers all around. It showed so emphatically that even under the most adverse circumstances good property in this city need never go begging for a market.

Perhaps the best bargain obtained at the sale, all things considered, was the parcel, or rather two connecting parcels, of nine lots, six of them on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 90th street and three on 91st street, in the rear. They started at $140,000 and were knocked down to Benj. I. H. Trask, an old acquaintance with 5th avenue property, at $181,000. Immediately after the sale Mr. Trask was offered $5,000 for his bargain by a responsible broker. Another parcel that was sold well under its generally appraised value, was the property fronting on both Maiden lane, No. 54, and Liberty street, No. 29. It started at $105,000 and was sold at $121,000 to Levi S. Tenney, a lawyer. Mr. Tenney purchased for Joseph Fahys & Co., the watch-case makers, now at No. 43 Maiden lane. The adjoining parcel on Liberty street, No. 31, a shallow lot, also proved quite a bargain. It is but two doors from the old engine house lot, for which the Lawyers' Title Co. paid $110,000 to the city, but it brought only $56,000—for which price Jefferson M. Levy became the purchaser.

A plot that sold better was the parcel of six vacant lots on the southeast corner of Columbus avenue and 85th street. Dock Commissioner J. J. Phelan, whose residence adjoins it on the street, secured it at $116,500. The lowest estimate of its value previously heard was $122,500. Another corner plot of four lots, at 2d avenue and 52d street, was sold to Weil & Meyer, who never buy unless at a bargain, for $70,250. The single lot, 25x100, on West End avenue, west side, 75.11 south of 102d street, was sold at $12,500 to Augustus S. Meyers, who will improve. Mr. Lasak bought the lot January 16, 1860, for $606. The other down-town parcels sold fairly well. No. 131 Water street, rented for $2,500 per year, was bought by Lichtenstein Bros., tobacconists, for $36,800. No. 19 John street, rented for about $4,500, brought $92,000, from Wm. Strauss, who also became the buyer of the country place at Dobbs Ferry, at $34,250. The sale aggregated $904,306. It is said the heirs a year or more ago attempted to apportion the properties among themselves and in their calculations rated the properties at between $1,300,000 and $1,400,000. After making reasonable allowances for the optimistic views of persons in such relations to the property and for the stringent terms under which the property was advertised to be sold it must be considered a success and a great success. Its effect upon the market is not to be discounted. The sale was absolutely free, like the Huylar estate sale by Geo. R. Read last week, and taken in connection with that sale shows conclusively that the market is healthy and strong and full of encouragment for the future.

H. C. Mapes & Co.'s sale of Seton estate lots at Westchester Village on Decoration Day attracted a large attendance. Fifty-eight lots were sold at prices ranging from $295 to $720 each. Lots on the Fort Schuyler road brought over $600; lots on Edwards avenue $375 and on Ellison avenue $295. A total of over $23,000 was realized by the sale, or an average of $400.

James L. Wells held a successful sale of lots on Decoration Day at Highwood Park, adjoining Eldorado Station, at Weehawken Heights, N. J., opposite the Forty-second Street Ferry. A total of $193,000 was bid for 211 lots disposed of. Hamilton avenue lots brought as high as $1,925, and Park View lots, $475.

The Architectural League Committee appointed to consider the question of whether the height of buildings should be limited by law consists of Messrs. Richard M. Hunt, Chas. F. McKim, Thomas Hastings, Bruce Price, and the President of the league, Mr. George B. Post, a member ex-officio. It is not expected that the Committee will make any report until the fall.

It is surprising to note how easily the walls come down in some of the old buildings that are being demolished to make way for the new office buildings down town. Notably at Broadway and Pine street, where the American Surety building will soon begin to rise, the bricks generally fall as clean from the walls of the old buildings as if they had been laid up in sand. Two things are apparent: the mortar was poor and the bricks were very dry when laid, so that the bond was very weak. The wonder is that the building stood up so long. They do better work in that district nowadays, as is shown in the adjoining building, a fire-proof structure erected about ten years ago. The brick walls in this case were laid in cement mortar of good quality. The consequence is that heavy sledges and iron wedges have to be employed to take the walls apart, the brick crushing in the operation as often as the mortar, and both breaking in irregular shapes.

The following interesting decision is reported in the Boston Real Estate Record and Building News: "A case which has excited interest in labor circles was recently decided by Judge Fallon. Peter Donahoe, a contractor, was charged with assaulting John Burke. Burke, who is a walking-delegate of the Building Trades Council, accompanied by another member of the council, visited a building which Donahoe is erecting to investigate the report that the work of building is being done by non-union men. Donahoe ordered him from the premises. Burke went, only to return again, and this time Donahoe grabbed him by the collar and threw him to the ground. Judge Fallon discharged Donahoe, claiming that Burke had no right to enter the building while the men were at work."

A despatch from Washington says: A report on the valuation of building stones produced in the United States during 1893 has been compiled by Dr. Wm. C. Day, special agent of the United States geological survey. It shows an aggregate valuation of almost $22,000,000, a decrease of over $15,000,000 from that of 1892. The valuation during the first half of the year was even larger than for the similar period of 1892, owing to pending government and private contracts. The large decrease which in the latter half took place is attributed to the financial depression.

By consent of Architect Charles C. Haight, the students of architecture and engineering in Columbia College will be accorded the privilege of inspecting the construction of the New York Life building, at Elm and Leonard streets, in its various stages, and to go upon the work for the purpose. By this means it is intended to supplement with some practice the theoretical training received under the supervision of Professor Ware.

Builders and all other persons interested in building and real estate enterprises have heard with deep sympathy the great misfortune which has befallen their long-time colleague, Robert L. Darragh. A hearing was had in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday upon an application for a commission in lunacy for him. Mr. Darragh was the builder of the Pulitzer and Corn Exchange Bank buildings, and many others of nearly equal importance.

Building News.

W. W. Howe, 176 Broadway, is drawing plans for extensive alterations to be made to the Hotel Albemarle.

John C. Burne is the architect for three, 25x65, five-story brownstone and buff brick apartment houses to be built on the west side of Lenox avenue, 25 feet north of 117th street, of the very best material and furnished with all improvements to date.

Joseph Fahys & Co., manufacturers of watch cases, of No. 43 Maiden lane, who recently purchased the property No. 29 Liberty street, will probably improve it.

Hartwell & Co., of No. 165 West 23d street, have prepared plans for a four-story American basement dwelling to be erected by them, for a client, at No. 109 East 39th street, on a lot 25x98.9. LANDLORD AND TENANT—STEAM POWER.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I desire to ask you the following questions and would like to receive a reply through your paper:

I made a lease with my landlord to erect a building, and in the lease he agreed that he would furnish me in said building steam heat, live steam and steam power sufficient for pressing or running sewing or light machinery, but not for electric plant, the same to be furnished from engines and machinery and plant in the adjoining building, as we have none in ours. I find in my business that I will have to use a Cash System made of Pneumatic Tubes or otherwise, and the party, who is estimating on this System, claims he will want about 25-horse power to run the same. I notified my landlord that I would have to have about 25-horse power to run the cash system, and he sent me an answer that there will be no Steam Engine in his engine room from which I can belt and that he did not intend to use any, but that I may have live steam for power as much as I require through a pipe which he would run into my building.

Now, if he does not intend to have an engine, how can he furnish me with steam power that he agreed in the lease to furnish me with? I informed him that steam power is one thing and live steam another. He agreed to give me live steam, which is all right, but also the steam power, and the only way to get this power, in my judgment, is from an engine. I understand steam does not become power until it generates through an engine. He also informed me that twenty-five horse-power would be beyond the limit of light machinery; I do not wish to have the expense of an engineer and, as I must have this plant run, kindly let me know who is right in this matter and whether, according to my lease, when the landlord agreed to give me steam power, is he not bound to give me the steam through an engine and would he, if he gave me this steam through a pipe, be fulfilling his contract toward me?

A MERCHANT.

Answer.—In order to answer this question definitely we should know the precise terms of the lease, and knowing them, should be obliged to consult an engineer. If the engineer gave his opinion that by the lease your landlord has contracted to give you what you want we should advise that in the event of his failure to do so you have a legal remedy against him.—LAW EDITOR.

CHECKS—CERTIFICATION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly answer the following questions regarding certified checks: (1) After certification, does the maker's responsibility cease? (2) In the event of the failure of the bank, before a certified check is presented for payment, is the check a common liability? (3) Is there any special provision made to protect certified checks?

Answer.—(1) Yes. Such is the law in this State, though not in some other States of the Union. The Court of Appeals has decided that if the holder of a check, instead of collecting it procures it to be certified, the drawer is discharged (52 N. Y., 350). (2) We do not understand what you mean by "common liability." A certified check is not a liability preferred over the claims of depositors of an insolvent bank. (3) No. The certifying of a check is an agreement by the bank that the signature of the drawer is genuine; that he has funds on deposit to meet it, and that these funds shall not be withdrawn from it by the drawer to the prejudice of any bona fide holder of the check. The certification imposes upon the bank no further or greater liability than this.—LAW EDITOR.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you please tell me through your paper what is the price paid for property reading in the transfers as follows: John Doe to John Doe, "Mt. $8,500, Oct. 2, $17,000." Is the selling price $25,500 or $17,000? A SUBSCRIBER.

[It is impossible to give our correspondent any positive answer. In some deeds the mortgage is included in the figures that stand for the consideration given; in others it is excluded. In the case he gives the selling price might be either $25,500 or $17,000—the character of the property is the only guiding indication.—ED.]

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please enlighten me (1) if the owner of a corner house up town, who leased the store to a dry grocery only and whose tenant allowed an Italian to put up a stand for the sale of vegetables on a compensation to him of $10 a month, on the street side of the corner, is obliged to suffer the stand against his wish and will? (2) Can he not be removed by the Bureau of Incumbrances, even if the stand is not outside of the stoop line? Kindly give your opinion to an old reader of THE RECORD.

Answer.—(1) A satisfactory answer could only be given after inspection of the lease. Of course the landlord leased to the tenant the whole property, which probably includes the sidewalk, and if the establishment of the street stand is a violation of any of the covenants of the lease, the landlord can only enforce his remedy against the tenant by action. (2) The "Bureau of Incumbrances" may remove the stand if it is maintained in violation of a city ordinance.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION—FENCES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A has a piece of real estate which he gives to several agents to sell. (1.) Could any of the agents claim his commission if he brought a would-be buyer after A has sold his property to some one else? (2.) The fence (a wooden one) between A's and B's property is in an unsafe condition. If one would want the fence put in good condition can he hold the other to pay his share of the expense? (3.) What is the law on this subject?

Answer.—(1.) He might claim it but he could not recover it by suit, unless he could prove that he was to have a commission if the property was sold through his agency or otherwise. (2.) Yes. (3.) Ordinances of the City of Brooklyn, Chapter V, Section 3: "When any partition fence cannot be conveniently divided, the same shall be made and kept in repair at the joint equal expense of the owners of the land on either side."—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSOIN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If a broker should submit a piece of property for sale to a prospective buyer, he, the buyer, not knowing anything about the property before, nor being aware that the property was for sale. And the buyer then goes to another broker, and through him buys the property, who can be held responsible for the commission?

Answer.—The buyer cannot be held "responsible" for the commission. If the owner placed the property in the hands of two different brokers he is liable for commission to the one who was the procuring cause of the sale. Number one does not necessarily earn the commission by "submitting" the property to the prospective buyer.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I would like to have this question answered in your next issue: H offers to an association of twenty men, holding a charter as Mutual, etc., etc., a piece of property. The President of said Association makes an offer, and the offer is accepted by the seller through the agent H. President after that urges his association to back out because commission is not divided with him. If one of the Association then goes privately and purchases such, from the owner, whose name was given to the President, what redress has Agent H in such a case.

Answer.—We do not think the agent can recover any commission. He did not procure the Association as a purchaser, nor the individual member of the association who actually purchased.—LAW EDITOR.

TRESPASS—ADJACENT OWNERS.

Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

1.—What are the rights of a property owner in reference to telegraph and telephone companies. Is it allowable for them to attach their wires to roofs and chimneys without the consent of the owner, and can he (the owner) remove them?

2.—Can an owner place windows in a blank side-wall, which would overlook the yards of adjoining property, or would he be obliged, before building, to have the consent of the owners of the property which these windows would overlook.

3.—A and B each own a house which are both built alike, each having an independent and a party wall. The chimneys in A's house are built in the independent wall, while in B's they are built in the party wall, which is between the two houses. Now, has A the same right to use the chimneys as B?

Answer.—(1) If the employes of the telegraph or telephone companies go upon the roof without the consent of the owner a trespass is committed, for which an action will lie. The owner may also, without notice, remove the wires. (2) He may open windows in a blank wall overlooking another's property without asking the latter's consent. Of course he must do all the work on his own premises without trespassing upon his neighbor. (3) Yes.—LAW EDITOR.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly decide the following in your "Question and Answer" column: (1) A monthly tenant pays say half or any portion of the month's rent on the first of the month and agrees to pay the balance on the fifth, but fails to do so; can the owner dispossess him for non-payment of rent at once or must he wait until the time covered by the first payment has expired, or does the fact that the owner has accepted a part payment, even though it should be only $1, prevent him from commencing proceedings to dispossess the tenant during the month on which the $1 payment was made? (2) Also if a tenant, after proceedings have been commenced, offers to pay the rent in Court, can the owner refuse to accept the same unless the tenant also pays the costs? By kindly answering the above you will greatly oblige.

Answer.—The rent for the whole month is due on the first day. There is no such thing as the tenant paying a certain sum to "cover" a portion of the month except by agreement. If the whole rent is not paid when it is due the landlord may at once commence proceedings to dispossess, even though part of it has been paid, unless he has agreed to wait. (2) Unless the costs, as well as the rent due, are paid, the landlord may demand that a warrant issue.—LAW EDITOR.

WARRANTY DEED.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following question and oblige one of your subscribers: A bought a three-story and cellar brick house of B, builder, some four years ago, B giving A a warranty deed for same. The rear wall of A's house has settled and cracked in several places, and all towards one end. Lintels and window sashes in same wall have settled in one end, 1 inch below the level of the windows; the side wall, an independent wall, has settled and encroached fully 1 inch on the adjoining vacant lot, which is owned by C, the lot being over 6 feet below street grade. Question (1): Can A compel B to straighten the walls of A's house and put the walls in proper order, if not, (2) what remedy has A against B, who is a responsible builder. (3) How far does a warranty deed, with all the usual covenants, given by B, protect A against settlements and encroachments on C's adjoining lot. Will thank you for a reply to the above in your next issue of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

Answer.—(1) No. (2) None. What is called the doctrine of caveat emptor (let the buyer beware) applies. (3) Not at all, if the encroachment is due to the settlement. None of the usual covenants in a deed guarantee or warrant the condition of a house or that it will remain in good condition.—LAW EDITOR.

THE NORTH SIDE MUNICIPAL BUILDING.

MAY 22, 1894.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

What are the features of Assemblyman Marren's bill for new building in the 24th Ward, 177th street and 3d avenue? (1) What offices of the City Department will be there besides Commissioner Hoffens? (2) Will there be a branch office of the Tax Department? (3) Also a branch office for the collection of water rents? (4) Is the law mandatory or discretionary? (5) When will building be finished? (6) Where can I procure a copy? C. T.

Answer.—(1) "Also for offices for the engineers, superintendent and other officials in charge of the public parks within and adjacent to said wards, and of such other subordinates of the several municipal departments as the Sinking Fund Commissioners may deem necessary—" so says the bill. (2) Yes. (3) Yes. (4) Mandatory. (5) No time has been specified. (6) From the Secretary of State.

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I lease to an unincorporated club, a house. The lease is signed by the President, Secretary and Treasurer of said club. It is in arrears for rent. Can I hold the three members mentioned for the lease? Or can any responsible member be called on to make good the arrears?

Answer.—If the lease is made out to these three men, as individuals, you can hold them only. If the lease is so worded that the lessee is the club, then you can collect the arrears from any responsible member pursuant to Sections 1919–1924 of the Code of Civil Procedure.—LAW EDITOR.

SHARES IN A FOREIGN CORPORATION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly inform me through THE RECORD AND GUIDE if five shares in a land improvement company, in Virginia, at $100 a share, on which $25 is paid on each share, requires payments to be made at specified times. If payments are not made can they be foreclosed? Nothing has been paid on them in four years.

Answer.—To reply to this question intelligently we should know the provisions of the act of incorporation of the company, or of the general laws of Virginia relating to the incorporation of such a company. We have not the laws of Virginia at hand.—LAW EDITOR.

BROKER'S COMMISSION ON SALE OF LEASEHOLD.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have sold for A his lease of a business property having a little over five years to run, at a premium of $1,000; what commission am I entitled to? I am afraid it is only 2 per cent on the $1,000, but an acquaintance says I am entitled to 5 per cent upon the full amount of the rent for the unexpired portion of the leasehold.

BROKER.

Anewer.—By the rules and custom of the Real Estate Exchange your commission should be 2 per cent on the price at which you sold the leasehold. You did not rent the property; that is presumed to have been done by another, and the landlord is presumed to have paid the commission due for securing him a tenant.

SALES OF THE WEEK.

By one of those provoking accidents that seem to be inevitable in printing offices the name of Mr. Geo. R. Read was omitted from the long list of sales made by him at the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room last week. It was the biggest sale of the season up to that time, and, from the market standpoint, in every way successful. The sale was for the Huylar estate, and aggregated $384,657.

The following are the sales for the week ending June 2.

 Indicates that the property described has been bid in for plaintiff's account.*

This list does not include properties bid in or withdrawn by the owners.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, JUNE 2, 1894.

Tax Payments and Sales.

IT is stated by Registrar of Arrears F. W. Hinrichs, that of the properties sold for arrears of taxes thus far this year, fully 30 per cent have been redeemed by the owners. In each case the owner has had to pay for redemption the amount at which each parcel sold, plus a bonus of 10 per cent (not exceeding $100 on each parcel), plus 15 per cent interest from the date of sale, plus a fee of $5 for each sale. It is amazing, under these circumstances, that owners should allow their property to go to sale for taxes. Instances are reported where the sale was made in the morning and the owner appeared to redeem in the afternoon of the same day. It would appear to have been the part of economy for the owner to have paid the arrears a few hours sooner and thus have saved the costs of redemption.

The taxbuyer in these cases runs no risk of loss, but stands to realize a handsome profit on his investment. He may exact, in cases of redemption, the 10 per cent bonus and the 15 per cent interest upon what he has paid for the property. If the property is not redeemed he may serve notice upon the owners, mortgagees, persons in possession and other persons interested in the property, and if they do not redeem within the course of the following year he may apply for and receive from the Registrar of Arrears a deed of the property in fee simple absolute. Should the sale for any reason be set aside or vitiated the city is required to refund to him the sum paid, together with 4 per cent interest thereon. So that investments of this character are generally as remunerative and always as safe as any that can be made. The taxbuyer takes title, if it goes so far, in precedence of all other lienors or creditors, mortgage or otherwise.

Of the wisdom and expediency of Mr. Hinrichs' policy there can be no sort of question. It is not only best for the great body of taxpayers, but it is best for every individual taxpayer. There is always more or less grumbling by persons in arrears, and more or less effort to have their properties exempted or the sale postponed, but when they find that the effort is fruitless and they are compelled to pay, they do so, and experience a feeling of satisfaction and relief that the debt is liquidated and no longer hangs over them. Such persons are in constitutional need of some such compulsion, else they would never pay. Procrastination and failure to fulfill their obligations are confirmed habits with them. The moral effect of such compulsion upon them is not the least of the benefits obtained from the policy.

From the economic and political points of view the policy of prompt enforcement of tax payments is doubly commendable. It was only last year that Brooklyn had a scandalous example of the pernicious working of the opposite policy, in the compromise of the arrears of taxes on the elevated railroad properties. It required the passive consent at least of Mayor Boody to accomplish that compromise, and only his reputation for personal integrity of character opposes the general conviction that it was nothing less than a corrupt bargain, which resulted in great spoil for the ringsters then in control of the city government. The prompt enforcement of tax payments would have rendered that and all similar deals impossible. It is only by the accumulation of large sums of arrears that dishonest politicians are provided with opportunities for such deals. Again, some fifteen years ago a number of the persons who had allowed their taxes to go unpaid for years, until the accumulations had mounted to troublesome proportions, made the fact a pretext for an application to a complaisant Legislature for relief, and an act was passed allowing them to compromise by paying an amount equal to the assessed value of their properties for purposes of taxation. By this means many escaped the payment of part of their debts to the city. All such subterfuges and schemes are unjust to the great body of taxpayers. It is the least desirable and least deserving of owners who profit by such schemes—and they profit at the expense of the more desirable citizens. Mr. Hinrichs holds the least popular office in Brooklyn—one which allows precious small pay for political ambition, but for doing his full duty in it, as he seems inclined to do, he deserves the thanks of all right-minded persons, and ought to be borne in kindly remembrance in the future.

THE new building law for Brooklyn was signed by Governor Flower on the 4th ult, and will go into effect on the 3d of June. As previously announced, THE RECORD AND GUIDE will publish the new building law, together with other laws and regulations relating to buildings in the city of Brooklyn, with headings and marginal notes, full indexes and colored engravings showing the thicknesses for walls of various heights, carefully prepared and edited, in uniform style with THE RECORD AND GUIDE publication of the New York building law. Of necessity some little time will elapse before this publication is ready, as the text must be set up in type from a copy of the law officially certified to by the Secretary of State at Albany as being correct, and in many other important particulars the careful manner in which the entire matter must be prepared requires an amount of time that to the many architects, builders, real estate owners, lawyers and others who will anxiously await the appearance of the volume may appear like delay, but in reality will not be delay at all, as can be readily understood by a moment's reflection on the subject.

Pay Your Taxes.

The sale of Brooklyn properties for arrears of taxes will be continued by Registrar of Arrears F. W. Hinrichs on Wednesday next, June 6th. The object of the Registrar in continuing these sales is to compel the equal payment by every property-owner of his just proportion of the cost of government. How well his policy has operated is shown by a comparison of his work with that of his predecessor. Mr. Hinrichs took office on Feb. 1st. During February, March and April of this year he collected $702,989 of arrears of taxes, against $291,442 collected during the corresponding period of 1893 by his predecessor, and the May collections have swelled the total for the first five months of this year to $1,078,334.44. But the change of administration began with the inauguration of Mayor Schieren on Jan. 1st, and, notwithstanding the then prevailing panic, the collections of arrearages during January were larger by over $35,000 than in January, 1893. So that the collections for the first four months of this year amounted to $843,855.16 against $396,741.53 for the corresponding period of 1893. The collections for the entire year of 1893 amounted to but $1,270,399.16. Regarding the properties thus far sold by Mr. Hinrichs, he said to THE RECORD AND GUIDE reporter that fully 30 per cent had been redeemed, some on the very day on which the sale had taken place. It is his intention to continue the sale through to the end of the catalogue, or until all the arrearages shall have been paid and the money due the city deposited in the treasury. The Litchfield estate, which has enjoined the sale of its properties, he said, owes about one-third of the whole amount of the taxes in arrears, on some of its parcels no taxes having been paid since 1872, and on much of it not for fifteen to twenty years. Mr. Hinrichs does not believe that the Litchfield estate will succeed in its effort to evade the payment of its debt to the city.

Notes Gathered Here and There.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen held on Monday, a petition was received from owners and lessees of property on Liberty street asking to be protected from a surface railroad of any kind on that street. They say the street has just been widened by the city and is now being paved, the object being to provide a thoroughfare where horses and carriages may be driven to the bridge. This, they state, has cost $1,500,000. They ask that the resolution adopted by the old board in July last, giving the Broadway Railroad Company consent to build a surface road on Liberty street from Sands to Fulton street be rescinded. It was referred to the Railroad Committee.

At the same meeting Commissioner White put in his plan for the increase of the water supply of 25,000,000 gallons a day and asked for $2,487,000 for the work. Mr. White also asks for $10,000 for investigation for an additional daily supply of 50,000,000 gallons. The matter was referred to the Committee on Drainage.

* * * *

The Park Department also sent in its estimates of appropriations for the department for 1895. The total amount asked for is $413,283.25.

* * * *

A petition was received by the Board containing many signatures asking for an extension of the fire limits so as to include all territory lying between 1st and 3d avenues, and from 39th to 60th streets. The petitioners say they have good reason to believe if prompt action is not taken a valuable portion of territory will be permanently ruined by the further erection of low-class dwellings and tenements of the most flimsy construction. It was referred to the Committee on Fire Department.

The Mayor, with Park Commissioner Squire and Elijah R. Kennedy, looked over the ground of the proposed Shore Road Driveway on Monday. The commission of seven to be appointed by the Mayor under the bill signed by the Governor, will prepare a plan for the development and improvement of the property, and the Park Commissioner is to carry on the work of improvement. The commission is authorized to spend $250,000.

Hon. James F. Crooker, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has appointed the following gentlemen as trustees of the Normal school to be erected at Jamaica: E. V. W. Rossiter, of Flushing; Hon. John L. Childs, Floral Park; Isaac Hendrickson, John Brinckerhoff, John Sutphin, John O'Donnell and Hon. Richard C. McCormick, Jamaica; Samuel T. Peters, Islip; John L. Dolson, New Brighton; John E. Backus, Newtown; Hon. John R. Reid, Babylon, and Joseph Carroll, of this city. The building is to be constructed of brick and will cost $100,000.

Building Commissioner Bush on Thursday appointed J. H. Doremus, 681 Hancock street, and William A. Helwig, 54 39th street, as additional inspectors of buildings. The Commissioner makes Helwig inspector for Flatbush and Doremus will cover Inspector Billard's district. Billard will go to Gravesend.

P. J. MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

The Engineering and Mining Journal has recently published statistics of the mineral productions of the United States in which we find the following items: Hydraulic cement, 7,503,485 bbls. in 1893 against 8,211,181 bbls. in 1892, and Portland cement 596,531 bbls, against 547,440 bbls. in 1892. Of Gypsum, 250,000 short tons in 1893, and 256,259 short tons in 1892. Lime—60,000,000 bbls. in 1893, against 70,000,000 in 1892, and roofing slate, 871,520 squares in 1893 against 953,000 squares in 1892.

BRICKS.—For Common Hards prices remain about as before and there has been no great change in general character of local market since last report. Bad weather has again served as an impediment to outdoor work and interfered accordingly with consumption, and while arrivals ran somewhat smaller there was quite enough of them to go around on the daily booking of orders and leave something of a surplus. Sellers, in consequence, were generally willing to accept former rates promptly and quotations cannot be changed, although in one or two cases sellers seemed to think specially choice quality would command a moderate premium were trade a little more active and general, as the average condition of stock is not as high as desired when demand represents all classes of custom. For Pales there has been some little demand, all of it supposed to come from custom outside of city limits, and for best parcels some little steadiness is shown. There has been one new feature during the week in the settlement of the strikes at the Hudson River yards, and a general sort of scramble of the men to obtain work. The misguided fellows, however, were in many cases disappointed in view of the fact that manufacturers found no encouragement in trade during the period the workmen were enjoying the luxury of a strike, and did not feel inclined to hastily resume especially while weather was in an unpropitious condition. Naturally there have been very few bricks made during the rainy season even by manufacturers who were having no controversy with their employees, and that is a matter likely to prove of considerable importance should any great addition to demand take place within the next few weeks, as many of the trade think will be the case. Desirable brick at ruling cost would seem to be a safe enough investment for any one likely to have use for them.

CEMENT.—Operators in domestic grades do not speak very highly of the condition of trade. Of course the weather has been against them for some time, but independent of that the immediate wants of dealers were small and they would not stock up on chances of the future. Supplies were ample and to spare even though production was curtailed and former rates readily accepted. Importations last month were large, including some good sized blocks from England, but mainly from Continent, and a great deal of the stock is still in first hands. It is, however, believed to be of fine quality and likely to secure attention as soon as business improves, while on prices a steady tone is maintained. A Canadian market report, published just before the close of last month, says: "The arrivals for the season up to date have been 8,250 casks of English and 5,425 Belgian, as against 26,050 casks of English and 6,400 Belgian for the same time last year. The volume of business transacted this season in cement has been quite as large as in previous years, and, in consequence, the small arrivals do not indicate any decrease, but, on the other hand, importers have been put out considerably, and in some cases have not been able to fill their contracts promptly for the want of stuff. On the whole the tone of the market is steady and values are unchanged. We quote spot prices at $2 to $2.10 for English brands, and $1.85 to $1.95 for Belgian, and to arrive, English brands $2 and Belgian $1.80 to $1.90.

GLASS.—Business has been moderate for a week or ten days owing in a large measure to disagreeable weather and difficulties in the way of shipments. The tone of the market, however, was exceedingly firm, and the tendency of values rather uppish if anything. The growing scarcity of fuel in consequence of the coal strike has caused the shutting off of a number of pots, and, in addition, manufacturers are becoming tired of unnecessary and profitless competition and quietly seeking to bring about another combination for mutual protection. Foreign glass is firmly held and not arriving with much freedom. The movement of plate glass has been smaller, but without weakening the tone on values, and cost remains as full as heretofore.

LATH.—About the only change in the market during week seems to be a somewhat smaller supply from both Maine and the Provinces. The offering was handled very well, and although dealers in many cases were pretty fairly stocked from previous purchases some were willing to make further additions at old cost, and now and then a new customer could be found both local and out of town. At the present writing offerings from first hands are moderate, and no receiver is willing to admit any important amount expected.

LIME.—The refusal to ship supplies is retained as a good method by manufacturers and very limited arrivals have again taken place. From amounts on hand, however, buyers could obtain all they required, with prompt deliveries and at former cost, and the chances are that rates will be kept about where they stand until present accumulation is pretty well worked off and fresh stock is brought forward. Dealers are said to be scantily supplied in consequence of the hand-to-mouth policy of investment to which they have long adhered.

LUMBER.—The story of the market varies in no important particular. Probably feeling that a poor excuse is better than none, many of the trade are citing the miserable weather of last week and the holiday during the period now under review as factors tending to prevent an expansion of business, but in any case it is admitted that buyers willing to take hold freely or invest beyond the limit of most imperative necessity would have created great surprise. That applies to the general yard trade and for all classes of wood, and is directly reflected in the demand for bulk lots of stock. Indeed, some operators insist that there is no straight out-and-out demand for anything with the possible exception of certain special lines, and where business is accomplished it is the result of steady and persistent drumming of those salesmen who think it worth their while to devote time and attention to the market. Some of the yards are commencing to fill up with new lots of lumber, but a great deal of it is of stock bought a long while ago, even so far back as last season, and which is now ordered forward because there is plenty of time to handle it, and it keeps the yard force of workmen doing something in landing and piling the stuff.

White Pine, when business gets on its feet again, is likely to find a pretty general demand. There must in time come a reaction from the indifferent attitude of exporters, especially those who cater to the South American trade, and it is known that a great many boxmakers who have for some time been experimenting with other woods have about made up their minds that they can best serve a portion of their trade by giving it a product from pine, provided cost does not go too high again. Flooring will also be wanted, and a great many specifications are calling for white pine trim. Properly seasoned it will outlast a great many of the woods that have temporarily successfully competed with it, and some new fads in matter of decorating require a trim upon which the paint brush can be used as occasion may require.

Yellow Pine continues low and irregular in price and buyers appear to have greater advantages than they really appreciate. Demand, however, does not show an inclination to expand greatly and all direct calls for stock are based upon some very well fixed want, and little is ordered for yard accumulation beyond such parcels as may be necessary to make a working assortment. Some little shipping trade is doing on f. o. b. orders, but there are plenty of sellers after it, and close careful calculation is required to perfect negotiations.

Carolina Pine finds only a moderate sort of demand from custom in this vicinity and the outside trade is irregular. Eastern wants appear to have become very well supplied and orders from up-State are falling away. Offerings are plentiful enough to meet all the requirements of the situation and prices remain easy with the recently revised list quoted, although it is surmised that now and then sellers manage to get in a little extra allowance when that course will catch desirable custom. There is too much stock at primal points for general good of market.

Hemlock is being delivered to some extent through the State on old orders, but not meeting with new demand of importance from any quarter, and most lines of custom manifest a tone of indifference toward the product of all sections at the moment, prices remaining nominally unchanged. Conditions at primal points, however, seem to be very strong and in accord with fears noted last week. A private letter from a leading house at Williamsport, Penn., says, in substance, that the great floods all over that section will make an increased demand for lumber for all kinds of repairs, and, furthermore, there has been a large quantity of lumber lost through high water, while logs have been carried away from natural place of manufacture to points where they cannot be reached for six, twelve or eighteen months. The misfortune at Williamsport is very great, about 175 million feet of logs running from the boom and going down the river until some of them brought up in Chesapeake Bay.

Spruce is not wanted in very liberal quantity by any line of custom. A goodly number of ordered cargoes reached here last month which has satisfied the immediate wants of a portion of the trade, and there appeared to be enough random to fill in on the odds and ends of demand. Possibly a few more could be placed if of very fine assortment, but there is nothing to indicate that the market would exhaust any considerable quantity of stock good or bad even were the rate to be shaved down very low. It is, however, quite unlikely that arrivals will be important as some mills are shut down entirely, others have orders against pretty much all their logs, and, as new logs are held above a parity of the rates that can be obtained for lumber, manufacturers are likely to simply complete booked engagements and stop. State spruce is reported steady and with every indication of finding a demand about equal to the offering. Virginia spruce is dull and many people are calling loudly and earnestly for deliveries on the engagements made some time ago. It looks very much, however, as though manufacturers had oversold or miscalculated their ability to secure logs, and are now placed in the disagreeable position of being compelled to apologize to new custom for delays in deliveries.

Hardwoods find more or less attention all the while without reaching a point of much animation. Buyers are simply acting with the caution common to all business deals at the moment, the main feature of which is an elimination of even so much of a speculative basis as might lead to investment for fall and winter supplies. There are exceptions, of course, to the rule, and they generally develop when something extra attractive in the way of staple stuff is tendered, and dealers or manufacturers find it impossible to resist the temptation to come into possession of a parcel peculiarly adapted to their particular line of trade. So far as local consumption is concerned there is not much chance for walnut, yet there are operators keeping a close watch for anything that may show up attractive and willing to lay it away on the belief that to some extent it is coming into fashion again when business picks up and in any case will find favor among foreign buyers. Quartered oak, ash, birch (both red and white), and maple are favorites so far as trading goes, and poplar, of course, has reasonably steady sale. Cypress is talked of nicely by sellers, but buyers generally are willing to wait until they see how business shapes before displaying much interest.

On Thursday the Tariff bill was taken up in the Senate and within an hour the four paragraphs in the lumber schedule were disposed of. The first of the four (number 178), fixing duties on lumber, planed or finished, was, by a vote of 35 to 24, stricken out of the bill, so that such lumber may be put upon the free list when that stage of the bill is reached. Local operators are about as apathetic as ever over this matter and calculate that all benefits of free lumber will be absorbed before stock reaches this market.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The large number of timber deals that have been made during the past month and the number of others that are under contemplation are some of the most encouraging signs of the times. It shows that confidence is returning, and especially that capitalists have faith in timber investments as a safe place for their money. It shows that there is a firm conviction on the part of moneyed men that there is yet money to be made in the lumber business, and lots of it. Let the good work go on. It is what the country needs to-day, is this placing of confidence in the situation and going ahead and investing for future profits.

Nothing could better illustrate the quiet that pervades the lumber trade throughout the northwest than the fact that during the present week of reduced rates to Missouri river points from Chicago, Wisconsin and Mississippi river points, the increase in trade, while being decidedly noticeable, has not been of such a magnitude as to tax railway facilities or to cause manufacturers and dealers much trouble in filling all orders received for immediate shipment. In ordinary years such a reduction would cause almost double the volume of lumber to be sent out, but this year the increase caused by it was about 20 per cent.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

In view of the weakness of the Chicago market this spring, and the comparatively low range of prices, it has been suggested by some that values are now at a much lower range than for several years past. Others think to the contrary, and assert that prices are now about the same that they were prior to the booming demand which accompanied the building of the world's fair. To reach a just conclusion in this matter the writer has taken a backward look through the files of the Lumberman for the purpose of ascertaining what the market really was in May of recent years, and to thence draw a comparison with the market in May this year.

The price of short green piece stuff by the cargo in this city up to May 20th the present season was $9 a thousand. Long wide stuff has been priced at $11 to $11.50 for 20 feet lengths up to and including 26 feet, and common inch $11 to $12.50. In May, 1891, the year in which the world's fair building began to be felt, short green piece stuff sold at $10.50 a thousand. Slimjims, or long narrow joists, at $12.50 to $13, and long wide joists at $13 to $15. It can be seen that, to start with, there was a difference of $1.50 between the price of short stuff in May, 1891, and May this year, with the important advantage in 1891 of a relatively much greater price for long wide joists than now prevails; a fact that, in estimating the relative value of piece stuff as between May of the two years, is of much importance. The difference between the prices of common inch lumber in 1891 and this year is not great.

In 1890 the market in May approached nearer to that of this spring than that in May, 1891. Short piece stuff was quoted on May 24 at $9.50 to $10 a thousand, and long wide joists at $11.50 to $13.50. Common inch maintained about the same price as prevailed in 1891, namely, $11 to $12 a thousand.

THE manipulation of the Industrials and of Chicago Gas give to the stock market any appearance of activity it possesses. If the general list is strong, though dull, it is due more to an indisposition to sell on the part of holders than to any apparent buying demand. The movement in the Industrials is perhaps justified by the declared attitude of the Senate on the Tariff Bill, though exceptions might very well be made. For instance, it is hard to imagine Cordage Common as worth 20, while the 6 per cent bonds sell at only 85, with two classes of preferred stock between them. Chicago Gas's advance was accompanied by a good many rumors, the best of which was that the Illinois Attorney General does not get sufficient encouragement from the business community to induce him to press his suit against the company very hard. The railroad list should soon be helped by the fact that the time is drawing near when earnings will compare with returns reflecting the early declines of the past year and not the big business of the first half of 1893, and therefore the comparison will be more favorable to current figures. The coal strike, the inexhaustible mouthiness of the Senate and gold exports continue to hold back general business, but they will end some time, probably soon now, and as bad news seems to have lost its influence on the markets the prospect of a rise on the first fair occasion is good.

FOREIGN security markets have been more or less affected by the ministerial changes in France and in Hungary, but have taken the Servian coup d'etat with indifference, a fact that shows how little business is doing and how almost wholly speculative the business that is being done is. Austrian railway returns for 1893 are very favorable. The Ostade miners' strike collapsed entirely; the men returned to work without one of their demands having been granted. The issue of the $30,000,000 Indian loan is said to indicate another change in the Indian government's vacillating financial policy. The sin of vacillation is rather hard to prove. In the imminence of suspension of silver purchases here, the Indian government closed its mints to the free coinage of silver and has kept them closed ever since. It did try to fix a minimum value to the rupee by refusing to sell council bills at less than a fixed price, but finding the market would not take its bills at its valuation, promptly and wisely yielded and has accepted the market price ever since. The failure of income to provide for all expenditures which necessitates the issue of the new loan may not be wholly due to the government's silver policy, but also to trade depression similar to that which on this side is creating a deficiency for the fiscal year of between seventy and eighty millions of dollars. Italian securities have advanced on the expectation that the Italian government will relieve itself of some of its difficulties by disposing of the alcohol monopoly to an English syndicate. But the resignation of the Crispi ministry makes the early rehabilitation of the country's finances very doubtful. Official statistics show that the production of raw sugar in Germany increased 12.8 per cent in the half year closed April 1 last. The failures in the Argentines and other unfavorable financial conditions there have not done as much harm to their securities for the same reason that our own withstand bad news, viz., there is little or no inflation in current quotations.

THE most serious feature of the existing labor troubles is the latitude allowed to those of the men who have assumed an open attitude of defiance and violation of the law. The indulgence that has been accorded to these men with arms in their hands and therefore in open revolt against legalized authority does not stop short of tacit encouragement. These insurgents are described as mostly foreigners, the majority of whom do not use the English tongue, at any rate in communicating with each other, and who are thus being allowed to assume that they have a warrant for their lawlessness, which was never intended under either Federal or State enactments. There was never a time before when such acts as have been perpetrated in Colorado, Illinois and Indiana lately have been carried to such lengths because hitherto the hand of the law has always interfered promptly to check them. The outrages committed in Pittsburgh in 1876 and at Homestead in 1892 were, it is true, more violent while they lasted than any yet seen in the present conflict, but they were promptly terminated by the power of the State, though we are probably to-day suffering from the fact that the people responsible for the loss of life at Homestead have not yet been brought to punishment. If a dispute about wages is to be considered a sufficient justification for any outrage on life and property, then we may look for every strike to be settled by force of arms, only the employers must also be allowed the same freedom, and then it follows that it will only need a strike large enough to bring us to a condition of civil war, with the wage-payers and wage-earners arrayed in arms against one another instead of states against states. This would be only the realization of what the anarchistic among the labor party have been threatening all along, and in view of what is already taking place under our eyes to-day is not so farfetched as it seems at first sight to be. The fact that the lawbreakers are in a very large majority people who in their native lands would not be permitted to assume the belligerent attitude they do a moment longer than it would take to send troops against them, proves at once that they are acting under a mistaken notion of what is meant by the liberty accorded each citizen here. There ought to be no delay in undeceiving them and teaching them a respect for the law and the rights of others which evidently they need to learn. The prompt action of the Federal authority in regard to interference with property under its protection by mobs called into existence by Coxey's conceit, proves that all that is necessary to end these scenes of violence is the show of a proper determination to protect life and property against lawlessness at all hazards.

A Nomination for the Mayoralty.

FROM a partisan standpoint, no doubt, all approaching elections are important—they stimulate that never quiescent public nervousness known amongst us as "politics." When we calmly consider the matter, really it is extraordinary the amount of energy and excitement that we put into our periodic political rumpuses which, in a majority of cases, have no apparent effect whatever upon social or upon public life. They do not add anything to the forces by virtue of which the nation is prosperous, wise or great. They are purely "personal" affairs, in so much that their most particular concern is merely the personnel of government, or rather officeholders. Municipal elections, particularly, are, as a rule, marked by this utter insignificance of results. One may fairly say that during the last quarter of a century there has not been, save for one or two notable exceptions, any election in New York City which has been more than a party squabble for place, in which the public have assisted chiefly because the activity of "politics" titillates the morbid processes of prejudice and self-interest by which, in so great a measure, government is formulated everywhere in this country, from its highest manifestation at the national seat in Washington to its merely nominal existence in the smallest of Texan roadside villages. "Politics" is the great national game of the American people and the professionals who furnish the sport take the gate money.

The coming election in this city, however, promises to be an important one, in a sense that lies quite outside the vocabulary of "politics." Politicians themselves recognize that there is likely to be an unusual and incalculable element in the contest—an element which it will be impossible to affect by the ordinary methods of organized electioneering. This element is moral dissatisfaction. Partisan dissatisfaction is, of course, always rife. It is one of the sources of activity and friction that enliven our annual political contests. The rules of the game not only permit it, but provide for it. It is susceptible of treatment upon purely political lines. But the unusual element which threatens this year to disturb the ordinary order of events, is the moral dissatisfaction which is working just now, with such uncommon force among the decent people of this city. It is true this moral dissatisfaction has never been entirely absent; it has always played some part in our elections. But it has seldom pervaded the community as it pervades it at present, and very, very rarely has it had the revolutionary intent which marks it to-day. Apparently, the cumulative effects of years of evil government, and shameful disclosures, repeated ad nauseum, which have stigmatized the good reputation of every citizen, are at last working upon the public conscience. The sentiment of shame at last is in positive conflict with partisan feelings and with hopeless or hardened indifference as to the possibility of political reform. It is easy to see that these conditions promise a freer exercise than ordinary of good citizenship at the polls next November. It is this promise of better things that renders the coming election so important.

The Devil's advocate will, undoubtedly, urge that presumption is decidedly against the success of the reform spirit in New York City. In the first place, nowhere in the world is the baser side of politics so 'stablished and fortified by popular consent as upon Manhattan Island. Some persons, we are aware, hold to the belief that political corruption and vulgarity flourish in the metropolis despite the antipathies and desires of a majority of its citizens, but this opinion is not tenable by common sense If decent people, desirous of good government, were really in the majority that very fact in itself would prevail for righteousness and create decent, good government. Intelligence and down right probity declare themselves without having to stand up to be counted ; their efficacy does not depend upon a registration of their existence at the polls. If the government of this city is corrupt it is because the average working sentiment of our people is corrupt. Indeed, it is safe to say that there are very few citizens even of those who call themselves "decent" and denounce corruption in heated terms who are not derelict almost daily in respect to their civic duties. We have heard the indictment of Tammany. We have yet to hear—and it would be inter esting to hear it—Tammany's indictment of the people. If Tam many is corrupted, who are the corruptors? People talk at times as though the latter consisted entirely of brothel-keepers and proprietors of saloons. How interesting and edifying it would be to learn the names of the multitude of " prominent citizens" in the professional and mercantile ranks who actually have shared or have striven to share the fat profits of corruption, venality and malfeasance. Those are the direct, and, if comparisons must be made, the worst offenders. Then there are the indirect offenders; corporations and individuals, all those that have paid that "blackmail for immunity" that we hear so much about, rather than adopt the more difficult task of opposition, which good citizenship requires. The ranks of these are not by any means composed entirely of ladies of easy virtue and of criminals who have paid tribute through the police. Moreover, how many newspapers are there that have at one time or another itched for Tammany lucre, and how interesting would be the publication of the names of those whose itch has been mollified! After these—the principals—come the vast number of petty offenders—those that sneak from their jury duty, and seek their ease and petty gains in divers ways at the expense of their civic integrity. And so on, ad infinitum. It may be that at whatever point Tammany touches the people, high and low, there is corruption, but we are too inclined to overlook the important fact that where the corrupted is there is the corruptor also.

The presumption against the efficacy of the reform spirit is further strengthened by the partisanship of even the "better element" of the community. A large proportion of it is, apparently, of the belief that good government can be obtained only by party rule, despite the abundant evidence that party rule, in the vulgar conception of it, is inimical to good government; and despite the manifest fact that the efficient administration of public worke, and services such as those performed by the Police and the Fire Departments—the only affairs with which municipal government is properly concerned—is no more a matter of political faith than is the efficient administration of a railroad or an army. "Politics" is as absurd an element in the one place as in the other. Yet, here we have the Tribune and other journals prostituted to "politics," crying that the only hope for the salvation of the city is in a "straight" Republican ticket or a straight Democratic ticket, as the case may be.

Undoubtedly, the presumption is against the success of reform; nevertheless decent people have stronger occasion for hopefulness this year than in many years. The Maynard victory, the great victory in Brooklyn last fall, have begotten a fruitful confidence that the Devil is vulnerable. In addition, recent events—particularly the rough shod, but salutary destruction during this year's session of the Legislature at Albany of many good people's belief that one party is inherently better than another —have done much to overthrow those partisan refuges to which thousands of well-meaning but deluded individuals preferred to betake themselves instead of breaking from old allegiances and standing forth openly under the banner of Reform pure and simple. It has taken much experience to demonstrate to them that neither Republicanism nor Democracy spells Reform, nor stands for a business administration of local affairs. Experience, however, has testified so abundantly and convincingly to this conclusion that he who needs more experience before he can learn the lesson, clearly can never be taught by experience.

But, though disgust and discontent with the management of municipal affairs is deeper and more general among citizens that they have perhaps ever been, they need, if they are to become efficient instruments of reform, some organization through which they may work. As already said, one can put no faith in the existing political machines. Whatever either party may promise, certainly neither has any higher idea of reform than to defeat the other, and secure those spoils which according to political ethics belong to the victor. As a matter of fact, what we want in New York is a party that is not a political party but a sort of board of business men, a directorate appointed by the citizens of this city to manage municipal affairs upon very much the same lines as those prevailing in say the Pennsylvania Railway, or in any other well-managed mercantile concern. Clearly, if we are to get such an organization much, nay everything, will depend upon the character of the man we put at the head of it. We want, first of all, an individual of undoubted integrity in whom the public cannot refuse to place confidence. He must be, moreover, a man who has had experience in the management of city affairs, a good administrator, a man of broad culture and of intelligence, one whose political opinions are wide and liberal enough not to offend the partisanship of any rational citizen. Such a candidate, it will be said, is so hard to find that if reform depends upon finding him reform is well-nigh impossible. One of the most fortunate circumstances of our situation, however, is that, in conjunction with the public discontent about matters municipal, there happens to be an available candidate possessing in a marked degree the qualifications we have just mentioned. We refer to Mr. Seth Low. His name is already upon the lips of many people as the strongest that could be selected for the Mayoralty in the interest of reform. In all essential respects his nomination would leave nothing to be desired. His experience, his position, his culture, integrity, render him a candidate whose qualifications meet more than the practical requirements of the case. Why not nominate Mr. Seth Low?

BY the defeat of the Brawley bill, for the remission of the 10 per cent tax on clearing house certificates issued by private and State banks between August 1st and October 15th last year, in the House, we are saved from another agitation in Congress, which threatened to be as harassing to business as other discussions on financial and currency topics have been. The introduction of this bill was made the occasion for attempting the repeal of the tax on State bank currency altogether. No one will deny that further currency agitation is the last thing desired by the trading and financial interests. The times are such that it would be the best wisdom to table even the most equitable proposals for currency reform. There can, therefore, be no question about the advisability of refusing to consider a proposition that was likely to revive the distrust and confusion that have attended currency disputes in the near past. Congress is too ignorant of such subjects and too ready to be influenced by outside ignorance to make the prospect of another currency discussion anything but reassuring. Besides, the Brawley bill was not altogether such an act of common justice as its advocates claim for it. Let it be remembered that the issue of clearing house certificates has a selfish commercial and not a philanthropic motive. The conditions which necessitate their issue are as much due to the banks themselves as to any other part of the business world, and as they give the banks enlarged funds, which they can very profitably employ in times of dear money, there is really no injustice in asking that any question of relief to certain classes of banks, from what appears to be a discrimination against them, be postponed until the times are better and the tempers of parties will permit it to be discussed without renewing the troubles from which all classes of the business world have suffered so long and so much.

NEW YORK is not apt to strike the observer as a city wherein space is wasted. In the lower part of the town particularly the contrary is likely to be the impression with its small park area and its new crop of immensely high buildings. Yet it is in precisely this part of the city where evidences of positive waste of building areas can be found. Where there was opportunity for up and down straight lines the land has been economically, if not parsimoniously, devoted to the uses of the builder; in fact it is to be regretted that our ancestors had not a better foresight of our present day necessities in the way of street width than they had. But where the angle came into play in laying out the most irregular parts, there are many little streets that are entirely unnecessary, and if not devoted to the uses of the vehicle and the pedestrian would have made a significant addition to the number of business sites in a region where they are in great demand and consequently of large pecuniary value. For instance, it is impossible to understand why the two fragments of highway that make Chestnut street, and the other two that compose Batavia street, should have become public instead of private property, or why Birmingham and Pelham streets should have the distinguished honor of running through a block apiece without connections at either end. It is probably useless to suggest that these and others such as these be abandoned as public thoroughfares and sold for business purposes for the benefit of the city at large; their existence involves too many public and private rights to be disposed of. Supposing, however, it were possible to convert these from unnecessary public ways to useful building sites, the operation would result in the enrichment of the city, besides save the expense of repairs and cleaning; from their appearance little or none of either of the latter is done, still it would justify a demand for reducing the appropriations.

Is Skeleton Construction an Experiment Only?

There are a great many things in connection with the modern high building that call for serious consideration. None is more important than the question of their durability. When a sum of from half a million to twelve hundred thousand dollars is invested in a site and building it is reasonable to conclude that the people who are putting up the money believe that they are making a permanent investment, as terrestrial investments go. But when it is considered with what materials their expensive buildings are built a doubt arises as to whether their confidence is well founded. In fact, pursuing this line of thought, the conclusion is inevitable that the high building necessitating steel construction is no more or less than an experiment of gigantic proportions. The building proper, it must be remembered, is not, as the uninitiated might excusably suppose, the stone and brick on which his vision rests, but an inner caging of iron and steel hidden away by brick, stone and plaster, so that its condition cannot be seen at any time either from the outside or the inside of the building. Now it is known that iron and steel rusts, the one more than the other under given conditions, and this quality raises the question whether it is a proper material to use to carry the weight of the walls and floors of a building designed—so we are told—to last for centuries. Iron and steel will not deteriorate so long as they are protected from air or water. Does the manner of constructing the high building afford proper protection to the metal from these elements? Bricks, cement, plaster and other things used are not only not air-tight, but they are known to absorb water comparatively in large quantities. To protect the metal against these it is oiled and painted; but how long does the oil and paint serve as a protective? If from faulty construction, or from deterioration due to oxydization of the metal, an iron or steel upright column in a great building should rust out or be impaired at the rivets or joints any one can imagine what the disastrous result would be. A building is a thing much given to the development of small defects, the renewals here and there in the course of a reasonably moderate number of years are sufficient to almost entirely cover the building. This being the case, is it not probable that, even supposing the iron or steel is effectually protected from air and water in the first instance, that they become exposed to them while these defects are being created and the necessary repairs made. While these doubts arise it is by no means conclusive that the iron and steel will not do what is required of them, but the present system of constructing the high building seems so experimental and the experiment is being carried so far, at such immense cost, and is of such overwhelming importance to the public that it is right and fair that architects, engineers and builders should give their reasons for their confidence in the materials of which the building is composed. Several gentlemen have been asked by THE RECORD AND GUIDE to answer this inquiry, and the results are given below, with the reminder, which it is only fair to make, that they are off-hand statements which could probably have been made more conclusive had they been the work of more deliberation:

Mr. John Cooper, of the Jackson Architectural Iron Works, who is an expert upon architectural iron, said: "When you ask me my opinion of iron and steel bricked up in a pier of a high building I have to say that I cannot tell you because we have not had experience enough to decide, though I have no doubt that when properly treated the metal will serve its purpose as long as the other materials in the building. The present method of skeleton construction has introduced the use of steel; I think cast-iron has very much superior lasting properties as against rust than either steel or wrought iron. Yet for exceedingly high structures for the purpose of obtaining well-braced buildings and having the column connections and beam-work riveted my preference would be for the use of steel. This preference would apply to all buildings above twelve stories high. Below that I would prefer cast-iron. I am satisfied that cast-iron is preferable in case of fire and in case of much exposure to moisture. We have in our office a section of a column taken out of the Western Union Building which supported a tower and which showed that a cast-iron column, notwithstanding the extreme heat, sufficient almost to fuse the iron, would stay in position while the wrought iron-work of the tower proper was all bent and twisted. Had the columns been of wrought iron the tower would have collapsed and fallen into the street. Some cast-iron columns which were in the basement of the old World Building and exposed to the flames were taken out, afterwards shortened, turned in the lathe and used in the building of the Architectural Terra Cotta Company, at Ravenswood. About the time that building was completed it was burned to the ground and these identical columns were used a third time in its reconstruction, less about 10 per cent, which were too badly damaged to use again. No wrought iron or steel column would give such a result as that as against fire. The presence of dampness in walls is a thing that should be guarded against. The late O. B. Potter told me that although he built the north wall of his building 24 or 28 inches thick, I forget which, until the Times Building was erected and served as a shield to protect it, in a storm of two or three days of driving rain, the damp would penetrate through the extreme thickness of this wall. Special care should be taken to protect the columns against enemies, such as steam exhaust and even electric wires, and as a protection against dampness they should be water-proofed by receiving a coating of asphalt or some equally good substance before being covered up. I think asphalt would be a more lasting protection than the oil and metallic paint now employed. It is used in iron-work put into docks and other places where exposure to moisture is great and is found to be effective. The law calls for a thickness of three-quarters of an inch as a minimum in cast-iron columns put into any building; at the same time it allows steel columns to be a quarter of an inch as a minimum. It seems to me that in high buildings where the columns are buried in the walls and where the walls are exposed, that it would be better to have the minimum thickness of the steel increased to at least three-eighths, or better still, to half an inch. The top story of a high building is required to be only 12 inches thick, in which also the steel column is buried. A driving rain storm will very soon penetrate the outside brick-work and in course of time affect the column.

Mr. J. B. Cornell, of J. B. Cornell & Co., said: "If the iron column is well protected from dampness and consequent rust, I see no reason why it should not endure indefinitely. They can be protected, I do not want to say how, because that is part of the business. I have in a number of cases used means to prevent deterioration of steel and wrought iron columns, and I think sucessfully, and I have, too, made some chemical tests which have helped to form or confirm my opinions. But the great thing is good, common sense treatment of the columns. It ought to be set carefully and properly; no water or steam pipes should be allowed near it, steam is especially an enemy of iron; iron carrying loads ought not to be so placed as to be subject to alternating dampness and dryness. Knowing what is bad for the material, the thing to do is to protect it from that. I do not give preference to cast-iron over steel or wrought iron. There are advantages in the use of cast-iron over steel or wrought iron in some cases, and in others in the two latter over cast-iron. I believe that cast-iron resists the rusting process better than the other two. The result of using iron in the tall buildings of course we cannot say anything about yet, for the simple reason that the tall building is of recent date, but we have taken out iron columns that have been in buildings from forty to fifty years with the backs completely covered, although the fronts were exposed and have not found them at all injured, having simply a slight coloring of rust. Iron lintels that were wholly hidden away in the brick-work offered equally satisfactory results. In regard to the use of wrought iron, if it is subject to certain well-known conditions, it will rust and rust badly; these conditions can, however, be obviated. Briefly, my opinion is that if an iron or a steel column is properly made and painted before being put together, it ought to stand indefinitely."

Mr. A. J. Post:—"I ask of people who say I cannot prove that iron or steel in a building will last for centuries, can you prove that it will not? I do not anticipate that there is ever going to be any trouble with iron buried in walls of buildings. I cannot, and I do not think anybody can give a scientific reason why iron will not corrode; they can tell why it will. With iron thoroughly protected from dampness and air there is no reason why it should corrode. If the outer work is air-tight and keeps the water from getting back into the brick, there is no reason why the iron within should corrode. We have not yet had the experience necessary to speak of the results in high buildings, but such experience as we have had has not shown that corrosion of iron to any dangerous extent is going on in iron built into walls. In taking down old buildings we have found cast-iron lintels, placed where the water had a chance to get at them, perfectly sound when taken out. Another example of the lasting power of cast-iron is found in the condition of that taken out of the piers of the 3d avenue bridge. That iron was liable to be wet at high tide and dry at low tide, but it had not corroded to any extent. The experience we have had to my mind shows that there is no reason whatever why iron or steel construction should not go on to any extent. If we can keep air from the columns and any injurious amount of dampness, I do not think there is any danger from corrosion, and I think further that the system of building now in use is sufficient for that. All first class architects take care to have these conditions observed. I have never seen a building or built any building where they were not perfectly taken care of. At the same time I must say that I have an objection to building with thin steel or wrought iron columns in walls from the possibilities of dampness and resulting corrosion going on, because these corrode a great deal faster than the cast-iron does. I prefer cast-iron columns. The question of weight of the metal does not affect my opinion, for the reason that when you get a column that has to carry a very large load the iron column that is to carry that load does not weigh more than the steel one. Nor do I think there is anything in the objection to cast-iron from fear of its giving way under a cross strain, as that can easily be overcome by a lateral brace."

W. A. Conover: "I would not care to express an opinion on the subject; the engineer is the proper man to do that. I know that brick is porous and iron subject to rust, but I do not know whether the iron put into tall buildings will deteriorate quickly or slowly or at all. I have no data on which I can base an opinion. I have taken iron anchors out of all buildings which had been there covered up for a good many years and have found one sound and another, not more than five feet away from it, so gone that it could be crumpled up in the hand. What caused this state of things I do not know. Some law of nature was violated in the one case and not in the other is evident, but what it was I cannot say."

Mr. C. W. Clinton: "We have not had these tall buildings long enough to tell from actual experience what the results of this system of building will be, but I imagine that when the iron is well protected that it will last so long that before its condition could create any anxiety the building will be taken away and another put in its place. Of course everybody knows that steel is more vulnerable than cast-iron, but I think that notwithstanding that fact if the steel is well painted and prevented from coming into contact with the atmosphere that it will not exhaust to any extent. In some cases we have found iron in old buildings perfectly intact after, I think, at least twenty or thirty years' use. The law requires that a beam shall be four times and a column five times the strength required for the several weights they have to carry, and that, I think, is a great factor of safety. It is reasonable to conclude that it would be a very long time indeed before such beams and columns would rust sufficiently to become unsafe, how long, of course, we cannot tell at the present time. In very tall buildings I think the use of steel is preferable because steel will stand strains that cast-iron will not. There are a great many considerations that would weigh in a discussion of this subject that I could not deal with off-hand. For instance, in a properly constructed building of, say, twelve stories, if the iron in the wall should rust out the pressure could be taken by the walls; but that would not be the case with the interior column, because if that rusted out the floor would come down."

Mr. Geo. B. Post: "All I can say upon the subject can be said in a very few words. It is a well-known fact that brick-work is more or less porous; that unless the surface is painted rain will penetrate very deeply into the best cement brick-work, and it is a question that experience alone can solve as to what the efficient life of iron which is simply protected by a thin casing of brick-work will be. The experience in Chicago with grillage foundations, or iron beams imbedded in cement seems to show—if the results are reported correctly of the condition of beams which have been in such foundations for ten or twelve years and have for various reasons been uncovered—that the cement mortar has the property of preventing the oxydization of the iron to any serious depth."

Mr. F. H. Kimball: "I do not anticipate any trouble at all provided the work is properly done. The iron should be equal to the life of the building. If the column is well built in and care taken to see that all the spaces between the bricks and the iron are filled up with cement, that the best of cement is used—it is known that cement is a preservative of iron—there can be no danger of deterioration for a great many years, sufficient at least answer all the requirements that the iron is called upon to fulfill. Lastly, I think it as well to master the situation from the starting point by cementing the outer walls so that the moisture cannot get into the brick-work at all, or at least if it does it cannot go far enough to affect the iron. If the iron is thoroughly protected from the atmosphere, we are justified in presuming that it will last for centuries."

Questions and Answers.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly name the styles of architecture of each of the following named buildings, and settle a dispute between two friends? 1, World; 2, Tribune; 3, Times; 4, Mail and Express; 5, Potter, and 6, Manhattan Club buildings.

Answer.—1, 4, 6, Renaissance; 2, 5, Nondescript; 3, Romanesque. Strictly speaking none of these buildings is to be classed in any of the historical styles, they are all modern, and with the possible exception of 6, American.

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I mailed a diagram of a plot of land to a real estate agent in the suburbs, requesting him to offer the same for sale and quoting the price I desired to sell for. A short time after I received a communication from him informing me he had sold the property at my price, and accepted a deposit in cash from the purchaser as assurance of good faith. On the receipt of this information I at once wrote him, stating I would not accept the price, having concluded the property was worth much more. Am I compelled by law to recognize the agent's sale of my property at a price I have concluded below its value, without personally having signed a contract?

Answer.—We think not, 2 Rev. Stat. 134, Section 8, reads as follows: "Every contract for the leasing for a longer period than one year, or for the sale of any lands, or any interest in lands, shall be void, unless the contract or some note or memorandum thereof, expressing the consideration, be in writing and be subscribed by the party, by whom the lease or sale is to be made." Section 9 reads as follows: "Every instrument required to be subscribed by any party, under the last preceding section, may be subscribed by the agent of such party lawfully authorized." Section 10 reads as follows: "Nothing in this title contained shall be construed to abridge the powers of courts of equity to compel the specific performance of agreements in cases of part performance of such agreements." None of the reported cases go so far as to say that the mere deposit of money to bind the bargain or payment of part of the purchase money is sufficient to take the case out of the statute.

It will be well, however, for you to note that if the agent had signed a memorandum such as is spoken of in Section 8—and a receipt or the deposit, expressing the subject matter and the consideration would be such a memorandum—you could possibly be held to a specific performance. It is also possible that the agent may hold you for his commission.—LAW EDITOR.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

(1) I lease a piece of ground for ten years and intend moving a house thereon and make other improvements. At the expiration of my lease can I remove the house and improvements. (2) I leased a piece of river front property, the owner agreed in the lease to provide or set apart a lane of three feet to be used as an entrance to the property; after using it for several years, he closed this lane. Does that break the lease, and can I move to another place without him sueing for rent due; the lease has three years to run yet.

Answer.—(1) Not unless you have an agreement to that effect with your landlord. (2) We think that the closing of the lane amounts to an eviction, and that you may move without being liable for future rent.—LAW EDITOR.

BUILDING CONTRACT—INSURANCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following: A wishes to build a house. B agrees to build it for $10,000, and signs a contract to that effect. Who should have the house insured, before it is completed and accepted by A? A has made certain payments as the work progressed. The house is partly finished, and A must borrow $5,000 to finish and keep his contract with B. As to his payments, now who has to get it insured, and after the holder of the mortgage has paid his part of the loss, who get, the balance, if any, A or B?

Answer.—The building, as it progresses, in all stages of erection is the property of A and A may have it insured. B could only acquire an interest in the premises by filing a mechanic's lien. We doubt whether an insurance company would give a policy to B, even after he filed a mechanic's lien. (2) If A insures the property for his own benefit, loss payable to the mortgagee, to the amount of the mortgage, A will receive the balance.—LAW EDITOR.

The record of the week's transactions confirms the views heretofore expressed in these columns. The spring season, usually the season of greatest activity in the market, is past and the season of inaction has begun. Brokers are not looking for any new business, and will not for ten or twelve weeks. Some have negotiations still pending that were begun long ago, and a few buyers are still lingering on the scenes. Out of these remnants of the spring's business something may come, from time to time, during the summer, but the principals are getting farther apart every day, some to the seashore, some to the country and some to Europe, and the task of the broker is made harder thereby. What could not be accomplished under favorable conditions of access and communication may be done by correspondence. It sometimes happens that way. In the auction rooms this week the sales have not all produced top-notch prices, but some of them were attended with quite as large a measure of success as could have been expected, the times and general conditions of business considered. That unimproved or unproductive property should sell at any price is cause for encouragement, and that it should sell for fairly good prices—not quite what it ought to bring under normal conditions, but better than it could have been expected to bring say six weeks ago—is only cumulative testimony to the stability of present prices and the good tone of the market. Of this character was the sale by Mr. James L. Wells, on Tuesday, of twenty-three lots on Boston and Union avenues, and 169th street, in the 23d Ward. All the lots sold, and at prices satisfactory to the sellers, but still cheap enough to assure the buyers of fair returns on their investments. So, also, the sale by Messrs. Richard V. Harnett & Co., on Wednesday, of the Nicholas Low estate properties, was a successful one. There were but three parcels, two of them investment parcels, in the business section, and the prices obtained were generally considered fair. An exception to the rule shown in these sales was in the partition sale of two large lots on the Boulevard, west side, between 73d and 74th streets. This was also made by Messrs. Harnett & Co. A large company of bidders was present, but they were not in the bidding at the end. W. E. D. Stokes, who owns all the rest of the block front and some lots adjoining on both streets as well, and Austin Hall, were the chief competitors. Each had an interest in the estate to which the property belonged, but Mr. Stokes needed the lots to complete the block front. He started them low enough—at $12,000—but the second bid was $20,000 and the bidding ran up to $33,100, at which the smaller of the two was knocked down to Mr. Hall. The other and more valuable fell to Mr. Stokes at $30,000. After the sale Mr. Hall asked Stokes what he would give for the lot he had bought and the latter offered $15,000! Mr. Hall seems to have been concerned only to prevent the lots selling too low. Mr. Stokes bought the corner lot on 73d street, 26.10x99.8, July 19, 1890, for $30,000 and the 74th street corner, 64.1¾ x 87 x 60 x 105.9⅜, on August 13 following, at $44,000. Except for the peculiar circumstances of the sale, it would be significant of a very large advance in Boulevard values.

COMING AUCTION SALES.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12.—Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell at the Broadway salesroom, by order of the Supreme Court, 2.351 acres on the West Farms road, adjoining the 24th Ward boundary line, with the one-story cottage and barn thereon.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12TH, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.—James L. Wells will sell forty-two of the best located lots on the North Side. The sale is made by order of the Union Railway Company, and offers an excellent opportunity to obtain on particularly favorable conditions lots and plots that are suitable for immediate improvement for business and residence purposes. Four of the lots, in a plot 100x100, are on the north side of Southern Boulevard, within a stone's throw of Harlem (3d avenue) Bridge; twelve extra large lots are in a parcel fronting on 137th and 138th streets, east of Willow avenue; eight lots, also extra large, front on 3d avenue, west side, between 169th and 170th streets, and five abut upon them in the rear, fronting on Washington avenue; finally there is a corner plot of thirteen lots, seven fronting on 3d avenue, and six (over 169 feet deep) on Julia street, southeast corner. Here are opportunities for builders and investors. The auctioneer has fine book maps of the properties which may be obtained free on application to him.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13TH.—William Kennelly will sell at the Broadway Salesroom, four desirable private dwellings. All are three-story and basement brick dwellings, three are on West 117th street, Nos. 357, 359 and 361, near Manhattan avenue, and one is on Manhattan avenue, No. 477, near 120th street. The houses are trimmed in hardwoods, and are in perfect order. They are but a short distance from the Elevator Station of the "L" road, at 116th street and 8th avenue.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13.—Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell, at the Broadway salesroom, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, No. 6 Mulberry and 194 Worth street, double fronts, a five-story brick building, and Nos. 516 to 520 East 17th street, 76.4x92, with a five-story brick factory. Both are investment properties.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14TH, at the Broadway Salesroom.—Smyth & Ryan will sell, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, the valuable investment and business property, No. 72, 74 and 76 Walker street, on the northwest corner of Courtlandt alley, east of and adjoining the corner of Broadway. This property is in the heart of the dry-goods district, and will benefit greatly from the Elm street improvement. It consists of a lot about 75x81, and a substantial five-story marble, brick and iron building, with two boilers, engines and passenger and freight elevators. The auctioneers, at 111 Broadway, will furnish any other information that may be desired.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14.—At the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room, 59 to 65 Liberty street, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the four-story front and three-story rear buildings and lot, 24.4 4-5x98.8½, Nos. 223 and 223½ East 23d street, and the four-story brick building with three-story extension and store, lot 25x75, No. 81 East Broadway.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14TH.—William Kennelly will sell the 4-sty and basement brownstone front dwelling and lot, 25x100, No. 428 5th avenue. The sale is made by order of the Supreme Court in partition, and will be made at the Broadway Salesroom.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 20TH.—Wm. W. Fogg will officiate as auctioneer at the sale, under order of the Court of Common Pleas, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, of the three choice and valuable five-story brownstone front apartment houses, Nos 1049, 1051 and 1053 Park avenue, each on a lot 27x102.9. Maps and particulars of the property may be had on application to the auctioneer, at his offices, No. 150 Broadway.

Auctioneer Wm. Kennelly has sixteen court sales booked for next week. The valuable property, No. 428 5th avenue, noticed elsewhere, and fourteen lots at Bedford Park are among the parcels to be offered.

FOR A CROSS-TOWN ROAD THROUGH 86TH STREET.

On behalf of the Forty-second Street, Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Avenue Railroad Co., Mr. Chas. Strauss has filed a certificate of extension and given notice to all property-owners between 8th and 10th avenues, on West 86th street, that he will apply to the Supreme Court, General Term, on the 14th inst., for the appointment of three commissioners to give the railroad company the right of way, in lieu of consents of the property-owners which cannot be obtained. The petition shows that the company is already operating a road on 86th street, from 10th to West End avenue, and an extension of only two blocks will make a continuous trip possible across the city. Furthermore, there is no railroad between 59th and 125th street west of Central Park, a deficiency that should be remedied. West Side property-owners are in favor of such a road, but the owners on each street want it placed so it will not pass their doors.

"POLITICS" AND RAPID TRANSIT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Your remarks in to-day's issue as to enlightening the public mind on the vital question of Rapid Transit are timely.

I will venture a little prophecy—that when the time comes for the referendum there will be evidences of the existence of an alliance between a certain political organization that has something to say about our municipal government and another equally well-known organization that so far has had a great deal to say as to how New Yorkers are to travel to and fro, and if that combination can't beat the citizens of this town and prevent the accomplishment of a city-built road I shall be very much surprised.

June 2, 1894. J. C. LEVI.

TRESPASS.

shutters on his wall which swing over on my property? (3) If I can prevent him, or rather force him to keep them closed, what steps must I take?

Answer.—(1) and (2). He has no right to do so. (3) Employ a lawyer and bring action against him.—LAW EDITOR.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE SKETCH CLUB.

The last regular monthly meeting of the club before the summer vacation was held at the club rooms Saturday evening. Forty-four members and four guests were present. Mr. Russell Sturgis and Mr. Walter Cook were guests of the club. President E. A. Josselyn occupied the chair. Mr. Sturgis delivered a lecture on Greek architecture and its adaptability to modern work. Mr. Cook criticised the drawings submitted last month for a country railroad station; everybody was well pleased with the result.

The club then plunged into a heated discussion on the advisibility of admitting ladies to full membership. The whole matter was finally referred to the executive committee.

The meeting adjourned at 11 P. M., when the members were treated to a performance of legerdemain by Prof. L. Krieger and music by club talent.

The former partnership between Nichols & Shipway has been dissolved, Mr. Grant Nichols retiring. Mr. John H. Shipway has taken his brother, Charles M. Shipway, into partnership and will continue the business under the new firm name of John H. Shipway & Bro. The marble yards and shops of this firm, as everybody in the building trades knows, are among the largest in the country. The capacity shown by Mr. John H. Shipway to execute large contracts, turning out work in the finest style and promptly on time, has often been demonstrated, and in the best class of buildings. The new firm nevertheless contemplates making large additions to its machinery and plant, so as to increase still farther its capacity for the rapid execution of large contracts. The manufactory and yards are at Nos. 105 to 111 East 128th and 104 to 110 East 129th street.

Mr. Sauer has also done similar work at five other public schools in this city, on 46th, 55th, 63d, 85th and 88th streets, and the First Ward School, Long Island City; also at very many large buildings and breweries, including the Central Palace Building, on Lexington avenue; West Shore Hotel, 11th avenue and 42d street; Kip's Bay Brewery, 38th street and 1st avenue; John Kress' Brewery, East 54th street; malt-houses on East 61st and 71st streets, and in other buildings, public and private, too numerous to mention. That the marble industry is a prosperous and growing one is the natural inference from the division of the old firm of Nichols & Shipway into two still larger establishments. A minute of the dissolution has been elsewhere published in these columns. It is a pleasure also to record that Mr. G. L. Nichols will continue in the business, having established himself temporarily at Nos. 205 to 211 East 22d and 204 to 208 East 23d street. He will immediately begin the erection and equipment of a factory with the newest improved machinery on the plot of land recently purchased by him at 135th street and the East River, covering half the block. Here he will have excellent facilities for landing marble direct from the steamers upon his own dock, and in the establishment to be built the best facilities for handling, shaping, carving, polishing and finishing all kinds of foreign and domestic marbles, and will be prepared to furnish and set from extensive importations of foreign and purchases of domestic stock all kinds of structural marble. Some of the largest buildings in the country, in which the marble-work was done by Nichols & Shipway, are standing testimony to the character, artistic quality and stability of the work reasonably to be expected from Mr. Nichols. Mosaic and tiling are included in the range of his undertakings—in all their branches.

An institution that is doing a good deal to impart a more presentable appearance to our streets is the Fordham Stone Renovating Co. In our peculiar atmosphere stone and brick buildings are continually accumulating grime, soot and dirt, and after a time their normally respectable faces are disgraced with the coating, like naughty boys who have been playing in the streets. There is nothing to do then but wash their faces and thus restore their respectability. This the Fordham Stone Renovating Company does to the Queen's taste. Some examples of its recent work may be seen on Mrs. Mali's (formerly John Taylor Johnson's) house, at 5th avenue and 88th street; on Mrs. Bigelow's house, northwest corner of West End avenue and 76th street (ordered by Architect Wm. E. Bloodgood), and the adjoining house, and on the business building No. 105 Franklin street. The company undertakes to repair, renovate and paint any building and make it look as good as new. Its offices are at 359 Broadway.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at foot of this list.

REVIEW AND RECORD.

BROOKLYN, JUNE 9, 1894.

Watch That Tax Budget.

THE first appearance of the budget for 1895, though in a preliminary form, is in no way reassuring. Compared with the estimates for city expenses allowed in 1893 for 1894 the departmental estimates for 1895 show an increase of nearly $1,700,000. The tables printed in the daily newspapers are manifestly inaccurate, for none of them will add to agree with the published footings. But after making allowance for discrepancies it appears that, in round numbers, the estimates for 1894 were $11,190,000 and the amount asked for 1895 is $12,870,000. This increase of $1,680,000 is nearly accounted for by increases in five items, viz.: $500,000 in principal of the city debt, $250,000 in interest upon the city debt, $660,000 in the school budget, $200,000 in the police budget and $50,000 for general purposes. This is for the city alone, and, furthermore, does not include any provision for policing the newly-annexed wards. Then there is the county budget, which develops even a larger proportionate increase. For 1894 the county general budget was $1,890,173.76, and for charities and correction $711,300; these amounts have grown in the departmental estimates to $2,516,017.35 and $791,000 respectively.

Of course, these are only the departmental estimates, purposely stretched to present dimensions to allow for liberal shrinkage; and, indeed, some of the departments ask for less money than they were allowed last year, as, for instance, the City Works, Fire, Collections, Assessments and Arrears Departments, and strangely enough, too, the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Estimate has only begun to consider these figures, and Mayor Schieren is showing a disposition to inquire closely into every item. It is well he should. His administration is on trial in this matter to test its sincerity and capacity. The tax-ridden people of Brooklyn are perfectly right in looking to him for a substantial relief from their burdens. These are pressing too heavily right now, and right now they want the relief. They will not thank him for a reduction of the city's debt at this time, if it is only to be attained by a maintenance of the present high rate of taxation. What they are entitled to in the present stress of adverse financial weather is the most rigid economy in every department of the city and county government and as light a tax draft upon their resources as can possibly be had.

Interest on the city debt is perhaps unavoidable and must be paid, though why it should increase 20 per cent in one year is not easy to perceive at first sight. But what need to pay half a million of the principal just now? Why cannot that be refunded to abide the advent of easier times? Why, too, the increase of $660,000 in the school budget? That might readily be granted in a time of general prosperity, for the disposition of the people is to deal liberally with the schools. But one of the effects of hard times is to take a portion of the children out of the schools and put them to work, and it is not likely that Brooklyn has been an exception to the rule. In view of this fact it does not seem that the demands for increased expenditure in the schools is urgent or even necessary. The cost of public education in this city at this rate would be much larger in proportion to population than it is in New York.
